New Discoverer To Drop Capsule After Four Days

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE Base, Calif. (AP) — Discoverer XX — the biggest, heaviest, most powerful yet — shot into orbit Friday with a new stunt on its mechanical mind: Keeping its recoverable capsule aloft for a record four days.

Next month a similar capsule is expected to carry a monkey aloft to sample hazards man will encounter during an extended period in orbit.

The 81-foot projectile roared into a clear, blue sky at 12:26 p.m. Two hours later the Air Force said its satellite second stage was whizzing around the earth's poles every 95 minutes at altitudes ranging from 201 to 400 miles.

AERIAL CATCH

Some time Tuesday, if all goes well, the satellite will kick out a 300-pound bell-shaped capsule over Alaska. Cargo planes will try to snag its parachute as it drifts down over the target area north of Hawaii.

The ejection could be shoved up a day or two if bad weather is forecast for Tuesday, or if some malfunction shows up in the satellite.

The longest a Discoverer has kept its capsule in orbit heretofore was three days, in Discoverer XVIII launched Dec. 7. This was the third capsule to be caught in the air. A fourth was recovered from the ocean.

Discoverer XX is six feet longer and 750 pounds heavier than the 19-foot 1,700-pound satellites lofted earlier in the series. It was boosted by an improved Thor medium-range missile burning a more powerful fuel.

The extra space is for additional batteries to power stabilizing instruments. The longest a satellite keeps its capsule in orbit, the longer batteries must function.

The stability needed for accurate ejection is achieved by squirting compressed gas in an opposite direction if the satellite

Federal Suit Claims Hit By Jackson

Head Of State Education Says Charges False

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Shelby M. Jackson, state superintendent of education, said Friday federal charges in a contempt action against him are false.

He called civil contempt charges filed by the U. S. Department of Justice "another typical example of a deliberately planned and schemed attempt to intimidate me as well as to persecute me personally, professionally and politically."

CLAIMS 'FORCE'

Jackson said, "they are trying to force me to violate the trust and responsibility imposed upon me by the constitution and laws of the state of Louisiana and the policies, rules and regulations established by the state Board of Education."

The Justice Department started court action Thursday to force Jackson to free $350,000, in federal funds earmarked for new Orleans schools.

U. S. Attorney M. Hepburn Many also asked in a suit filed at New Orleans that Jackson be ordered to recognize the credentials of teachers hired by the elected Orleans Parish School Board since the start of integration Nov. 14.

The Education superintendent also is under a federal injunction, along with scores of other state officials, to refrain from interfering with Orleans integration.

Jackson's statement said in part:

"This is another typical example of a deliberately planned and schemed attempt to intimidate me as well as to persecute personally, professionally and politically. . .

2 Negroes Die As Train Hits Auto At Wisner

WISNER (Special) — Two area Negroes were killed and another critically injured at about 3 p.m. yesterday a half mile south of Wisner when the car in which they were riding collided with a westbound Missouri Pacific train.

According to Franklin Parish Coroner Dr. Brashear Earle, Vinnie Bingham, of route one, Sicily Island, the driver of the vehicle, died almost at the instant of impact.

In addition to other injuries, the woman's head was crushed and both legs broken. She was thrown from the car and drug for a distance of about 450 feet.

The wreckage of the automobile was driven 800 feet down the track, hanging on the so-called "cow - catcher," until the train came to a halt.

The two passengers in the car, Ernest Bingham, son of the Bingham woman, and Jasper King, whose exact address was not known shortly after the incident, remained in the wreckage.

They were taken to the Rogers Clinic in Winnsboro and then to Conway Memorial in Monroe here by ambulances from the First National and Mulhearn Funeral Homes of Winnsboro.

Minimum Pay Bill Is Assailed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's proposal to increase the minimum wage and extend its coverage met opposition from both sides in Congress Friday, foreshadowing rough seas ahead.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N. Y., chairman of the House Labor Committee, voiced open disappointment with the bill and promised to fight to broaden its provisions.

Republicans on the Labor Committee renewed the attack they made on a similar measure in the last Congress, charging it would cause inflation and increase unemployment.

POLKA DOT BALLOON

'Lost Satellite' Found In Orbit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Silent but gaudy, the government's polka dot balloon satellite is sailing serenly through space.

The 12-foot sphere, which disappeared in thin air after it was fired aloft Thursday morning, was reported by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration late Friday to have been spotted and tracked.

The space agency announced it has been named Explorer IX.

CIRCLING EARTH

Visual and photographic sightings plus radar observation established it is circling the earth in about the same orbit as the burnt-out casing of the fourth stage of its launching rocket.

The casing is soaring around at altitudes ranging from 404 to 1,604 miles.

The inflatable sphere was launched from Wallops Island, Va., Thursday morning but its radio conked out before ground stations could confirm it was in orbit.

In fact, they were not even sure it had inflated itself after being ejected from the casing.

Friday, however, the space agency said the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Millstone Hill, Mass., had not only determined the balloon was inflated but had established its orbit.

Accordingly, space scientists at Research Center, Langley, Va., are proceeding with their air density experiments using optical sighting data. The balloons gradual decline in speed is expected to provide new information on the amount of resistance or friction in the earth's atmosphere at the various altitudes it is traveling.

NASA said that due to the 38.91-degree inclination of the orbit and its relationship to the sun, the sphere will be visible in the United States only during early

The body of James Marshall Weems was found by two men who were running property lines in a swamp about eight miles north of Holly Ridge. No foul play was suspected.

Several search parties, including a plane search, and mounted horsemen had combed the area for Weems last summer when he was first reported missing.

Sentencing Due For Misuse Of Defense Papers

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — Arthur Rogers Roddey, 38, former Pentagon mathematician, pleaded guilty Friday to unauthorized use of secret documents in connection with more than 200 defense papers found in his home.

U. S. Judge Albert V. Bryan deferred sentencing pending a probation report and continued Roddey's $15,000 bond. The prosecution indicated the rest of a 12-count indictment, including such charges as false statements and theft of the papers, would be dropped.

The penalty under the count to which Roddey pleaded guilty ranges up to 10 years in prison, $10,000 fine or both.

The government never advanced any contention that Roddey, who lives in Falls Church, Va., was working for a foreign power. The defendant under questioning on the stand Friday denied he ever had such a thing in mind.

Early in the case the FBI had emphasized that it was not an espionage matter.

The specific allegation was that Roddey had unauthorized possession of a document called "The Application of Satellites for Meteorological Reconnaissance" containing information he had "reason to believe could be used to the advantage of a foreign nation."

In Friday's session on the stand Roddey said about half of that document represented his own work.

Bonn Agrees To Assist In Foreign Aid

Pledge $1 Billion Annually To Help Cut U.S. Costs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — West Germany promised President Kennedy Friday to share with the United States and other nations the cost of a long-range aid program for underdeveloped countries.

Extension of the West German aid program—a new step toward plugging the overseas drain on U.S. gold and dollars—was announced after a meeting between the President and West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano.

ACTION HAILED

A German spokesman said his country's contribution to the aid program would be about $1 billion a year, depending on the needs of the underdeveloped nations and the financial condition of the Bonn government.

Several key senators greeted the announcement warmly. Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, a member of the foreign relations committee, called it a "good start" and said he hoped other nations would follow suit.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R - Vt., another committee member, said "Germany is in a position to do that and I'm glad Von Brentano has agreed to it." He also said Germany could "do a lot more and ease the burden on us."

Kennedy had rejected prosperous West Germany's original offer of a $1 billion one-shot contribution this year to help ease the U.S. balance of payments deficit, now running about $4 billion annually. He insisted on a long-term German commitment.

A communique issued after the Kennedy - Von Brentano White House meeting said the President "heard with satisfaction" that West Germany was "prepared to provide the necessary means to carry on its program for the underdeveloped countries in future years."

The communique also reaffirmed the belief of both nations in strengthening the NATO alliance, in the importance of German reunification, and in "the preservation of the freedom of the people of West Berlin."

Fire Destroys Oil Warehouse, Tanks, Houses

COLUMBIA, Miss. (AP)—A raging fire destroyed a Texaco bulk warehouse and four petroleum storage tanks Friday, and spread to nearby houses.

No injuries were reported, but six men narrowly escaped while unloading a gasoline transport when the fire broke out.

Residents of the area were evacuated when the fire began spreading. Four houses were demolished.

One of the storage tanks exploded and the others burned out the fuel. Each had an estimated 40,000 gallon capacity.

The fire department said it could not determine how the fire started, but speculated it was ignited by a spark near the loading rack.

A bulk delivery truck was loading at the time of the fire, and it and the transport were destroyed.

The fire department said it was one of the biggest fires in the city's history.

The warehouse sheltered oil, a large supply of tires and other petroleum products. The company's offices were also in the building.

BY BANK EMBEZZLER

Huge Sum Spent On Speculations

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP)—Burnice Iverson Geiger, 58, a banker's daughter who admitted a $2-million embezzlement from her father's bank, was sentenced to 15 years in prison Friday.

At the same time the government disclosed that her speculations and financial help for a struggling home town industry were principal outlets for the funds embezzled from the Sheldon National Bank.

LOSES HEAVILY

A government attorney said her speculations during a period of almost three decades amounted to nearly a million dollars. She lost $1,000 a month on the "board of trade" during that period. In addition, he said, the Northern Biochemical Corp. of Sheldon drained the bank of about $900,000.

Mrs. Geiger, a faint smile on her lips as she entered the courtroom, sobbed softly and dabbed frequently at her eyes with a handkerchief as U.S. Dist. Judge Henry N. Graven pronounced sentence. She was ashen-faced when taken back to the county jail before transfer to a federal prison.

She previously had pleaded guilty to 35 counts of a U.S. attorney's information. Judge Graven assessed no fine.

Her attorney, Warren Dunkle, pleaded with the court to return her to society under severe parole.

"Imprisonment would punish only her family," he said. "Mrs. Geiger is resigned to her fate and a prison sentence would actually be a relief to her."

Since her arrest last Jan. 16, the day the bank shortages were

Freezing Rain, Snow, Twister Hit In Midlands

By United Press International

Winter tornadoes darted down upon Oklahoma Friday night and elsewhere in the midlands, a collision of arctic and moist air spread freezing rain, sleet and snow over parts of Colorado, Nebraska, and Iowa.

The U. S. weather bureau issued warnings of possible tornadoes for northeast and southeast Oklahoma, north central Texas, extreme southeast Kansas, and southwest Missouri. Warnings of heavy snow up to four inches deep went up for southeast Wyoming, northeast Colorado, western Nebraska and northwest Kansas.

In Oklahoma a tornado whipped down upon the community of Jones, damaging several homes, denting cars and uprooting trees. Heavy rain caused flash flooding at Oklahoma City and twisters whirled over Lindsay and Lexington. The temperature dropped 22 degrees in one hour at Gage, Okla.

Heavy thunderstorms bombarded southeastern Texas. Lightning struck the new 34-story home of the First City National Bank in Houston. Nobody was injured.

The downpour filled many streets in the Beaumont, Tex., area and water rose toward homes in two northern suburbs of the city.

House OK's Segregation Bills Quickly

By SAM HANNA
World Staff Writer

BATON ROUGE — Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' new segregation bills passed easily out of the house Friday before the senate returned hoping to end its work by Sunday.

The Senate met for 30 minutes Friday night, referred the schools measures to the administration committee, Judiciary B, then adjourned until 11 a.m. Saturday.

Meantime, the committee hearing is set for 10 a.m. today.

Davis' leaders, led by Rep. Risley Triche of Napoleonville, had little difficulty earlier in the day in getting the House to stamp its approval on a package of bills designed to keep Louisiana schools segregated.

LOCAL OPTION

The House voted 96-2 on the Governor's chief bill, which would give each school board authority to call local option elections to determine whether private, segregated schools would be created.

"If we pass this local option bill, we are going to kill public education today in Louisiana," protested Rep. Salvador Anzelmo of New Orleans.

The House adjourned until 4:30 p.m. Sunday, expecting to return and receive the legislation already passed back from the Senate.

Thus, the end of Davis' fifth consecutive special session will come either Sunday night or Monday.

Adcock Bears Brunt Of Jibes During Session

BATON ROUGE (Staff Special) Sen. Jamar Adcock of Monroe slipped quietly into the Senate Friday night, but his arrival was not unnoticed.

"You've got 23 men running for the house down here," Rayburn said, referring to Saturday's representative election in East Baton Rouge Parish.

"You'll have some running up there too," he quipped.

Rayburn was referring to Adcock's remarks concerning legislators' pay and work hours.

It was Adcock's first appearance here since the session began Wednesday. He said he would boycott the session unless "something constructive" was presented.

"There are several controversial matters introduced," Adcock said. "I have never dodged a controversy, so I came to represent Ouachita and Jackson Parishes."

Adcock sat in silence at his desk while the Senate moved through a quick, half - hour session. He escaped without becoming the target of a verbal attack on the floor.

Later, as he left the chamber, Sen. Charles Deichmann, New Orleans stopped the Monroe solon.

State Officials To Face Judges

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Lt. Gov. C. C. Aycock and two other top Louisiana officials will face contempt charges before three federal judges in New Orleans March 3.

The court Friday set a date for the hearing on a petition from U. S. Atty. M. Hepburn Many.

The three, including House Speaker Thomas Jewell and state education Supt. Shelby Jackson, were accused of violating a federal restraining order by refusing to authorize pay for teachers at the two New Orleans integrated schools.

HIGHWAY DISTRICT

Lawmakers Vying For Headquarters

BATON ROUGE (Staff Special) — Several northeast Louisiana legislators are making a pitch for headquarters of a new highway district in eight parishes.

The highway board will meet in Baton Rouge on Wednesday to decide the matter.

With an eye on the new payroll, at least eight towns are interested in getting the headquarters — Jonesville, Winnsboro, Sicily Island, Jena, Columbia, Winnfield, Olla and Georgetown.

Here's the line - up of lawmakers making an effort to locate the new headquarters in their areas:

Rep. Lantz Womack, Franklin Parish, is seeking the project for Winnsboro.

Rep. W .S. Peck Jr., Catahoula Parish, is caught between Sicily Island and Jonesville. He requests that the headquarters be located in his district.

Rep. Chester Floyd LaSalle Parish, of course wants the headquarters for Jena.

But two senators have a tougher job — Sen. Speedy O. Long who represents four of the eight parishes, and Sen. J. C. Gilbert, who represents two of the parishes.

He says, "I want the headquarters located in one of my two parishes, both of them being in my district. Three towns within the district are being considered and I have made available to each one of these three towns all

Charges Filed Against Sheriff

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Jefferson Parish school board member Leon Soniat Friday filed malfeasance charges against Sheriff John Fitzgerald for failing to destroy slot machines seized in raids by deputies.

Soniat's charges, filed with Justice of the Peace J. A. Wilkes, contended Fitzgerald was guilty of malfeasance for failing to comply with a state law that required destruction of such machines.

Another charge claimed that Fitzgerald unlawfully permitted his employes to perform their duties in an unlawful manner.

In a recent raid, 15 slot machines were found in the home of deputy sheriff Walter Vickery, who claimed he was repairing the machines. One of them, Vickery said, went to Fitzgerald as a souvenir.

The rains are here to stay—for today at least. The forecast calls for mostly cloudy skies with scattered showers and thundershowers through tonight.

The outlook Sunday, however, will be a little different. Cloudy to partly cloudy skies and cooler temperatures are expected. There was no mention of rain Sunday.

The high today is expected to be from 65 to 69 degrees.

Guide Dog Slaying Tragic For Doctor

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Last Tuesday morning while Dr. Fred F. Parke and a house guest were having breakfast they saw an animal in the back yard.

"It's a wolf," said the visitor.

Then he had a game warden come and look at it. The warden—and neighbors—identified it as Cherri—12-year-old guide dog for Lucille Nicks, 59, a blind woman living in the area.

Mrs. Nicks once was queen of central California's raisin festival, and her likeness appears on the Sunmaid raisin package. She lost her sight about 30 years ago. Cherri had been with her for the past 10.

The affair since has become a tragedy for Dr. Parke as well as Mrs. Nicks. Newspapers and civic authorities have been besieged by calls protesting the shooting. The doctor says he has had threatening calls.

He has expressed deep regret: "I don't go around shooting guide dogs—or any dogs for that matter. I have three poodles myself. My family and I love animals and would never harm a pet." He has five children.

Dr. Parke offered to give Mrs. Nicks a poodle, then give a guide dog when one is available.

Police Capt. Gail Wilmuth said Cherri was "extremely large for a German shepherd and was very close to the color of a wolf."

HIGHWAY DISTRICT

Lawmakers Vying For Headquarters

BATON ROUGE (Staff Special) — Several northeast Louisiana legislators are making a pitch for headquarters of a new highway district in eight parishes.

The highway board will meet in Baton Rouge on Wednesday to decide the matter.

With an eye on the new payroll, at least eight towns are interested in getting the headquarters — Jonesville, Winnsboro, Sicily Island, Jena, Columbia, Winnfield, Olla and Georgetown.

Here's the line - up of lawmakers making an effort to locate the new headquarters in their areas:

Rep. Lantz Womack, Franklin Parish, is seeking the project for Winnsboro.

Rep. W. S. Peck Jr., Catahoula Parish, is caught between Sicily Island and Jonesville. He requests that the headquarters be located in his district.

Rep. Chester Floyd LaSalle Parish, of course wants the headquarters for Jena.

But two senators have a tougher job — Sen. Speedy O. Long who represents four of the eight parishes, and Sen. J. C. Gilbert, who represents two of the parishes.

He says, "I want the headquarters located in one of my two parishes, both of them being in my district. Three towns within the district are being considered and I have made available to each one of these three towns all

Bonn Agrees To Assist In Foreign Aid

Pledge $1 Billion Annually To Help Cut U.S. Costs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — West Germany promised President Kennedy Friday to share with the United States and other nations the cost of a long-range aid program for underdeveloped countries.

Extension of the West German aid program—a new step toward plugging the overseas drain on U.S. gold and dollars—was announced after a meeting between the President and West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano.

ACTION HAILED

A German spokesman said his country's contribution to the aid program would be about $1 billion a year, depending on the needs of the underdeveloped nations and the financial condition of the Bonn government.

Several key senators greeted the announcement warmly. Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, a member of the foreign relations committee, called it a "good start" and said he hoped other nations would follow suit.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R - Vt., another committee member, said "Germany is in a position to do that and I'm glad Von Brentano has agreed to it." He also said Germany could "do a lot more and ease the burden on us."

Kennedy had rejected prosperous West Germany's original offer of a $1 billion one-shot contribution this year to help ease the U.S. balance of payments deficit, now running about $4 billion annually. He insisted on a long-term German commitment.

A communique issued after the Kennedy - Von Brentano White House meeting said the President "heard with satisfaction" that West Germany was "prepared to provide the necessary means to carry on its program for the underdeveloped countries in future years."

The communique also reaffirmed the belief of both nations in strengthening the NATO alliance, in the importance of German reunification, and in "the preservation of the freedom of the people of West Berlin."

Fire Destroys Oil Warehouse, Tanks, Houses

COLUMBIA, Miss. (AP)—A raging fire destroyed a Texaco bulk warehouse and four petroleum storage tanks Friday, and spread to nearby houses.

No injuries were reported, but six men narrowly escaped while unloading a gasoline transport when the fire broke out.

Residents of the area were evacuated when the fire began spreading. Four houses were demolished.

One of the storage tanks exploded and the others burned out the fuel. Each had an estimated 40,000 gallon capacity.

The fire department said it could not determine how the fire started, but speculated it was ignited by a spark near the loading rack.

A bulk delivery truck was loading at the time of the fire, and it and the transport were destroyed.

The fire department said it was one of the biggest fires in the city's history.

The warehouse sheltered oil, a large supply of tires and other petroleum products. The company's offices were also in the building.

Charges Filed Against Sheriff

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Jefferson Parish school board member Leon Soniat Friday filed malfeasance charges against Sheriff John Fitzgerald for failing to destroy slot machines seized in raids by deputies.

Soniat's charges, filed with Justice of the Peace J. A. Wilkes, contended Fitzgerald was guilty of malfeasance for failing to comply with a state law that required destruction of such machines.

Another charge claimed that Fitzgerald unlawfully permitted his employes to perform their duties in an unlawful manner.

In a recent raid, 15 slot machines were found in the home of deputy sheriff Walter Vickery, who claimed he was repairing the machines. One of them, Vickery said, went to Fitzgerald as a souvenir.

The high today is expected to be from 65 to 69 degrees.

BY BANK EMBEZZLER

Huge Sum Spent On Speculations

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP)—Burnice Iverson Geiger, 58, a banker's daughter who admitted a $2-million embezzlement from her father's bank, was sentenced to 15 years in prison Friday.

At the same time the government disclosed that her speculations and financial help for a struggling home town industry were principal outlets for the funds embezzled from the Sheldon National Bank.

LOSES HEAVILY

A government attorney said her speculations during a period of almost three decades amounted to nearly a million dollars. She lost $1,000 a month on the "board of trade" during that period. In addition, he said, the Northern Biochemical Corp. of Sheldon drained the bank of about $900,000.

Mrs. Geiger, a faint smile on her lips as she entered the courtroom, sobbed softly and dabbed frequently at her eyes with a handkerchief as U.S. Dist. Judge Henry N. Graven pronounced sentence. She was ashen-faced when taken back to the county jail before transfer to a federal prison.

She previously had pleaded guilty to 35 counts of a U.S. attorney's information. Judge Graven assessed no fine.

Her attorney, Warren Dunkle, pleaded with the court to return her to society under severe parole.

"Imprisonment would punish only her family," he said. "Mrs. Geiger is resigned to her fate and a prison sentence would actually be a relief to her."

Since her arrest last Jan. 16, the day the bank shortages were

Freezing Rain, Snow, Twister Hit In Midlands

By United Press International

Winter tornadoes darted down upon Oklahoma Friday night and elsewhere in the midlands, a collision of arctic and moist air spread freezing rain, sleet and snow over parts of Colorado, Nebraska, and Iowa.

The U. S. weather bureau issued warnings of possible tornadoes for northeast and southeast Oklahoma, north central Texas, extreme southeast Kansas, and southwest Missouri. Warnings of heavy snow up to four inches deep went up for southeast Wyoming, northeast Colorado, western Nebraska and northwest Kansas.

In Oklahoma a tornado whipped down upon the community of Jones, damaging several homes, denting cars and uprooting trees. Heavy rain caused flash flooding at Oklahoma City and twisters whirled over Lindsay and Lexington. The temperature dropped 22 degrees in one hour at Gage, Okla.

Heavy thunderstorms bombarded southeastern Texas. Lightning struck the new 34-story home of the First City National Bank in Houston. Nobody was injured.

The downpour filled many streets in the Beaumont, Tex., area and water rose toward homes in two northern suburbs of the city.

RECEIVES THREATS

Guide Dog Slaying Tragic For Doctor

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Last Tuesday morning while Dr. Fred F. Parke and a house guest were having breakfast they saw an animal in the back yard.

"It's a wolf," said the visitor.

Dr. Parke's 1½-year-old son was playing in the area.

Then he had a game warden come and look at it. The warden—and neighbors—identified it as Cherri—12-year-old guide dog for Lucille Nicks, 59, a blind woman living in the area.

Mrs. Nicks once was queen of central California's raisin festival, and her likeness appears on the Sunmaid raisin package. She lost her sight about 30 years ago. Cherri had been with her for the past 10.

The affair since has become a tragedy for Dr. Parke as well as Mrs. Nicks. Newspapers and civic authorities have been besieged by calls protesting the shooting. The doctor says he has had threatening calls.

He has expressed deep regret: "I don't go around shooting guide dogs—or any dogs for that matter. I have three poodles myself. My family and I love animals and would never harm a pet." He has five children.

Dr. Parke offered to give Mrs. Nicks a poodle, then give a guide dog when one is available.

House OK's Segregation Bills Quickly

By SAM HANNA
World Staff Writer

BATON ROUGE — Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' new segregation bills passed easily out of the house Friday before the senate returned hoping to end its work by Sunday.

The Senate met for 30 minutes Friday night, referred the schools measures to the administration committee, Judiciary B, then adjourned until 11 a.m. Saturday.

Meantime, the committee hearing is set for 10 a.m. today.

Davis' leaders, led by Rep. Risley Triche of Napoleonville, had little difficulty earlier in the day in getting the House to stamp its approval on a package of bills designed to keep Louisiana schools segregated.

LOCAL OPTION

The House voted 96-2 on the Governor's chief bill, which would give each school board authority to call local option elections to determine whether private, segregated schools would be created.

"If we pass this local option bill, we are going to kill public education today in Louisiana," protested Rep. Salvador Anzelmo of New Orleans.

The House adjourned until 4:30 p.m. Sunday, expecting to return and receive the legislation already passed back from the Senate.

Thus, the end of Davis' fifth consecutive special session will come either Sunday night or Monday.

Adcock Bears Brunt Of Jibes During Session

BATON ROUGE (Staff Special) Sen. Jamar Adcock of Monroe slipped quietly into the Senate Friday night, but his arrival was not unnoticed.

"You've got 23 men running for the house down here," Rayburn said, referring to Saturday's representative election in East Baton Rouge Parish.

"You'll have some running up there too," he quipped.

Rayburn was referring to Adcock's remarks concerning legislators' pay and work hours.

It was Adcock's first appearance here since the session began Wednesday. He said he would boycott the session unless "something constructive" was presented.

"There are several controversial matters introduced," Adcock said. "I have never dodged a controversy, so I came to represent Ouachita and Jackson Parishes."

Adcock sat in silence at his desk while the Senate moved through a quick, half - hour session. He escaped without becoming the target of a verbal attack on the floor.

Later, as he left the chamber, Sen. Charles Deichmann, New Orleans stopped the Monroe solon.

"You've doubled my campaign expenses, he kidded.

The sphere thus will be visible, at certain periods, everywhere in the United States, southern Europe, all of Africa and Australia, most of South America and a large part of Asia.

NASA said its brightness will be about that of the North Star, but considerably less than that of Echo I.

The agency said that because of difficulties associated with the tracking it will not have timetable predictions on the orbit for some days.

Explorer IX is the first satellite to be launched by an all solid-propellant Scout rocket.

Lincoln Parish Election Set

BATON ROUGE (Staff Special) — Rep. L. D. Napper of Ruston said Friday an election would be called by Gov. Jimmie H. Davis for additions to the Lincoln Parish School Board and Police Jury.

He had been quoted previously as saying that "appointments" would be made.

"The word 'appointments' was used incorrectly," Napper explained. "We are entitled to an additional board member and new juror in Ward 1."

He added, "It is my understanding that these persons will not be appointed but will be elected in an election called by the governor."

Right Of Way Purchases Slated In Thirty Days

The Louisiana Highway Department is expected to start purchasing right-of-way land for the South Second Street underpass within the next 30 days.

Monroe Street Commissioner W. D. H. Rodriguez said Friday that approximately 30 parcels of real estate are to be purchased.

Final negotiations on the $1-million-plus underpass are now taking place between the highway department's engineering staff and the Missouri - Pacific railroad.

Next step will be calling for bids on construction.

"Its a good guess the underpass cost will be somewhere in the neighborhood of $1,750,000," Rodriguez said.

He explained that this figure includes right-of-way acquisition and construction work to be done by the department of highways and by a contractor under the highway department, work to be done by the railroad and engineering costs.

"No one knows what the actual construction cost will be until the bids have been received. The railroad will do some work aside from the highway department contract," he continued.

Missouri Pacific crews will build a "shoo-fly" track — a by-pass — the present tracks at the South Second Street crossing will be removed as the first stage of work to be done.

Monroe is contributing $500,000 toward construction cost.

School To Honor Mrs. Gabrielle

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Daisy Gabrielle and her daughter Yolande, 6, will be honored next week by a Brooklyn High School because of their efforts to comply with a federal court order that ended racial segregation of a New Orleans school.

Day after day last fall, Yolande was sent through a mob of cursing white women demonstrators to classes at McDonogh 19 Elementary School. The Gabrielle family finally moved from New Orleans to Providence, R. I., after segregationists pressured his employers to dismiss James Gabrielle.

Mrs. Gabrielle will come to New York Feb. 21 to accept the Prospect Park High School's first annual "woman of the year" award and Yolande will be given $250 to be used for her education, the board of education announced Friday.

Baton Rouge Set For House Vote

BATON ROUGE (Staff Special) — East Baton Rouge parish will elect two new members to the House today. Some 73,000 persons are eligible to vote.

A field of 23 candidates will be voted on, including a Negro attorney, Bruce A. Bell.

East Baton Rouge is getting two additional House members because of increased population. That will bring the local delegation to four members of the House.

House OK's Segregation Bills Quickly

from seven to 11 members met stiffer opposition, however, but the bill passed, 79-14.

By increasing the board and giving Davis authority to appoint the new members until an election can be held in 1962, the administration would be assured of having segregationist support here in face of an integration attempt.

Rep. Eugene McGehee of Baton Rouge, however, voiced bold oppostition to the bill against his colleague, Rep. A. T. Sanders, introduced it.

McGehee argued that the governor didn't have a right to name four new board members at once, but Triche accused McGehee of being at political odds with Davis.

The Governor recently appointed two new board members to the Ouachita Parish School Board, but a bill was not introduced in the Legislature pertaining to the two new positions.

While Anzelmo was the only Orleans solon to buck the local option proposal, the New Orleans delegation staged a minor shuffle against Davis' bill taking patronage away from Mayor Chep Morrison in the New Orleans traffic court.

The vote was 75-19 — greatest amount of opposition to the administration in this session so far.

COMPLETE CONTROL

In fact, Davis has been in complete control of the Legislature. Although his legislation sidesteps Supt. Shelby M. Jackson, the education superintendent is not putting up a fight.

Jackson, who has been ill, watched the House proceedings Friday. Arch segregationist Leander H. Perez, of Plaquemines parish popped in and out of Davis' office.

Anzelmo was successful in getting the administration to amend the local option bill. The measure was originally worded so that five per cent of the electorate could petition a school board for an election.

Anzelmo asked for 15 per cent. He got 10 per cent.

Rep. Welborn Jack, Shreveport, claimaxed almost two hours of speechmaking by declaring, "this will strengthen the fight for segregation. This is not a compromise."

With the bill laying the groundwork for private schools, the House also passed on legislation providing $2 ½-million to be taken from the surplus welfare fund for the Grants-In-Aid.

In addition, a bill was passed providing $200,000 monthly for private schools. This money also comes from the surplus Welfare fund.

Then, under Davis' New Plan, cooperatives running the private schools will be in position to employ teachers who meet the requirements of the State Board of education.

Not only that fines up to $1,000 were approved for persons convicted of bribing parents whose children are directed to attend schools that operate in violation of state law.

NO COMPROMISE

"The Georgia plan was a compromise," Jack said. "This is not a compromise."

Triche argued, "We haven't changed our stand one iota. This bill (local option elections) allows voters to change to a private, segregated school system — that's all it intends to do."

HB1-96 to 2. local option elections, providing that each school board can call an election to determine where private schools would be established.

HB2—91 to 3. Make it a crime to bribe or offer to bribe parent or guardian of any school child to permit child to attend school in violation of state law, providing that fines be given to the informer who gives evidence resulting in conviction.

HB3—94 to 0. Authorize private educational cooperatives to make contracts with teachers of at least five but not more than 10 years.

HB4—92 to 1. Define crime of intimidation or interference in operation of public schools, providing fines be paid to informers who give information resulting in conviction, giving informer immunity and setting mandatory jail sentence.

HB5—75 to 19. Puts employes of traffic court of New Orleans under Civil Service effective August 1, 1961, providing for appointment of various employes.

HB6—79 to 14. Increase membership of East Baton Rouge Parish Board from seven to 11 members, providing for appointment of additional members by the Governor until next Congressional election in 1962.

HB7—91 to 0. Appropriate $178,000 to pay expenses of the Legislature.

HB8—95 to 0. Create office of Fifth Assistant District Attorney for 19th Judicial District, East Baton Rouge Parish.

HB12—95 to 0. Transfer $2,500,000 from sales tax proceeds in Public Welfare Fund to Education Expense Grant Fund. Floor amended to provide for short term investment of funds.

HB13—96 to 0. Provide for placing $200,000 monthly from sales tax collections in education expense grany fund. Floor amended to provide for short term investment of funds.

Airlines Hit By Walkout Of Engineers

NEW YORK (UPI)— Flight engineers staged a surprise strike against major airlines Friday night in apparent portest of a National Mediation Board ruling that put them under the jurisdiction of a pilots' union.

At least three airlines—Pan American World Airways, Eastern and Trans World Airlines — were forced to cancel or delay both overseas and domestic flights because of the walkout by engineers. Some flights were consolidated with supervisory engineer personnel taking over for the strikers.

The walkout was felt first at New York's Idlewild Airport, where TWA cancelled all overseas flights. Affected were three passenger jetliners scheduled to leave Friday night and a cargo plane.

An Eastern spokesman said in Miami that engineers had failed to show up for several scheduled flights.

Striking engineers in New York said they left their jobs because their contract with Pan American had expired last June 1. It was believed however, that the spreading strike was aimed at the hotly contested Mediation Board ruling.

Eastern cancelled five domestic flights, one from Miami, two from Boston, and two from New York.

Pan American said that engineers left five overseas flights and three others were threatened with delays. Pan American combined two flights bound for overseas.

A spokesman for American Airlines said no flights were affected in New York Friday night, but there could be a tieup Saturday.

Huge Sum Spent On Speculations

Her husband, Wallace, a Sheldon merchant, was the only member of her family in court. Her father, W. P. Iverson, 83, president of the now closed bank, and her mother remained away.

Mrs. Geiger was specifically accused of embezzling $122,393 in the last four years. But U.S. Dist. Atty. F. E. Van Alstine said the total amount of the shortage was $2,156,000 — one of the largest in banking history in this country.

Van Alstine told the court that when Mrs. Geiger became cashier in her father's bank 38 years ago there already was a $75,000 shortage.

That defalcation was by one of her three predecessors, her attorney said. Van Alstine said she has refused to name the persons.

The district attorney added that Mrs. Geiger hid that amount "and over a period of years embezzled a great deal."

He said she speculated on the "board of trade," which was not further identified, and lost about $1,000 a month for nearly 30 years. The money came from bank funds, he said.

Van Alstine said Mrs. Geiger gave about $140,000 to Samuel Marvin Harris, 54, an interior decorator, who once redecorated the Geiger home at Sheldon. Harris, a widower, died accidentally in a fire in his San Francisco apartment last week.

Mrs. Geiger further used bank funds, Van Alstine said, to give money to Sheldon residents for household expenses and to aid her husband's hardware store.

Mrs. Geiger, a regular church-goer for 20 years, was described by her attorney as having a fine intellect with a sense of spiritual values.

In his plea he said she had lived with her crime for 37 years and "this is punishment enough."

Dunkle later told a newaman that he thought the "sentence was just."

Liquidation of bank assets is under way by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. The FDIC said Friday it has paid out $2,134,100 in insurance funds to about 2,000 depositors. There are about 500 depositors who have not filed claims.

Meanwhile, a federal grand jury here is investigating the tangled finances of Northern Biochemical, a feed additive manufacturing and marketing firm. Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late president, is now its chief operating officer.

Udall Raises Import Quota On Fuel Oil

WASHINGTON (AP) — Citing more than 40 years, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall Friday raised the import quota on residual fuel oil for the area by 100,000 barrels a day.

The action is effective for the three-month period ending March 31. It increases the daily import restrictions for the period from 530,000 to 630,000 barrels.

Asked at a news conference if he thought his action might aggravate unemployment in the coal fields, already a matter of concern to the Kennedy administration, Udall said: "This will simply replenish stocks and permit business as usual. There is no reason for anyone to draw a conclusion that this disturbs the status quo in the matter of coal versus residual oil at all."

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., however, blasted Udall's order as "absolutely counter to the purpose and effect" of President Kennedy's antirecession policies.

"This is a shocking development and will adversely affect the whole coal industry and related industries," Byrd wired Kennedy.

Joseph E. Moody, president of the National Coal Policy Conference, termed the increase "as unjustified as it is shocking to the American coal industry, which is engaed in a struggle for survival against unfair foreign competition."

In the Southern Hemisphere it will be visible during evening hours.

The sphere thus will be visible, at certain periods, everywhere in the United States, southern Europe, all of Africa and Australia, most of South America and a large part of Asia.

NASA said its brightness will be about that of the North Star, but considerably less than that of Echo I.

The agency said that because of difficulties associated with the tracking it will not have timetable predictions on the orbit for some days.

Explorer IX is the first satellite to be launched by an all solid-propellant Scout rocket.

Lincoln Parish Election Set

BATON ROUGE (Staff Special) — Rep. L. D. Napper of Ruston said Friday an election would be called by Gov. Jimmie H. Davis for additions to the Lincoln Parish School Board and Police Jury.

He had been quoted previously as saying that "appointments" would be made.

"The word 'appointments' was used incorrectly," Napper explained. "We are entitled to an additional board member and new juror in Ward 1."

He added, "It is my understanding that these persons will not be appointed but will be elected in an election called by the governor."

Right Of Way Purchases Slated In Thirty Days

The Louisiana Highway Department is expected to start purchasing right-of-way land for the South Second Street underpass within the next 30 days.

Monroe Street Commissioner W. D. H. Rodriguez said Friday that approximately 30 parcels of real estate are to be purchased.

Final negotiations on the $1-million-plus underpass are now taking place between the highway department's engineering staff and the Missouri - Pacific railroad.

Next step will be calling for bids on construction.

"Its a good guess the underpass cost will be somewhere in the neighborhood of $1,750,000," Rodriguez said.

He explained that this figure includes right-of-way acquisition and construction work to be done by the department of highways and by a contractor under the highway department, work to be done by the railroad and engineering costs.

"No one knows what the actual construction cost will be until the bids have been received. The railroad will do some work aside from the highway department contract," he continued.

Missouri Pacific crews will build a "shoo-fly" track — a by-pass — the present tracks at the South Second Street crossing will be removed as the first stage of work to be done.

Monroe is contributing $500,000 toward construction cost.

School To Honor Mrs. Gabrielle

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Daisy Gabrielle and her daughter Yolande, 6, will be honored next week by a Brooklyn High School because of their efforts to comply with a federal court order that ended racial segregation of a New Orleans school.

Day after day last fall, Yolande was sent through a mob of cursing white women demonstrators to classes at McDonogh 19 Elementary School. The Gabrielle family finally moved from New Orleans to Providence, R. I., after segregationists pressured his employers to dismiss James Gabrielle.

Mrs. Gabrielle will come to New York Feb. 21 to accept the Prospect Park High School's first annual "woman of the year" award and Yolande will be given $250 to be used for her education, the board of education announced Friday.

House OK's Segregation Bills Quickly

from seven to 11 members met stiffer opposition, however, but the bill passed, 79-14.

By increasing the board and giving Davis authority to appoint the new members until an election can be held in 1962, the administration would be assured of having segregationist support here in face of an integration attempt.

Rep. Eugene McGehee of Baton Rouge, however, voiced bold oppostition to the bill against his colleague, Rep. A. T. Sanders, introduced it.

McGehee argued that the governor didn't have a right to name four new board members at once, but Triche accused McGehee of being at political odds with Davis.

The Governor recently appointed two new board members to the Ouachita Parish School Board, but a bill was not introduced in the Legislature pertaining to the two new positions.

While Anzelmo was the only Orleans solon to buck the local option proposal, the New Orleans delegation staged a minor shuffle against Davis' bill taking patronage away from Mayor Chep Morrison in the New Orleans traffic court.

The vote was 75-19 — greatest amount of opposition to the administration in this session so far.

COMPLETE CONTROL

In fact, Davis has been in complete control of the Legislature. Although his legislation sidesteps Supt. Shelby M. Jackson, the education superintendent is not putting up a fight.

Jackson, who has been ill, watched the House proceedings Friday. Arch segregationist Leander H. Perez, of Plaquemines parish popped in and out of Davis' office.

Anzelmo was successful in getting the administration to amend the local option bill. The measure was originally worded so that five per cent of the electorate could petition a school board for an election.

Anzelmo asked for 15 per cent. He got 10 per cent.

Rep. Welborn Jack, Shreveport, claimaxed almost two hours of speechmaking by declaring, "this will strengthen the fight for segregation. This is not a compromise."

With the bill laying the groundwork for private schools, the House also passed on legislation providing $2 ½-million to be taken from the surplus welfare fund for the Grants-In-Aid.

In addition, a bill was passed providing $200,000 monthly for private schools. This money also comes from the surplus Welfare fund.

Then, under Davis' New Plan, cooperatives running the private schools will be in position to employ teachers who meet the requirements of the State Board of education.

Not only that fines up to $1,000 were approved for persons convicted of bribing parents whose children are directed to attend schools that operate in violation of state law.

NO COMPROMISE

Triche argued, "We haven't changed our stand one iota. This bill (local option elections) allows voters to change to a private, segregated school system — that's all it intends to do."

HB1-96 to 2. local option elections, providing that each school board can call an election to determine where private schools would be established.

HB2—91 to 3. Make it a crime to bribe or offer to bribe parent or guardian of any school child to permit child to attend school in violation of state law, providing that fines be given to the informer who gives evidence resulting in conviction.

HB3—94 to 0. Authorize private educational cooperatives to make contracts with teachers of at least five but not more than 10 years.

HB4—92 to 1. Define crime of intimidation or interference in operation of public schools, providing fines be paid to informers who give information resulting in conviction, giving informer immunity and setting mandatory jail sentence.

HB5—75 to 19. Puts employes of traffic court of New Orleans under Civil Service effective August 1, 1961, providing for appointment of various employes.

HB6—79 to 14. Increase membership of East Baton Rouge Parish Board from seven to 11 members, providing for appointment of additional members by the Governor until next Congressional election in 1962.

HB7—91 to 0. Appropriate $178,000 to pay expenses of the Legislature.

HB8—95 to 0. Create office of Fifth Assistant District Attorney for 19th Judicial District, East Baton Rouge Parish.

HB12—95 to 0. Transfer $2,500,000 from sales tax proceeds in Public Welfare Fund to Education Expense Grant Fund. Floor amended to provide for short term investment of funds.

HB13—96 to 0. Provide for placing $200,000 monthly from sales tax collections in education expense grany fund. Floor amended to provide for short term investment of funds.

Airlines Hit By Walkout Of Engineers

NEW YORK (UPI)— Flight engineers staged a surprise strike against major airlines Friday night in apparent portest of a National Mediation Board ruling that put them under the jurisdiction of a pilots' union.

At least three airlines—Pan American World Airways, Eastern and Trans World Airlines — were forced to cancel or delay both overseas and domestic flights because of the walkout by engineers. Some flights were consolidated with supervisory engineer personnel taking over for the strikers.

The walkout was felt first at New York's Idlewild Airport, where TWA cancelled all overseas flights. Affected were three passenger jetliners scheduled to leave Friday night and a cargo plane.

An Eastern spokesman said in Miami that engineers had failed to show up for several scheduled flights.

Striking engineers in New York said they left their jobs because their contract with Pan American had expired last June 1. It was believed however, that the spreading strike was aimed at the hotly contested Mediation Board ruling.

Eastern cancelled five domestic flights, one from Miami, two from Boston, and two from New York.

Pan American said that engineers left five overseas flights and three others were threatened with delays. Pan American combined two flights bound for overseas.

A spokesman for American Airlines said no flights were affected in New York Friday night, but there could be a tieup Saturday.

Huge Sum Spent On Speculations

Her husband, Wallace, a Sheldon merchant, was the only member of her family in court. Her father, W. P. Iverson, 83, president of the now closed bank, and her mother remained away.

Mrs. Geiger was specifically accused of embezzling $122,393 in the last four years. But U.S. Dist. Atty. F. E. Van Alstine said the total amount of the shortage was $2,155,000 — one of the largest in banking history in this country.

Van Alstine told the court that when Mrs. Geiger became cashier in her father's bank 38 years ago there already was a $75,000 shortage.

That defalcation was by one of her three predecessors, her attorney said. Van Alstine said she has refused to name the persons.

The district attorney added that Mrs. Geiger hid that amount "and over a period of years embezzled a great deal."

He said she speculated on the "board of trade," which was not further identified, and lost about $1,000 a month for nearly 30 years. The money came from bank funds, he said.

Van Alstine said Mrs. Geiger gave about $140,000 to Samuel Marvin Harris, 54, an interior decorator, who once redecorated the Geiger home at Sheldon. Harris, a widower, died accidentally in a fire in his San Francisco apartment last week.

Mrs. Geiger further used bank funds, Van Alstine said, to give money to Sheldon residents for household expenses and to aid her husband's hardware store.

Mrs. Geiger, a regular churchgoer for 20 years, was described by her attorney as having a fine intellect with a sense of spiritual values.

In his plea he said she had lived with her crime for 37 years and "this is punishment enough."

Dunkle later told a newsman that he thought the "sentence was just."

Liquidation of bank assets is under way by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. The FDIC said Friday it has paid out $2,134,100 in insurance funds to about 2,000 depositors. There are about 500 depositors who have not filed claims.

Meanwhile, a federal grand jury here is investigating the tangled finances of Northern Biochemical, a feed additive manufacturing and marketing firm. Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late president, is now its chief operating officer.

Udall Raises Import Quota On Fuel Oil

WASHINGTON)AP) — Citing more than 40 years, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall Friday raised the import quota on residual fuel oil for the area by 100,000 barrels a day.

The action is effective for the three-month period ending March 31. It increases the daily import restrictions for the period from 530,000 to 630,000 barrels.

Asked at a news conference if he thought his action might aggravate unemployment in the coal fields, already a matter of concern to the Kennedy administration, Udall said: "This will simply replenish stocks and permit business as usual. There is no reason for anyone to draw a conclusion that this disturbs the status quo in the matter of coal versus residual oil at all."

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., however, blasted Udall's order as "absolutely counter to the purpose and effect" of President Kennedy's antirecession policies.

"This is a shocking development and will adversely affect the whole coal industry and related industries," Byrd wired Kennedy.

Joseph E. Moody, president of the National Coal Policy Conference, termed the increase "as unjustified as it is shocking to the American coal industry, which is engaed in a struggle for survival against unfair foreign competition."

Corporal Dave Chase, of the Louisaina State Police, who investigated the accident, said that the Bingham vehicle was just leaving a dirt road, moving west toward Highway 15, when struck by the train (Missouri Pacific No. 893) which was heading west.

Body Of Missing Man Discovered

white shirt he was reported wearing when missing.

The two men who found Weems said that it had just started misting rain about 1:30 p.m. Friday when they backed up against a tree for shelter. They noticed something lying in a heavy growth of underbrush and briars and upon investigation found it to be Weems' body.

The Richland Parish sheriff's department, along with the coroner, said that apparently Weem's had been lying there since the day of his disappearance last summer. They did not believe any foul play was connected with his death, but said that they would continue to investigate and make certain.

The century - old man was wearing a pair of overalls, and a white shirt and the "cane" he was supposed to always have with him when he went walking was nowhere around. It was later discovered that the cane was at his home.

Authorities said that he was carrying between $12 and $13 as well as they could ascertain from the rotted money.

Weems's wife, Mrs. Ella Weems, had not been notified late last night, according to reports. Her daughter, Mrs. Ruby McLemore, said that Mrs. Weems' was in the Rayville hospital suffering from a heart attack and that she had not been notified.

Mrs. McLemore lives next door to her mother, approximately 150 feet from the Weems' home on the Goodwill Road. The morning that Mr. Weems disappeared from his home, Mrs. Weems had gone next door to her daughters to help her mend a fencepost.

Search parties from the area, composed of from 25 to 40 men, spread through the area in an intensive manhunt for Weems. Searchers had walked all along the road that runs in front of the Weems' home, walked up and down rows in the fields, along fence rows and throughout the area.

Lee Lyles, who had been a part of the searchers, said that they just never felt he could get through the woods.

Weems body was taken to the Mulhearn Funeral Home in Rayville yesterday and funeral arrangements were not complete last night.

The two men who discovered Weems' body were running some land lines, making plans to buy property.

Mr. Weems had just recently moved to the house on the Goodwill Road from Monroe and his step-daughter, Mrs. Dave Spencer, had told authorities she suspected "foul play" when he disappeared in July.

Kennedy Urged To Help Finance Irish Industry

LONDON (UPI)—A conservative member of Parliament Friday proposed that "Irish - American multi-millionaires" like President Kennedy and his family finance industries in the old country to stem Irish immigration to Britain.

The House of Commons listened quietly to that proposal but erupted into hoots and jeers when Cyril Osborne compared Negro immigration to "a cancer" and demanded that it be stopped.

The immigration bill never had a chance. Government spokesman David Renton won cheers when he said any racial problems must be solved "on the principle of non-discrimination as to race, color and creed."

The bill was dropped. But Osborne and his supporters fought for it as a way to save Britain.

"The resolution to the Irish problem," he said, "would be for the Irish-American multi-millionaires like the Kennedys to bring back to Ireland some of the vast wealth they have and establish industries in Cork and Dublin which would absorb the populations there."

King Of Laos To Appeal For National Unity

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—King Savang Vathana will make an extraordinary appeal to the world Sunday, the government announced. Informed sources said he probably will ask foreign nations to halt what his government calls outside interference in this jungle kingdom's civil war, and appeal to all Laotians to unite under his royal banner.

Following the king's appeal, informed sources said Premier Boun Oum's government is expected to request a neutral international commission to visit Laos to observe the situation.

Boun previously charged Communist North Viet Nam intervened with troop and supply support for leftist rebels. Westerners generally disbelieve North Vietnamese soldiers are involved on a large scale.

In Bangkok, headquarters of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, the Bangkok Post said the eight-nation defense organization has agreed to send observers to Laos if Boun agrees to certain conditions. SEATO Secretary-General Pote Sarasin was quoted as saying he sent a message to the Laotian government but could not disclose its contents.

Woman Accused Of Making False Attack Report

The Ouachita sheriff's department Friday acted on a warrant filed by the district attorney's office in relation to a false report which officials charged a West Monroe woman filed Thursday.

A spokesman for the sheriff's office said bond for Shirley Wainwright, 23, who gave her address as Pinecrest Drive, West Monroe, has been set at $750.

A department official said the woman Thursday filed charges against two men, claiming aggravated rape.

The official said the claim was thoroughly investigated by the sheriff's office.

Prior to the serving of the warrant filed against the woman by the district attorney's office, he said, she called the sheriff's office and requested information on how to withdraw the charges she had filed.

He said after that, the woman signed an affidavit asking that the investigation be stopped and that the two men whom she had accused not be prosecuted.

The warrant filed by the district attorney's office Friday following the investigation by the sheriff's office said in part that the woman did "wilfully and intentionally give a false report to the Sheriff's Department of Ouachita Parish relative to the commission of a crime when in truth and in fact she well knew that no crime had actually been committed."

Texas Solons Approve Funds For Toledo Dam

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Rep. Cliff Ammons, Sabine Parish, said Friday he was informed the Texas House approved 141-4 a bill to finance that state's share of the Toledo Bend dam project.

Ammons said Rep. Sam F. Collins notified him in a telegram of the Texas House action Thursday and said, "get your shovels ready." The measure was sent to the Texas Senate.

Louisiana's Legislature already has cleared the way for financing its share of the two state $30-million project on the Sabine River between Texas and Louisiana.

Ammons said plans are to start work surveying the shoreline sometime this summer. Other work such as moving cemeteries and actual construction is planned for beginning early next year.

white shirt he was reported wearing when missing.

The two men who found Weems said that it had just started misting rain about 1:30 p.m. Friday when they backed up against a tree for shelter. They noticed something lying in a heavy growth of underbrush and briars and upon investigation found it to be Weems' body.

The Richland Parish sheriff's department, along with the coroner, said that apparently Weem's had been lying there since the day of his disappearance last summer. They did not believe any foul play was connected with his death, but said that they would continue to investigate and make certain.

The century - old man was wearing a pair of overalls, and a white shirt and the "cane" he was supposed to always have with him when he went walking was nowhere around. It was later discovered that the cane was at his home.

Authorities said that he was carrying between $12 and $13 as well as they could ascertain from the rotted money.

Weems's wife, Mrs. Ella Weems, had not been notified late last night, according to reports. Her daughter, Mrs. Ruby McLemore, said that Mrs. Weems' was in the Rayville hospital suffering from a heart attack and that she had not been notified.

Mrs. McLemore lives next door to her mother, approximately 150 feet from the Weems' home on the Goodwill Road. The morning that Mr. Weems disappeared from his home, Mrs. Weems had gone next door to her daughters to help her mend a fencepost.

Search parties from the area, composed of from 35 to 40 men, spread through the area in an intensive manhunt for Weems. Searchers had walked all along the road that runs in front of the Weems' home, walked up and down rows in the fields, along fence rows and throughout the area.

Lee Lyles, who had been a part of the searchers, said that they just never felt he could get through the woods.

Weems body was taken to the Mulhearn Funeral Home in Rayville yesterday and funeral arrangements were not complete last night.

The two men who discovered Weems' body were running some land lines, making plans to buy property.

Mr. Weems had just recently moved to the house on the Goodwill Road from Monroe and his step-daughter, Mrs. Dave Spencer, had told authorities she suspected "foul play" when he disappeared in July.

Kennedy Urged To Help Finance Irish Industry

LONDON (UPI)—A conservative member of Parliament Friday proposed that "Irish - American multi-millionaires" like President Kennedy and his family finance industries in the old country to stem Irish immigration to Britain.

The House of Commons listened quietly to that proposal but erupted into hoots and jeers when Cyril Osborne compared Negro immigration to "a cancer" and demanded that it be stopped.

The immigration bill never had a chance. Government spokesman David Renton won cheers when he said any racial problems must be solved "on the principle of non-discrimination as to race, color and creed."

The bill was dropped. But Osborne and his supporters fought for it as a way to save Britain.

"The resolution to the Irish problem," he said, "would be for the Irish-American multi-millionaires like the Kennedys to bring back to Ireland some of the vast wealth they have and establish industries in Cork and Dublin which would absorb the populations there."

King Of Laos To Appeal For National Unity

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—King Savang Vathana will make an extraordinary appeal to the world Sunday, the government announced. Informed sources said he probably will ask foreign nations to halt what his government calls outside interference in this jungle kingdom's civil war, and appeal to all Laotians to unite under his royal banner.

Following the king's appeal, informed sources said Premier Boun Oum's government is expected to request a neutral international commission to visit Laos to observe the situation.

Boun previously charged Communist North Viet Nam intervened with troop and supply support for leftist rebels. Westerners generally disbelieve North Vietnamese soldiers are involved on a large scale.

In Bangkok, headquarters of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, the Bangkok Post said the eight-nation defense organization has agreed to send observers to Laos if Boun agrees to certain conditions. SEATO Secretary-General Pote Sarasin was quoted as saying he sent a message to the Laotian government but could not disclose its contents.

Woman Accused Of Making False Attack Report

The Ouachita sheriff's department Friday acted on a warrant filed by the district attorney's office in relation to a false report which officials charged a West Monroe woman filed Thursday.

A spokesman for the sheriff's office said bond for Shirley Wainwright, 23, who gave her address as Pinecrest Drive, West Monroe, has been set at $750.

A department official said the woman Thursday filed charges against two men, claiming aggravated rape.

The official said the claim was thoroughly investigated by the sheriff's office.

Prior to the serving of the warrant filed against the woman by the district attorney's office, he said, she called the sheriff's office and requested information on how to withdraw the charges she had filed.

He said after that, the woman signed an affidavit asking that the investigation be stopped and that the two men whom she had accused not be prosecuted.

The warrant filed by the district attorney's office Friday following the investigation by the sheriff's office said in part that the woman did "wilfully and intentionally give a false report to the Sheriff's Department of Ouachita Parish relative to the commission of a crime when in truth and in fact she well knew that no crime had actually been committed."

Texas Solons Approve Funds For Toledo Dam

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Rep. Cliff Ammons, Sabine Parish, said Friday he was informed the Texas House approved 141-4 a bill to finance that state's share of the Toledo Bend dam project.

Ammons said Rep. Sam F. Collins notified him in a telegram of the Texas House action Thursday and said, "get your shovels ready." The measure was sent to the Texas Senate.

Louisiana's Legislature already has cleared the way for financing its share of the two state $30-million project on the Sabine River between Texas and Louisiana.

Ammons said plans are to start work surveying the shoreline sometime this summer. Other work such as moving cemeteries and actual construction is planned for beginning early next year.

Buying Voting Right

Quite a number of good ideas on voting, citizenship and democracy were offered in a letter written to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram by a resident of Fort Worth. He attacked the poll tax, among other things, but a wholesome part of his letter concerned democracy, which a good many people now seem inclined to abolish, contending that this country is not a democracy but a republic.

This country is a republic but those who stress that fact seem to want to make republicanism so different from democracy that we would actually become an autocracy, abolishing the voting rights of the ordinary citizen and handing them over to a highly-educated few. If we want an America of free people we still must make democracy work, despite some objection to the use of that word.

Commenting, the Fort Worth man said:

"The basic principle of democracy is that all citizens have the right to vote.

"'The great state of Texas chooses to deny that right through the poll tax. The poll tax is by economic definition a 'regressive' tax. That is, it takes a "larger" percentage of the low incomes than of high. Therefore, it is discrimintory.

"It should be the citizen's privilege to speak or be silent, to vote or withhold his vote. We have freedom of speech and have profited thereby. It is very doubtful that suffrage would hurt us either. Most 'undesirables' would exclude themselves through apathy, but those interested enough should not be denied.

"Every honest individual will admit there are certain types of people he had rather not see vote. But a 'selective democracy' is no democracy. Therefore, it follows that a citizens' government that can conscript every man in wartime must allow suffrage in peacetime.

". . . Unfortunately, the federal government has had to threaten to rectify the discrimination in our polls. Why must the south back itself into another embarrassing Appomattox? . . ."

Some argue that the poll tax does not require payment for the right to vote nor give anyone that right, since those who own property must pay the poll tax before their property tax will be accepted, even if they are not eligible to vote. Still, it is difficult to deny that payment of the poll tax is not paying for the right to vote, since no one can vote without paying it in the states that require it.

Louisiana and many other states long ago abandoned the poll tax. These states were against any national legislation to abolish the poll tax for the reason that they consider it a state and not a federal matter.

As the Texas writer says, it does seem that the states which are holding onto the poll tax are causing embarrassment by bringing on the threat of federal action.

Although the United States Supreme Court often tries to usurp the place of congress by setting up "the law of the land," in the case of the poll tax that court would seem to have more right than congress to decide on whether a citizen's right is being abridged by the poll tax.

The main thing to be considered is whether there is a tendency on the part of many to drift toward "selective" or autocratic voting. Autocratic voting is different from socialism, which is bad, but that does not make "selective" voting good. Either of them can result in eventual dictatorship.

What this country needs, always has needed and always will need is good, old-fashioned democracy.

Committee Of 100

The so-called "committee of 100" is the most active of British groups opposing nuclear armament. That group is scheduled to stage a demonstration today to protest the arrival of the first U.S. ship which will serve as a tender to Polaris missile submarines.

The stationing of the ship, the "Proteus," at Holy Loch in Scotland is part of an understanding between the United States and British governments involving five Polaris-firing submarine tenders.

Soviet Russia has reacted violently to the proposition ever since the agreement was made public. In the usual terms, Moscow Radio on Oct. 18 charged the basing of the ships in Scotland "a provocative act" representing a "new capitulation of the British government to U. S. aggressive circles."

Among the leaders of the "committee of 100" are Lord Bertrand Russell, the Rev. Michael Scott and Mrs. Margaret Robertson whose home overlooks Holy Loch.

Lord Russell hoped to persuade some 2,000 demonstrators to sit down on the sidewalk at the British Defense Ministry as "Proteus" moves up the Clyde River towards the loch. There are two notes of humor in this. One is that the British have the jolly habit of leaving the city over the weekend, so the dissenters will be picketing an empty—or nearly so—government building.

The other is a mysterious call for funds for the demonstration which committeemen say will be needed "well in advance" of the planned four-hour sitdown.

Other splinter groups were slated to assist Lord Russell's anti-nuclear drive. The Aldermaston march of 1959, for example, was run by a group called the "Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament. This group denies any connection with the British Labor Party but takes credit for that faction's anti-nuclear defense policy approved at Scarborough in October.

There are several other groups, one in the more active category being the "Direct Action Committee Against Nuclear War." This body is somehow trying to make its members withhold from income taxes that portion which would be spent on British defenses.

Of course, all would deny any connection with Russia, although their policies work hand in hand.

Some of the groups want to take the occasion of Whitsun to march to Holy Loch and board—non-violently — the Polaris submarine tender.

But the flat "give-away" of the entire movement's coloring is revealed in another demonstration now in the planning stage. The Direct Action Committee Against Nuclear War has on its calendar a parade across Europe all the way to Moscow. What clause in the British equal to the U.S. Fifth Amendment will enable the groups to hide the true identity of that one?

Getting The Short End

ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

Says Nixon Prestige Low

Party Leaders Evincing Keen Interest In Views And Activities Of Goldwater And Rockefeller

WASHINGTON, —A high-placed Republican is doing some unusually frank talking about former Vice President Nixon and his prospects for a political comeback.

Victor Johnson, the veteran executive director of the Senate GOP Campaign Committee, is saying Nixon is being severely criticized by party leaders throughout the country, and that the great majority of them refuse to consider him their titular leader.

These harsh findings are based on an extensive "pulse - feeling" tour during which Johnson talked to Republican leaders in 35 states. In most of them, he is telling Senate leaders, he found Nixon's prestige at a very low ebb with party chiefs.

On the other hand, they are evincing keen interest in the views, activities and plans of Senator Goldwater and Governor Rockefeller.

Also according to Johnson, National Chairman Thurston Morton is now a Rockefeller booster. This would be a significant switch, as the Kentuckian had been a strong Nixon backer.

One of the few state chairmen who is on a salary and devotes full - time to this job, Bliss carried his state for the Nixon-Lodge ticket by more than 200,000 — one of the outstanding GOP victories. Vigorously supporting him for National Chairman is Charles White, Cleveland, head of Republic Steel and one of the party's biggest fund raisers.

Governor Rockefeller is letting it be known he is entirely content with Morton; sees no reason why he should be supplanted; and is determined to retain him as National Chairman as long as he wants to stay.

That may be quite a while as Morton is undecided about running for a second Senate term next year — when he admittedly faces a difficult race.

WHAT HE'S SAYING — Johnson reported to the Senate Republican Campaign Committee, of which he has long been executive director, that everywhere he went on his country - wide trip he found state and local leaders "sore at Nixon."

"The consensus of opinion," says Johnson, "is that Nixon lost the election because he didn't conduct the right kind of campaign. Most of the advantages were on his side, and he should have won easily. But these leaders claim he wouldn't take their advice, and in many instances they couldn't even get to him.

"Time and again I was bluntly told that Nixon is not considered the party's titular leader. Also his only chance for a comeback in 1964 is to be elected Governor of California next year, and this obviously confronts him with a tough dilemma.

"If he runs for Governor, he will have to promise to serve the full four - year term. And he'll have to give that assurance in a very convincing manner. Once he does, the door is wide open for Senator Goldwater, Governor Rockefeller and others to seek the 1964 nomination."

According to Johnson, Nixon is still of a divided mind on the governorship.

Some state leaders told Johnson that in telephone talks with Nixon he indicated he would make no decision until later this year. They quoted Nixon as saying, "There's no need to rush. I'm going to take my time and see how things develop in California and nationally."

POLITICALS — Most sought Republican speaker is Senator Barry Goldwater, followed closely by Governor Rockefeller. Goldwater is accepting as many invitations as his congressional work permits. But Rockefeller is confining his talking to New York until the state legislature concludes. In the meanwhile, he is inviting GOP governors and other state leaders to visit him — which they are doing in a steady and carefully unpublicized stream . . . . Former Governor "Happy" Chandler is at it again. The Kentuckian is again running for that office — in 1963. Wherever he goes, he is passing out buttons reading "A.B.C. in '63." The A.B. stands for Albert B. . . . Representative John Sayler (R.,Pa.) is telling colleagues one reason he voted against increasing the membership of the House Rules Committee is because he has gubernatorial ambitions, and State GOP leaders notified him they were against Speaker Rayburn's proposal to undermine Republican-Southern control of this key committee.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Use Own Blood

Fluid Withdrawn Sometime Before Operation And Put Back In

When a patient had a slight degree of anemia and was rundown, it was not unusual for the doctor to say: "A pint of blood will fix you up." Then the patient would go into the hospital for a blood transfusion, and return home the same day.

I am glad to say that doctors now prescribe blood only when it is definitely needed. We recognize the potential dangers in transfusions — allergic reactions, infectious hepatitis, bacterial infections and other unwanted complications.

In fact, some think that if a patient needs only one pint of blood, he had better not have a transfusion at all.

It is true that blood transfusion is often a life - saver, but extreme care must be used in blood-typing and in cross - matching bloods of donor and recipient.

Lately, it has been suggested that we follow this practice in patients: If you know that you are to undergo operation soon, it would be wise if your doctor removed at least a pint of your own blood a few weeks earlier, and stored it. If, during or after operation a blood transfusion becomes necessary, the doctors could return your own blood. Such practice would lessen the chances of transfusion reactions. In years to come I think this will be a common procedure.

A WAY TO CURE THE BLUES

From Mrs. P. of Detroit, Michigan comes this formula: Here's the best way I know of to cure the blues: "When feeling blue, something for some one else go do. It works every time." I've tried it all my 80 years.

GOOD DOCTOR

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: So much has been written about bad doctors, so little about the good.

I had many complications after a recent operation. In spite of an extensive practice, my doctor was at my bedside three times a day. He was always patient, kind, understanding, informative and gentle. He never brushed aside my questions, no matter how insignificant.

He never minimized my condition, but at the same time, never stood death watch over me. He was very helpful to my husband, which is more important than most people think.

I recovered rapidly, in spite of complications, for several reasons. Two important ones were that I received such wonderful care from this doctor and that I really wanted to get well fast because I believed that this was what he wanted.

Above all, I never felt that he was treating me because eventually I would pay for his summer vacation. This was later to be proved by the mercifully low fee that he charged.

I won't even sign my initials because I am afraid that he would recognize the patient and feel that he owed me something. The situations are so reversed. I owe him so very much and hope that this letter will in some way repay in a very small measure for all that he has done. — A most grateful patient., Springfield, Virginia

Comment: I sincerely hope your doctor reads this.

Nixon's Program

Defeated Candidate Must Enjoy Seeing His Plans Being Used

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Richard Nixon, although as ambitious as they come, has named two circumstances under which he prefers never to be President. First, he doesn't want to win, as a certain heavyweight champion once took the title, by writhing on the floor and shouting foul. Second, he doesn't want to come into office by defeating a "Hoover Administration," achieving his success as the result of national depression and suffering.

These high - minded positions are not enough, of themselves, to suggest that Nixon, vacationing in the West Indies, may be reluctantly enjoying his rival's early success. But there is another factor in the equation. It would be strange if Nixon hasn't noticed from a distance that President Kennedy has been succeeding in a large part because he's adopting significant portions of the Nixon program and philosophy.

There must be some satisfaction here for the loser of last years election. After all, if a man doesn't win, he ought to get some sort of wry pleasure in seeing his ideas thrive. Years ago the fine Navy athlete and steeplechase rider, the late Victor Noyes, was enduring a streak of bad racing luck — time after time his mounts would fall on their heads, but they would win the next time out under another rider. Noyes gave it the big laugh, saying:

Nixon could feel this way. Without taking any credit from the President, it's a fact that the following moves by Mr. Kennedy are more Nixon - natured and more recognizably Republican than otherwise:

1. The President's stated intention to keep the Eisenhower budget, even down to its reliance upon dubious revenues from increased postage and rising prosperity in the spring. We shall have to wait and see whether Mr. Kennedy will get what Mr. Eisenhower hoped to get — but the same words could have been written about Nixon if he'd won.

2. The President's reliance upon straight political pressure tactics in the one big fight to date — the battle to break the Dixiecrat authority of the House Rules Committee. The point was in this place not long ago that Nixon's associations were on Capitol Hill rather than in the academies of learning, and that he would have set up a "poli - trust" in contrast to the Kennedy brain - trust of professors. But look what's happened! The professors are still in the trenches. The President's political shock troops have stormed and taken the Southern redoubt. Would Nixon have done it any differently? Almost certainly not.

3. The President's farm plan is still very fuzzy, but if he ends up taking the advice of his task forces, he'll have a plan more Nixon-like than his own. During the campaign, Mr. Kennedy stressed stricter controls and more costly support for crops. Nixon was for taking large land tracts out of crops and putting them into trees and soil-building grasses — the conservation bank concept. This is just about the most constructive proposal which Mr. Kennedy's advisers have brought to him. If he acts upon it, he'll be doing what Nixon intended.

4. The President's instant attention to the question of getting an agreement on nuclear test bans. In the televised campaign debates, Mr. Kennedy said he would, if elected, make one more big try to get an international agreement — and if it failed, would resume underground testing for our side. Mr. Nixon, with less patience and confidence toward negotiating with the Communists, said he would act much faster than that. As President, Mr. Kennedy did what he said he'd do. He set things in motion for negotiations in the spring. But he made this announcement in his first press conference, giving the matter a priority that seems a part - way approach to the Nixon method.

5. The President's use of Republicans whom Nixon would surely have used in similar posts. The star example is Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon. There is a surprising number of others. David Bruce, Allen Dulles, Llewellyn Thompson, Lauris Norstad are examples of Eisenhower retreads whom Mr. Kennedy is using — as Nixon would have done.

6. Finally, and most surprising, is the President's Inaugural Address statement which revoked the Hundred-Day crash concept. He and, more especially, Lyndon Johnson, sold this one hard in the campaign. But once in office, the President came out for the long, hard evolutionary process. It is the essence of Republican conservatism. It is the opposite of the action - always experimentism which we learned to think of as a Democratic trademark under the New and Fair Deals.

How Do You Stand, Sir?

Senator From Arizona

I have profound respect for the people of Texas, including Texas politicians of the opposite faith. My purpose in reporting in detail on the irregularities of the Texas election is not intended to serve any partisan interest.

I am confident the supporters of Jack Kennedy, who received the electoral vote of Texas, are just as concerned over the situation as are the supporters of Dick Nixon, who lost the Texas electoral votes.

The Texas Negative Ballot, which is so confusing to those of us from other states where we put the "X" beside our chosen candidate, requires the Texas voter to scratch out all names except the candidate of his choice.

While this may seem a cumbersome, confusing manner of voting, the Texas legislature and the people of Texas are well within their rights to establish this system. But having established the system, it is now their responsibility to operate their voting procedures in a manner which will treat all citizens alike.

In my last column, I recited that in Starr County less than two per cent of the votes were disqualified for being improperly marked, while in many other counties, percentages of improperly marked ballots, and thus disqualified ballots, range from 18 to 25 per cent.

It is obvious that in Starr County, the election judges decided to use one law and their own discretion to count the improperly marked ballots so that very few of their voting citizens lost their voting power. But another law was followed in Waller County and one - fourth of their citizens lost their voting power.

In Cooke County, only one percent of the voters failed to get their votes counted. But in a precinct in Anderson County, 63 per cent of the votes were thrown out. Almost two out of every three voters failed in their attempt to cast a ballot. How did this situation operate to destroy the equality of the election?

It is obvious that if you voted correctly in any county for either Dick Nixon or Jack Kennedy, your vote was properly counted. But your vote may have been canceled by an improperly marked ballot which was accepted by the election judges in another county.

Let us presume that you failed to scratch out the minority party candidates when you voted and thus had your vote thrown out. In a neighboring county, where a voter made the same mistake and failed to scratch out the minority party candidates, his vote may have been counted.

In those Texas counties where the requirements of the first section of the law were rigidly observed, approximately 100,000 ballots were disqualified. An inspection of other counties, where the law was less rigidly adhered to, indicates clearly the probability that at least 100,000 improperly marked ballots were counted.

Had all the improperly marked ballots in Texas been counted, that is, all ballots where the voters failed to scratch all the minority candidates, the final tally might not have affected the outcome of the election.

Conversely, had all the improperly marked ballots been thrown out, the outcome of the election might have been the same. The point is that with some improperly marked ballots being counted and some improperly marked ballots being thrown out the result cannot be accepted as an honest and accurate expression of the will of the Texas electorate.

Under a strict interpretation of the law, it is proper to say the voters should have been better informed. That those who went to the polls wishing to vote for Dick Nixon and scratched only the name of Kennedy, ignoring minority party candidates, deserve to lose their ballots. This may be true, but the people of Texas have every right to be alarmed and incensed over the admitted fact that in some precincts improperly marked ballots were counted while in others they were rejected.

At this moment, there is being organized in Texas support for an election reform, and it seems to me reform is required. How do you stand, sir?

Buying Voting Right

Quite a number of good ideas on voting, citizenship and democracy were offered in a letter written to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram by a resident of Fort Worth. He attacked the poll tax, among other things, but a wholesome part of his letter concerned democracy, which a good many people now seem inclined to abolish, contending that this country is not a democracy but a republic.

This country is a republic but those who stress that fact seem to want to make republicanism so different from democracy that we would actually become an autocracy, abolishing the voting rights of the ordinary citizen and handing them over to a highly-educated few. If we want an America of free people we still must make democracy work, despite some objection to the use of that word.

Commenting, the Fort Worth man said:

"The basic principle of democracy is that all citizens have the right to vote.

"'The great state of Texas chooses to deny that right through the poll tax. The poll tax is by economic definition a 'regressive' tax. That is, it takes a "larger" percentage of the low incomes than of high. Therefore, it is discrimintory.

"It should be the citizen's privilege to speak or be silent, to vote or withhold his vote. We have freedom of speech and have profited thereby. It is very doubtful that suffrage would hurt us either. Most 'undesirables' would exclude themselves through apathy, but those interested enough should not be denied.

"Every honest individual will admit there are certain types of people he had rather not see vote. But a 'selective democracy' is no democracy. Therefore, it follows that a citizens' government that can conscript every man in wartime must allow suffrage in peacetime.

". . . Unfortunately, the federal government has had to threaten to rectify the discrimination in our polls. Why must the south back itself into another embarrassing Appomattox? . . ."

Some argue that the poll tax does not require payment for the right to vote nor give anyone that right, since those who own property must pay the poll tax before their property tax will be accepted, even if they are not eligible to vote. Still, it is difficult to deny that payment of the poll tax is not paying for the right to vote, since no one can vote without paying it in the states that require it.

Louisiana and many other states long ago abandoned the poll tax. These states were against any national legislation to abolish the poll tax for the reason that they consider it a state and not a federal matter.

As the Texas writer says, it does seem that the states which are holding onto the poll tax are causing embarrassment by bringing on the threat of federal action.

Although the United States Supreme Court often tries to usurp the place of congress by setting up "the law of the land," in the case of the poll tax that court would seem to have more right than congress to decide on whether a citizen's right is being abridged by the poll tax.

Some of the things mentioned are neither here nor there, as far as we are concerned.

The main thing to be considered is whether there is a tendency on the part of many to drift toward "selective" or autocratic voting. Autocratic voting is different from socialism, which is bad, but that does not make "selective" voting good. Either of them can result in eventual dictatorship.

What this country needs, always has needed and always will need is good, old-fashioned democracy.

Committee Of 100

The so-called "committee of 100" is the most active of British groups opposing nuclear armament. That group is scheduled to stage a demonstration today to protest the arrival of the first U.S. ship which will serve as a tender to Polaris missile submarines.

The stationing of the ship, the "Proteus," at Holy Loch in Scotland is part of an understanding between the United States and British governments involving five Polaris-firing submarine tenders.

Soviet Russia has reacted violently to the proposition ever since the agreement was made public. In the usual terms, Moscow Radio on Oct. 18 charged the basing of the ships in Scotland "a provocative act" representing a "new capitulation of the British government to U. S. aggressive circles."

Among the leaders of the "committee of 100" are Lord Bertrand Russell, the Rev. Michael Scott and Mrs. Margaret Robertson whose home overlooks Holy Loch.

Lord Russell hoped to persuade some 2,000 demonstrators to sit down on the sidewalk at the British Defense Ministry as "Proteus" moves up the Clyde River towards the loch. There are two notes of humor in this. One is that the British have the jolly habit of leaving the city over the week-end, so the dissenters will be picketing an empty—or nearly so—government building.

The other is a mysterious call for funds for the demonstration which committeemen say will be needed "well in advance" of the planned four-hour sitdown.

Other splinter groups were slated to assist Lord Russell's anti-nuclear drive. The Aldermaston march of 1959, for example, was run by a group called the "Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament. This group denies any connection with the British Labor Party but takes credit for that faction's anti-nuclear defense policy approved at Scarborough in October.

There are several other groups, one in the more active category being the "Direct Action Committee Against Nuclear War." This body is somehow trying to make its members withhold from income taxes that portion which would be spent on British defenses.

Of course, all would deny any connection with Russia, although their policies work hand in hand.

Some of the groups want to take the occasion of Whitsun to march to Holy Loch and board—non-violently — the Polaris submarine tender.

But the flat "give-away" of the entire movement's coloring is revealed in another demonstration now in the planning stage. The Direct Action Committee Against Nuclear War has on its calendar a parade across Europe all the way to Moscow. What clause in the British equal to the U.S. Fifth Amendment will enable the groups to hide the true identity of that one?

Getting The Short End

ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

Says Nixon Prestige Low

WASHINGTON, —A high-placed Republican is doing some unusually frank talking about former Vice President Nixon and his prospects for a political come-back.

Victor Johnson, the veteran executive director of the Senate GOP Campaign Committee, is saying Nixon is being severely criticized by party leaders throughout the country, and that the great majority of them refuse to consider him their titular leader.

These harsh findings are based on an extensive "pulse - feeling" tour during which Johnson talked to Republican leaders in 35 states. In most of them, he is telling Senate leaders, he found Nixon's prestige at a very low ebb with party chiefs.

On the other hand, they are evincing keen interest in the views, activities and plans of Senator Goldwater and Governor Rockefeller.

Also according to Johnson, National Chairman Thurston Morton is now a Rockefeller booster. This would be a significant switch, as the Kentuckian had been a strong Nixon backer.

One of the few state chairmen who is on a salary and devotes full - time to this job, Bliss carried his state for the Nixon-Lodge ticket by more than 200,000 — one of the outstanding GOP victories. Vigorously supporting him for National Chairman is Charles White, Cleveland, head of Republic Steel and one of the party's biggest fund raisers.

Governor Rockefeller is letting it be known he is entirely content with Morton; sees no reason why he should be supplanted; and is determined to retain him as National Chairman as long as he wants to stay.

That may be quite a while as Morton is undecided about running for a second Senate term next year — when he admittedly faces a difficult race.

WHAT HE'S SAYING — Johnson reported to the Senate Republican Campaign Committee, of which he has long been executive director, that everywhere he went on his country - wide trip he found state and local leaders "sore at Nixon."

"The consensus of opinion," says Johnson, "is that Nixon lost the election because he didn't conduct the right kind of campaign. Most of the advantages were on his side, and he should have won easily. But these leaders claim he wouldn't take their advice, and in many instances they couldn't even get to him.

"Time and again I was bluntly told that Nixon is not considered the party's titular leader. Also his only chance for a comeback in 1964 is to be elected Governor of California next year, and this obviously confronts him with a tough dilemma.

"If he runs for Governor, he will have to promise to serve the full four - year term. And he'll have to give that assurance in a very convincing manner. Once he does, the door is wide open for Senator Goldwater, Governor Rockefeller and others to seek the 1964 nomination."

According to Johnson, Nixon is still of a divided mind on the governorship.

Some state leaders told Johnson that in telephone talks with Nixon he indicated he would make no decision until later this year. They quoted Nixon as saying, "There's no need to rush. I'm going to take my time and see how things develop in California and nationally."

POLITICALS — Most sought Republican speaker is Senator Barry Goldwater, followed closely by Governor Rockefeller. Goldwater is accepting as many invitations as his congressional work permits. But Rockefeller is confining his talking to New York until the state legislature concludes. In the meanwhile, he is inviting GOP governors and other state leaders to visit him — which they are doing in a steady and carefully unpublicized stream . . . . Former Governor "Happy" Chandler is at it again. The Kentuckian is again running for that office — in 1963. Wherever he goes, he is passing out buttons reading "A.B.C. in '63." The A.B. stands for Albert B. . . . Representative John Sayler (R.,Pa.) is telling colleagues one reason he voted against increasing the membership of the House Rules Committee is because he has gubernatorial ambitions, and State GOP leaders notified him they were against Speaker Rayburn's proposal to undermine Republican-Southern control of this key committee.

Use Own Blood

Fluid Withdrawn Sometime Before Operation And Put Back In

When a patient had a slight degree of anemia and was rundown, it was not unusual for the doctor to say: "A pint of blood will fix you up." Then the patient would go into the hospital for a blood transfusion, and return home the same day.

I am glad to say that doctors now prescribe blood only when it is definitely needed. We recognize the potential dangers in transfusions — allergic reactions, infectious hepatitis, bacterial infections and other unwanted complications.

In fact, some think that if a patient needs only one pint of blood, he had better not have a transfusion at all.

It is true that blood transfusion is often a life - saver, but extreme care must be used in blood-typing and in cross - matching bloods of donor and recipient.

Lately, it has been suggested that we follow this practice in patients: If you know that you are to undergo operation soon, it would be wise if your doctor removed at least a pint of your own blood a few weeks earlier, and stored it. If, during or after operation a blood transfusion becomes necessary, the doctors could return your own blood. Such practice would lessen the chances of transfusion reactions. In years to come I think this will be a common procedure.

A WAY TO CURE THE BLUES

From Mrs. P. of Detroit, Michigan comes this formula: Here's the best way I know of to cure the blues: "When feeling blue, something for some one else go do. It works every time." I've tried it all my 80 years.

GOOD DOCTOR

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: So much has been written about bad doctors, so little about the good.

I had many complications after a recent operation. In spite of an extensive practice, my doctor was at my bedside three times a day. He was always patient, kind, understanding, informative and gentle. He never brushed aside my questions, no matter how insignificant.

He never minimized my condition, but at the same time, never stood death watch over me. He was very helpful to my husband, which is more important than most people think.

I recovered rapidly, in spite of complications, for several reasons. Two important ones were that I received such wonderful care from this doctor and that I really wanted to get well fast because I believed that this was what he wanted.

Above all, I never felt that he was treating me because eventually I would pay for his summer vacation. This was later to be proved by the mercifully low fee that he charged.

I won't even sign my initials because I am afraid that he would recognize the patient and feel that he owed me something. The situations are so reversed. I owe him so very much and hope that this letter will in some way repay in a very small measure for all that he has done. — A most grateful patient., Springfield, Virginia

Defeated Candidate Must Enjoy Seeing His Plans Being Used

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Richard Nixon, although as ambitious as they come, has named two circumstances under which he prefers never to be President. First, he doesn't want to win, as a certain heavyweight champion once took the title, by writhing on the floor and shouting foul. Second, he doesn't want to come into office by defeating a "Hoover Administration," achieving his success as the result of national depression and suffering.

These high - minded positions are not enough, of themselves, to suggest that Nixon, vacationing in the West Indies, may be reluctantly enjoying his rival's early success. But there is another factor in the equation. It would be strange if Nixon hasn't noticed from a distance that President Kennedy has been succeeding in a large part because he's adopting significant portions of the Nixon program and philosophy.

There must be some satisfaction here for the loser of last years election. After all, if a man doesn't win, he ought to get some sort of wry pleasure in seeing his ideas thrive. Years ago the fine Navy athlete and steeplechase rider, the late Victor Noyes, was enduring a streak of bad racing luck — time after time his mounts would fall on their heads, but they would win the next time out under another rider. Noyes gave it the big laugh, saying:

Nixon could feel this way. Without taking any credit from the President, it's a fact that the following moves by Mr. Kennedy are more Nixon - natured and more recognizably Republican than otherwise:

1. The President's stated intention to keep the Eisenhower budget, even down to its reliance upon dubious revenues from increased postage and rising prosperity in the spring. We shall have to wait and see whether Mr. Kennedy will get what Mr. Eisenhower hoped to get — but the same words could have been written about Nixon if he'd won.

2. The President's reliance upon straight political pressure tactics in the one big fight to date — the battle to break the Dixiecrat authority of the House Rules Committee. The point was in this place not long ago that Nixon's associations were on Capitol Hill rather than in the academies of learning, and that he would have set up a "poli - trust" in contrast to the Kennedy brain - trust of professors. But look what's happened! The professors are still in the trenches. The President's political shock troops have stormed and taken the Southern redoubt. Would Nixon have done it any differently? Almost certainly not.

3. The President's farm plan is still very fuzzy, but if he ends up taking the advice of his task forces, he'll have a plan more Nixon-like than his own. During the campaign, Mr. Kennedy stressed stricter controls and more costly support for crops. Nixon was for taking large land tracts out of crops and putting them into trees and soil-building grasses — the conservation bank concept. This is just about the most constructive proposal which Mr. Kennedy's advisers have brought to him. If he acts upon it, he'll be doing what Nixon intended.

4. The President's instant attention to the question of getting an agreement on nuclear test bans. In the televised campaign debates, Mr. Kennedy said he would, if elected, make one more big try to get an international agreement — and if it failed, would resume underground testing for our side. Priest Killed As Terror In Congo Rises

ELISABETHVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Katanga Province troops striking north through jungle country clashed with well-armed pro-Lumumba forces Friday in a spreading wave of fighting and jungle butchery against civilians.

There was no indication of casualties in the machine gun battle reported at Katoto on the Lualaba River, but anger spawned by the slaying of pro-Communist ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba claimed at least three lives.

A Belgian priest was killed and his body mutilated. A man was beaten to death and another was cut in two by pro-Lumumbists. There were a number of beatings and burning of Catholic missions.

The U.N. Command rushed the widows of Lumumba and his slain aides, Maurice Mpolo and Joseph Okito, to a Malayan troop camp outside Leopoldville. Twenty-three other relations of the slain men accompanied them.

As the tension increased and the East-West Congo argument deepened at the United Nations in New York, a secessionist Katanga Province government spokesman reported a major clash with Lumumbist forces near the advance headquarters of Katanga troops.

The spokesman said a Katanga column forging north met "substantial resistance" from heavily-armed Lumumbists at Katoto, a village across the Lualaba River from the Katanga stronghold of Bukama. The area is 210 miles north northwest of Elisabethville, the Katanga capital.

It was the first report of serious fighting between opposing factors since Lumumbas death was announced by Katanga last Monday.

The firefight was "marked by disciplined bursts of firing from automatic weapons," the Katanga spokesman said, indicating the Lumbists were not Baluba tribesmen but well-trained soldiers.

Pro-Lumumba Balubas are active in northern Katanga but fight as an ill-disciplined rabble.

In the pro-Lumumba town of Bukavu, capital of Kivu Province, pro-Lumumba feeling erupted Thursday into an outburst against priests and nuns at St. Francis Mission.

U. N. officials said Friday the Rev. Renato Devos, a Belgian, was knifed to death, his body carved up and the mission burnt.

Three other priests were injured, ten other persons, including nuns, fled for their lives to a Congolese army camp, the U.N. Command said.

Home On Stubbs Damaged By Fire

Firemen reported that three rooms were extensively damaged, and that the remainder of the house sustained partial damage, mostly smoke, and some water. There were no injuries reported.

Central fire alarm received the call at 6:32 p.m., and trucks 103, 106, ladder tow and car four responded. Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

U. N. Council Gets Congo Peace Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Three Asian-African nations put before the U.N. Security Council Friday their plan for peace in the Congo — including use of force as a last resort if necessary by U.N. forces to stop civil war.

U.S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson told reporters the United States was doubtful about some of the provisions in the resolution but that "It offers a basis for negotiations."

Valerian A. Zorin, the Soviet delegate, declined to say whether he would veto the resolution — an action that might bring an emergency session of the general assembly on the Congo before the regular session resumes in less than three weeks.

Ceylon, Liberia and the United Arab Republic submitted the resolution, described by one African delegate as having the support of all Asian-Africans "from leftist Guinea to pro-Western Tunisia."

In addition to authorizing use of force if needed to halt civil war, the resolution urges:

1. Taking of measures for immediate withdrawal and evacuation from the Congo of all Belgian and foreign mercenaries.

2. Halting by all states of departure of such personnel to the Congo.

3. Immediate and impartial investigation into the death of former Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba.

It urges also the immediate convening of the Congo Parliament and the reorganization of all Congo armed units.

Nowhere in the resolution does the name of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold or Congo President Joseph Kasavubu appear.

FOR OBSCENE CALLS

Monroyan Given Parish Jail Term

A 21-year-old Monroe man faces 18 months in the Ouachita Parish jail on charges of making obscene telephone calls.

Three men drew suspended penitentiary terms on forgery charges.

Another two-year suspended term went to Kenneth Martin, 26, 1009 N. Fourth St., charged with forging a $14 check. He is to repay it plus court costs while on probation.

U.S. May End Hero's Troubles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sgt. Alvin York, the World War I hero from Tennessee, may be approaching the end of his income tax troubles.

For several years the government has claimed that York owes more than $100,000 in back taxes because of royalties he collected from a book and movie based on his life and war exploits.

But York is virtually destitute, ill, and unable to pay.

Friday, Rep. Joe L. Evins, D-Tenn., conferred with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and with Mortimore Caplin, internal revenue commissioner, and afterwards said cautiously that, "I am very hopeful something can be done to clear up Sgt. York's tax troubles."

Three people were slightly injured about 10:30 yesterday morning in a car-truck collision three miles west of Linville.

Mr. and Mrs. Drew Johnson, of route two, Marion, were traveling wset on a parish blacktop road in their 1951 pickup. Just cresting a hill, Johnson attempted to make a left turn onto a nearby dirt road, according to officers, and in doing so, swung into the path of an eastbound 1959 Chevrolet sedan, driven by Clark Mathes, of Farmerville.

Johnson sustained cuts, bruises and an undetermined chest injury in the resulting crash which demolished his truck and did considerable damage to the Mathes vehicle.

Mathes, also, was slightly injured and both were treated briefly at the Marion clinic, then released.

Mrs. Johnson was reported unconscious and in a state of shock after the incident, and was taken to the St. Francis Hospital in Monroe, about 3 p.m. yesterday by Kilpatrick's ambulance.

SERIES OF CRASHES

Vessels Collide In Blinding Fog

LONDON (UPI)—A blinding fog shrouded the English Channel and swirled over wide areas of England and France Friday, causing a series of ship collisions and crippling land and air traffic.

One seaman was killed and eight others, including two Americans, were injred, in collisions in the fogbound channel. Five other men were missing from a capsized tanker.

At least four persons were killed and ten injured in highway accidents.

Seven ships were involved in collisions Friday and one small British admiralty vessel, the C632, ran aground.

Two other ships collided Thursday night, bringing to 10 the number in distress in the past 24 hours. The Finnish freighter Berny sank in the Kattegat off Goteborg, Sweden, Thursday night after colliding in dense fog with the Panamian freighter Tyne. Its crew was rescued.

Two American seamen were injured in a collision between the 11,000-ton Ocean Evelyn and the 10,000 Dutch motorship Amstelhock 20 miles off Foreland. A doctor went out from Dover to the American vessel in response to a radio appeal. The Ocean Evelyn sailed into Dover and the two crewmen were hospitalized.

A German seaman was killed and six other crewmen injured when the 2,603-ton German motorship Bochum was rammed by the 12,000-ton Norwegian tanker Raila five miles off Dover. The tanker's bow was jammed deep into the German ship and both drifted helplessly down the channel locked together. The tanker finally broke loose and headed for Rotterdam. The Bochum managed to reach Dover.

Two British ships, the Beach Hill and the Formality, collided off Dungness. Damage was minor and no injuries were reported.

The C632 went aground nearby.

On the west coast, the British tanker Explorer overturned in the river Severn and drifted onto a sandbank near the Berkley nuclear station. A fisherman spotted the tanker floating upside down near the Sharpness docks Friday morning. A police spokesman said the five-man crew was missing. The tanker was carrying petroleum.

The fog disrupted road, rail and air travel in France and England and caused a number of spectacular highway accidents.

At Saint-Brieuc on the Britanny coast three men were killed when their car sped through a barrier and was hit by a freight train.

A man was killed and his two daughters were injured when his car rammed into the rear of a 10-ton truck on the highway south of Paris Thursday night. The accident caused 10 other cars to pile up and seven persons were injured.

Theft Of Dogs Charged To Man

H. W. Griffin, 37, Route 2, West Monroe, was charged in Fourth District Court Friday with attempted theft of two Doberman Pinscher dogs.

Griffin told officers that he thought he would take the dogs home until he found the owner.

But the owner, M. L. Price, 1310 Nat St., West Monroe, has a sharp-eyed neighbor, and the neighbor told Price that he saw someone in a Griffin Night Patrol car take the two dogs from in front of his house. Griffin operates the patrol.

Griffin pled innocent yesterday and Judge David I. Garrett set the case for trial in April.

Cuban Adrift Eight Days Is Rescued

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Cuban, adrift eight days in the Atlantic ocean, was rescued Friday three miles off Miami Beach.

The Coast Guard identified him as Jesus Rafael Saavedra. He told and interpreter he and another man left Santa Clara Feb. 8 in a single-engine airplane.

After two hours the plane crashed. Saavedra lashed together a raft of parts of the plane. He helplessly watched the other man drown, he said.

He was taken to Jackson Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Saavedra, 23, who said he was a soldier in the army of former Cuban President Fulgencio Batista, related that he and Felix Montano Echeverria, 26, stole the light crop-dusting plane at Santa Clara and took off for freedom.

The survivor said that two hours after takeoff, the plane crashed somewhere off a group of uninhabited islands off Florida's southern tip.

"We held onto the wreck until it began to sink," Saavedra said through an interpreter, "and then I saw nothing was going to stay up. I was weak and dazed. I just had to watch Felix go down — he couldn't swim."

Saavedra said he managed to swim to an island and rest. He found some wreckage and a rusty oil drum, lashed them together and pushed off to sea again. The Coast Guard found him more than 100 miles northeast of the wreck scene — apparently borne northward by the Gulf Stream.

Saavedra said he had been imprisoned several times since Fidel Castro took over Cuba.

"I wanted to escape a long time ago," he said.

Priest Killed As Terror In Congo Rises

ELISABETHVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Katanga Province troops striking north through jungle country clashed with well-armed pro-Lumumba forces Friday in a spreading wave of fighting and jungle butchery against civilians.

There was no indication of casualties in the machine gun battle reported at Katoto on the Lualaba River, but anger spawned by the slaying of pro-Communist ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba claimed at least three lives.

A Belgian priest was killed and his body mutilated. A man was beaten to death and another was cut in two by pro-Lumumbists. There were a number of beatings and burning of Catholic missions.

The U.N. Command rushed the widows of Lumumba and his slain aides, Maurice Mpolo and Joseph Okito, to a Malayan troop camp outside Leopoldville. Twenty-three other relations of the slain men accompanied them.

As the tension increased and the East-West Congo argument deepened at the United Nations in New York, a secessionist Katanga Province government spokesman reported a major clash with Lumumbist forces near the advance headquarters of Katanga troops.

The spokesman said a Katanga column forging north met "substantial resistance" from heavily-armed Lumumbists at Katoto, a village across the Lualaba River from the Katanga stronghold of Bukama. The area is 210 miles north northwest of Elisabethville, the Katanga capital.

It was the first report of serious fighting between opposing factors since Lumumbas death was announced by Katanga last Monday.

The firefight was "marked by disciplined bursts of firing from automatic weapons," the Katanga spokesman said, indicating the Lumumbists were not Baluba tribesmen but well-trained soldiers.

Pro-Lumumba Balubas are active in northern Katanga but fight as an ill-disciplined rabble.

In the pro-Lumumba town of Bukavu, capital of Kivu Province, pro-Lumumba feeling erupted Thursday into an outburst against priests and nuns at St. Francis Mission.

U. N. officials said Friday the Rev. Renato Devos, a Belgian, was knifed to death, his body carved up and the mission burnt.

Three other priests were injured, ten other persons, including nuns, fled for their lives to a Congolese army camp, the U.N. Command said.

Woman Injured In Franklin Parish Accident

WINNSBORO (Special) — Mrs. A. J. Hudson Jr., 31, route three, Monroe, suffered a fractured right foot when the car in which she was riding was involved in an accident at Baskin on Highway 15 around 1:30 p.m. Friday.

According to Cpl. Dave Chase of the state police, who investigated, Mrs. Hudson was in a car being driven south by her husband, who is 36, when a vehicle traveling north driven by Wylie G. Leonard, 52 of Baskin, turned left in front of them.

Mrs. Hudson, her daughter Beth, 5, and Mrs. A. J. Hudson Sr., her husband's mother, 60, 5312 DeSiard, Monroe, all passengers in the same car, were brought to Rogers Clinic in Winnsboro by First National Funeral Home Ambulance.

Mrs. Hudson Sr. and Beth were examined and released, and Mrs. A. J. Hudson Jr. was transferred to St. Francis Hospital in Monroe by First National Funeral Home ambulance.

According to Cpl. Chase, Hudson was charged with exceeding the speed limit by driving 35 miles an hour in a 25 mile an hour zone. Leonard was charged with making an improper turn and causing an accident.

Estimated damages to Hudson's 1961 Falcon sedan were $250, and $500 to Leonard's 1954 model Plymouth sedan.

U.S. May End Hero's Troubles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sgt. Alvin York, the World War I hero from Tennessee, may be approaching the end of his income tax troubles.

For several years the government has claimed that York owes more than $100,000 in back taxes because of royalties he collected from a book and movie based on his life and war exploits.

But York is virtually destitute, ill, and unable to pay.

Friday, Rep. Joe L. Evins, D-Tenn., conferred with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and with Mortimore Caplin, internal revenue commissioner, and afterwards said cautiously that, "I am very hopeful something can be done to clear up Sgt. York's tax troubles."

3 Persons Hurt In Car-Truck Collision Friday

Three people were slightly injured about 10:30 yesterday morning in a car-truck collision three miles west of Linville.

Mr. and Mrs. Drew Johnson, of route two, Marion, were traveling wset on a parish blacktop road in their 1951 pickup. Just cresting a hill, Johnson attempted to make a left turn onto a nearby dirt road, according to officers, and in doing so, swung into the path of an eastbound 1959 Chevrolet sedan, driven by Clark Mathes, of Farmerville.

Johnson sustained cuts, bruises and an undetermined chest injury in the resulting crash which demolished his truck and did considerable damage to the Mathes vehicle.

Mathes, also, was slightly injured and both were treated briefly at the Marion clinic, then released.

Mrs. Johnson was reported unconscious and in a state of shock after the incident, and was taken to the St. Francis Hospital in Monroe, about 3 p.m. yesterday by Kilpatrick's ambulance.

SERIES OF CRASHES

Vessels Collide In Blinding Fog

LONDON (UPI)—A blinding fog shrouded the English Channel and swirled over wide areas of England and France Friday, causing a series of ship collisions and crippling land and air traffic.

One seaman was killed and eight others, including two Americans, were injred, in collisions in the fogbound channel. Five other men were missing from a capsized tanker.

At least four persons were killed and ten injured in highway accidents.

Seven ships were involved in collisions Friday and one small British admiralty vessel, the C632, ran aground.

Two other ships collided Thursday night, bringing to 10 the number in distress in the past 24 hours. The Finnish freighter Berny sank in the Kattegat off Goteborg, Sweden, Thursday night after colliding in dense fog with the Panamian freighter Tyne. Its crew was rescued.

Two American seamen were injured in a collision between the 11,000-ton Ocean Evelyn and the 10,000 Dutch motorship Amstelhock 20 miles off Foreland. A doctor went out from Dover to the American vessel in response to a radio appeal. The Ocean Evelyn sailed into Dover and the two crewmen were hospitalized.

A German seaman was killed and six other crewmen injured when the 2,603-ton German motorship Bochum was rammed by the 12,000-ton Norwegian tanker Raila five miles off Dover. The tanker's bow was jammed deep into the German ship and both drifted helplessly down the channel locked together. The tanker finally broke loose and headed for Rotterdam. The Bochum managed to reach Dover.

Two British ships, the Beach Hill and the Formality, collided off Dungness. Damage was minor and no injuries were reported. The C632 went aground nearby.

On the west coast, the British tanker Explorer overturned in the river Severn and drifted onto a sandbank near the Berkley nuclear station. A fisherman spotted the tanker floating upside down near the Sharpness docks Friday morning. A police spokesman said the five-man crew was missing. The tanker was carrying petroleum.

The fog disrupted road, rail and air travel in France and England and caused a number of spectacular highway accidents.

At Saint-Brieuc on the Britanny coast three men were killed when their car sped through a barrier and was hit by a freight train.

A man was killed and his two daughters were injured when his car rammed into the rear of a 10-ton truck on the highway south of Paris Thursday night. The accident caused 10 other cars to pile up and seven persons were injured.

Theft Of Dogs Charged To Man

H. W. Griffin, 37, Route 2, West Monroe, was charged in Fourth District Court Friday with attempted theft of two Doberman Pinscher dogs.

Griffin told officers that he thought he would take the dogs home until he found the owner.

But the owner, M. L. Price, 1310 Nat St., West Monroe, has a sharp-eyed neighbor, and the neighbor told Price that he saw someone in a Griffin Night Patrol car take the two dogs from in front of his house. Griffin operates the patrol.

Griffin pled innocent yesterday and Judge David I. Garrett set the case for trial in April.

Cuban Adrift Eight Days Is Rescued

The Coast Guard identified him as Jesus Rafael Saavedra. He told and interpreter he and another man left Santa Clara Feb. 8 in a single-engine airplane.

After two hours the plane crashed. Saavedra lashed together a raft of parts of the plane. He helplessly watched the other man drown, he said.

He was taken to Jackson Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Saavedra, 23, who said he was a soldier in the army of former Cuban President Fulgencio Batista, related that he and Felix Montano Echeverria, 26, stole the light crop-dusting plane at Santa Clara and took off for freedom.

The survivor said that two hours after takeoff, the plane crashed somewhere off a group of uninhabited islands off Florida's southern tip.

"We held onto the wreck until it began to sink," Saavedra said through an interpreter, "and then I saw nothing was going to stay up. I was weak and dazed. I just had to watch Felix go down — he couldn't swim."

Saavedra said he managed to swim to an island and rest. He found some wreckage and a rusty oil drum, lashed them together and pushed off to sea again. The Coast Guard found him more than 100 miles northeast of the wreck scene — apparently borne northward by the Gulf Stream.

Saavedra said he had been imprisoned several times since Fidel Castro took over Cuba.

"I wanted to escape a long time ago," he said.

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Local newshounds gave up too easily on the Big Mystery of the robbery of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lawford, which they refused to discuss with the New York police. The big clue: Who were the visitors to the Lawford's suite in the hours immediately preceding the crime? The big question: Is Police Commissioner Kennedy going to take the hint and drop the whole thing, or is he going to investigate the crime as he would if ordinary citizens were involved? . . . Adding to Marilyn Monroe's woes and "emotional exhaustion" is Yves Montand's slowness in seeking a divorce from Simone Signoret. Marilyn got her divorce from Arthur Miller in short order, but Yves seems all tied up in picture-making and not too concerned over the problems of his former leading lady. Meanwhile, in France, some of Mme. Signoret's friends are spreading the word that she's "playing it cool" with her fascinating husband; they hint that he'd like to get back in her good graces but she's not always home when he calls on the overseas telephone . . . Look for more big headlines on narcotics and gambling to break out of New York. Many a midtown haunt is being watched for suspicious characters and known criminals, and more than one bistro telephone is hotter than the temperature in Africa. Some proprietors have asked gamblers to stay off their premises until the hour after the racetracks close.

Apparently most members of the International Set in St. Moritz are on Edmund Purdon's side and unsympathetic to his estranged wife, Alice. She's not being invited to the best parties by the most chic people . . . Don Costa, the expert music arranger, broke three ribs in an auto accident on the way upstate for some skiing. (Just couldn't wait to get to the slopes, eh?) . . . If you don't read the movie trade papers you just don't know how bitter the feud is between Darryl Zanuck and John Wayne. Darryl resents actors muscling into the producing ranks, said so quite bluntly to a Hollywood columnist, and provoked a spate of indignant words from "Duke," who pointed out that many a successful producer, director and writer had once been an actor . . . Daphne Weston will make Douglas Fairbanks Jr. a grandpa in August . . . Some of Ethel Waters' friends are hoping she'll try for a comeback, and are willing to put up the money to back her efforts.

Suzanne Pleshette has dropped 10 pounds since she took over the role of Annie Sullivan in "The Miracle Worker." She now weighs in at an even 100 pounds for those strenuous stage fights with Patty Duke . . . Fabian, the teenage idol, plans studying for college credits in the Fall. He wants to major in business management . . . Douglas Davis, who recently made news as a contender for Edith Piaf's affections, is quite a success with his paintings, too. His current exhibition of portraits of French celebrities is drawing an elegant crowd to the Meo Galerie on the Left Bank . . . The attractive girl with Peter Duchin at the Hob Nob the other night was Anne Karin, a model . . . Tuesday Weld's crowd is abuzz with the rumor that her heart belongs to an "older man" — a novelist . . . Easter displays this Spring should remind window shoppers of the White House porch. Merchants all over the country are ordering mannequins that look like President Kennedy and our beautiful First Lady.

The March issue of Good Housekeeping willl feature an article on "The Private Demons of Ava Gardner" by Rona Jaffe which not only dissects the actress's oft-dissected problems, but reveals Miss Jaffe's low opinion of the Fourth Estate. To quote her:

"As a novelist I would not even attempt to write a novel with Ava Gardner as the main character. She is too unbelievable. So much bigger than life, she literally becomes, in the sense of the old cliche, stranger than fiction. Lonely, driven, restless, she's an exile from her own country and many more of the endless number of places she has visited. Three times divorced, childless despite an often repeated wish for motherhood, she finds no solace in the movie work she says means nothing to her. She resents her fame; she rages when goaded by the press, is terrified by her public, cannot sleep till long past dawn."

But, presumably, she doesn't mind being goaded by novelists.

Shirley MacLaine's scenes in "All in a Night's Work," in which she wears nothing but a towel, probably will do as much for terry cloth as Brigitte Bardot did—especially because Shirley's towel is yanked off her when it's caught in the door of a descending elevator. (Probably the first time Shirley was ever shot out of a Cannon.) . . . Has any sports writer asked Ingemar Johansson whatever became of the fiancee he was supposed to marry last Autumn?

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 2-18

IN MASON-DIXON GAMES

Club Prepares For New Marks

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Kentuckiana Cinder Club won't be caught short Saturday night if indoor records are set during the Mason-Dixon Games.

The club has special record trophies on hand for eight events. "We'll be very disappointed if we have this hardware left on our hands," said Charles Fischer, top-phia chairman.

He doesn't expect that to happen because the meet features such stars as Wilma Rudolph, Ralph Boston and Ernie Cunliffe.

Cunliffe, a miler, said the setup is made to order for a record. "With fewer turns and more straightaway than other tracks, the situation looks very favorable," he added.

Cunliffe will be challenged by Deacon Jones, the top Negro distance runner in America. Irishman Ron Delany holds the indoor mark of 4:01.4, which is Cunliffe's best time is 4:06.4.

Miss Rudolph, winner of three gold medals at the Olympics, will be shooting for a record that has stood since 1935 when Stella Walsh was clocked at 8.2 seconds for the 70-yard dash.

Appearing with Miss Rudolph will be another Tennessee State star, Ralph Boston. He holds the Olympic broad jump record and last month cracked the indoor mark with a leap of 25 feet, 10 inches.

Jumping against him will be his Olympic teammates, Bo Roberson and Anthony Watson, meeting for the first time since the Games were held last summer.

Al Lawrence, the U.S. cross-country champion for the past two years, will try to regain the 2-mile record he held until it was taken away recently by New Zealander Murray Halberg. Halberg sped the distance in 8:34.4 compared with Lawrence's old time of 8:46.1.

The 2-mile relay team of Buffalo, N.Y., State College comes here with the prospect of setting a record in that event. The time of 7:32.8 was set by Manhattan at the Millrose Games two weeks ago in New York.

STERLINGTON, La. (Special) — West Monroe's Rebels ran through Sterlington in three games last night, with the varsity, junior varsity and girls crews all taking victories.

Sterlington managed to keep the Rebs from running away with it early in each of the quarters, but L. V. Norris' team put on drives to close out each period and move too far ahead of the hosts.

The victory set West Monroe's overall slate to 9-18. The rebounding of Charles Taylor, Jerry Chapman, Charles Dykes and Rick Fields wore down Sterlington, as the Rebs jumped out ahead 16-4 in the first period, made it 29-18 at the half and held a 46-28 advantage going into the final period.

Detroit Scrap

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Phil Cavarretta's Black Sox won the first intrasquad game at the Detroit Tigers' rookie training camp 6-2 Friday, but the outstanding performer was pitcher Gordon Seyfried of Don Heffner's Striped Sox.

There was no spectacular hitting in the six-inning game, which will be repeated Sunday with veteran pitchers Ray Narleski and Paul Foytack working for different teams.

The Striped Sox committed two errors and all the Black Sox' runs were unearned. The Black Sox made one error.

Shortstop Dick McAuliffe singled home two Black Sox runs. So did Bill Roman. Legrant Scott Jr., son of a Tiger scout, singled with the bases loaded to score both Striped Sox runs.

Hughes Chosen Vidalia Little Boys President

VIDALIA, La. (Special) — Player agent Charles Lane was the only member of the Vidalia Little Boys Baseball League officers to retain his office for the oncoming season.

The other officers elected were president Conway Hughes, vice-president J. W. Roberts, treasurer Louis Evans and secretary Travis Gore.

All five of the selections were unanimous at the league's initial meeting of the 1961 season.

The group decided to consider the proposal to split the new talent up into two leagues this season with the 10 through 12-year-old players in the "Major Leagues" and the eight and nine-year-olds in a "Minor League."

Serving well during the 1960 season of the Vidalia LBB league that stepped down from their posts after the meeting were president John R. Bradley, vice-president W. L. Sullivan, treasurer R. L. Bullard, and secretary Bill Chisholm.

CLOSE LAST HALF

Bastrop Edges Irish Five, 54-52

BASTROP, La. (Special) — Bastrop's Rams, behind the steady scoring of Jeff Seligman, Allen Bates and George Madison, joined the select few conquerors of St. Matthew's High last night with a 54-52 victory over the Irish.

The loss gave St. Matthew's a 40-6 overall record going into the state Class A playoffs. Buddy Embannato led the Irish in scoring with 21 points and big John Varino added 19 to the losers' side.

The Rams, with Seligman and Madison hitting well from outside pushed into a 20-12 first quarter advantage, but St. Matthew's came alive in the second quarter, outscoring the Rams 15-6, to grab a 27-26 lead at intermission.

The third quarter told the story, with the Rams netting 13 points and holding the Irish to 9. Leading by 39-36 going into the last quarter, Bastrop had to keep cool in the nip and tuck final frame to claim the triumph. The Irish outscored the hosts by 16-15 in the last quarter, but it wasn't enough to close the narrow gap.

In a junior varsity game the Rams handed St. Matthew's a 43-40 setback. Top men in the Irish attack were Joe Clements with 16 points and Fontana, with 11. Warren was Bastrop's big man, scoring 16 points.

In the varsity game St. Matthew's popped in 19 field goals to 16 for the Rams but couldn't hold a lead in the closing minutes. The Irish will play Tuesday night's Many - Coushatta loser in a bi-district game.

3 Important Tilts Set For SEC Leaders

Three games of considerable bearing on the Southeastern Conference championship will occur Saturday night when league leading Mississippi State invades Florida, Louisiana State goes to Auburn and Tenessee to Vanderbilt as part of a five game basket ball program.

Of lesser significance are the games featuring Mississippi at Georgia and Tulane at Alabama since these four combatants are in the second division. Kentucky and Georgia Tech aren't scheduled.

Mississippi State, beaten Monday night by Kentucky, still leads the SEC by two full games with an 8-1 record, but the Maroons play all of their remaining five league games on the road. A couple of slips, and the race could go down to the final games March 4 still undecided.

Vanderbilt, Florida and LSU are deadlocked for second place with 6-3 records. If the deadlock still exists Sunday morning it will mean that Mississippi State is ahead by only one game.

Florida proved last Monday it can win on the road against a good team when the Gators handed Auburn an 18-point setback, worst defeat of the season for the defending champion Tigers. Now the Gators are back in Gainesville, where they haven't lost all season, and all of this adds up to bad news for Mississippi State which must also battle a phychological letdown following the loss to Kentucky.

Even if State hurdles Florida, it must still keep winning on strange courts against wary opponents like Georgia, LSU, Tulane and Ole Miss.

Vandy, winner by two points over Tennessee at Knoxville, will be favored to beat the Vols again. Next up, however, for the Commodores is a Tuesday night date with Kentucky at Lexington. These encounters have added significance because even if Mississippi State wins the title, the Maroons won't play in the postseason NCAA tournament because of the racial situation. The runnerup will get the trip, and should Vandy and Kentucky tie for second place—a rea possibility—they would stage a playoff at a neutral site.

After the Tennessee and Kentucky games, Vanderbilt closes season at home against Florida, Georgia and Georgia Tech. Kentucky has road games with Auburn, Alabama and Tulane and home meetings with Mississippi State and Mississippi.

Roger Kaiser of Georgia Tech continues for the second year in a row to set the individual scoring pace with a 23.5 average after 22 games. Next comes Jerry Graves, like Kaiser a 1959-60 all-conference player. The Mississippi State ace has a 21.5 average followed by Tulane sophomore Jim Kerwin with a 20.9 figure.

TIE CINCHED

Ouachita Taken 67-52 By Byrd

SHREVEPORT, La. (Special) — Ouachita made its bid in the spoilers role last night in their final season frey but couldn't quite turn the trick as Byrd's 1-AAA leading Yellow Jackets, accustomed to the home course, outshot them 67-52 and cinched at least a tie for first place.

Actually Ouachita never got started good. Roger Briley stepped bravely to the firing line for Byrd in the first 12 minutes hitting five of five to give the Jackets a safe lead.

Byrd led 16-10 after one, dropped slightly to 28-25 at rest-time but poured in 19 and 20 markers in the third and final stanzas respectively.

For Ouachita it was big Carl Guinn in the fore. The tall man hit 20 points, which was tops for the Lions, and several times times caught the Jackets flat-footed under the hoop. Tom Beaube was second with 15 and Roger Briley copped 14 for the Shreveport quintet.

Byrd and Ouachita both made 24 from the field but the Jackets expended less effort, shooting only 54 times compared to 63 Lion slings.

And the story really had its telling at the charity line where the home courters got 19 to Ouachita's measly 4. Byrd fouled eight times and Ouachita 14.

U.S. To Revise Cost Of Living Index Methods

The government wants to know. So it's going to revise the make-up of the cost of living index, 'ast updated in 1950.

A lot of things—tranquilizers, for instance—have become noteworthy items in the American economy since then.

And changing times have raised many other questions, such as whether the price of hamburger should figure in the compilation.

The latest monthly index issued by the government was last December's 127.5—meaning that prices of items listed were 27.5 per cent over what they werein the 1947-1949 period, which is the 100 base.

The Labor Department plans a comprehensive survey of consumer spending habits because it believes the reporting value of some of the hundreds of items that figure in the index may be outmoded.

The results will be of special interest to the 4½ million workers covered by union contracts containing escalator clauses under which wages fluctuate on the basis of the cost of living figures. This angle is one of the principal reasons for the survey of the spending pattern of salaried families that will start in the New York metropolitan area next Monday.

The department plans to survey 200 families this year and 325 next year in New York City and the suburban counties of Nassau, Suffolk, Westchester and Rockland. The study will include families with wages of $2,000 to $18,000 a year. The bulk probably will be in the $4,500-$7,500 range. Professional persons, the self-employed and farmers will not be surveyed.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

HOW TUBAL PREGNANCY OCCURS

Most pregnancies are normal in that the fertilized ovum settles in the uterus, where it belongs. But one out of 250 takes root in the tube that leads to the uterus. After a few weeks of growth and development the egg becomes too large for the tube and serious internal bleeding occurs when the passageway ruptures.

One in 250 may not sound impressive but, in terms of our population, amounts to more than 21,000 cases annually. In the majority of these women, something inside the tube traps the fertilized ovum on its way to the uterus. The lining may be roughened, wrinkled, scarred, or narrowed as a result of a previous infection, injury, or a developmental disturbance. Tubal pregnancies usually occur in women between 25 and 35 years of age; one in four is past 35.

Tubal pregnancy is suspected whenever a woman misses a period and develops pelvic pain, spotting, or profuse bleeding approximately 2 weeks later. At this time the snared fertilized ovum is having growing pains and the tube is complaining because it is overstretched.

These warnings do not always occur in tubal pregnancy. Symptoms are variable until the tube is about to rupture. Agonizing pain then develops and the woman may go into shock from hemorrhage.

Immediate hospitalization is recommended because there is danger of a fatal hemorrhage. The nature of the emergency is better appreciated when we realize that every twelfth maternal death in Chicago, and every sixteenth in New York is due to ectopic pregnancy.

Since both tubes are likely to be involved, a woman who has had an ectopic pregnancy is 10 times more likely to have a second than are those who never had one before.

COLON OUTPOCKETS

E. E. L. K. writes: What causes diverticulas to form in the colon?

REPLY

No one knows why these tiny pockets develop in the wall of the intestine. They are found frequently in areas where the blood vessel pierces the wall. This suggests that diverticulas are protrusions through weakened spots in the colon.

FISH SKIN

B. W. writes: What is ichthyosis?

REPLY

A congenital condition in which the body is covered with thickened, wrinkled skin resembling fish scales. It is better in summer and worse in winter. Dryness and itching are marked and soap aggravates these symptoms.

ROTATING STOMACH

M. E. writes: After drinking any kind of liquid, my innards make a noise like a washing machine turning over and over. What the dickens causes such a racket?

REPLY

The liquids churning about in the stomach, as they do in the washing machine — minus the slips and shirts.

LEAVE POUCH ALONE

M. A. writes: Need anything be done about a diverticulum in tha esophagus that causes no symptoms?

REPLY

No. Surgery is advised only when the pocket leads to regurgitation or difficulty in swallowing.

PSORIASIS NOT CONTAGIOUS

C. G. writes: Is it safe to use the same swimming pool as a person who has psoriasis?

REPLY

Yes. And for the millionth time —psoriasis is not contagious.

Winnsboro Holds Awards Banquet

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) — Outstanding Wildcat football players and members of the girls' basketball team were presented trophies at the annual Winnsboro High School Quarterback Club's banquet at the school cafteria last night.

Members of the boys' basketball team were also guests at the banquet but Coach John Pickett said that the basketball awards would not be made until playing is completed for this season. Terry Leads Players' Meet On 149 Score

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The handsome right - hander came back strong after boegying the first four holes. He played 1-under-par golf from then on through the 16th hole, bogeying the 17th and 18th.

Paul Richards, Baltimore manavger; Gene Mauch, Philadelphia pilot, and Peanuts Lowrey, Phillies coach, tied for second place, each with 150. Richards shot the best round of the day among the active major leaguers, coming in with a 3-over-par 73. Mauch had a 74 and Lowrey had a 76 following his opening round of 74.

Alvin Dark, San Francisco Giants manager, had a 79 and wound up in a tie with Jim Hearn, another former Philadelphia pitcher with a 153. Hearn, defending champion, came in with a 74.

"My iron helped me to get birdies on the 11th, 13th and 15th holes," Terry said. He has been playing golf only two years.

Lowrey, tourney favorite, played despite a slight case of the flu. He said he had to take several aspirins to keep going.

Skating Union In Final Say On Skating Tourney

DAVOS, Switzerland (AP)—The International Skating Union Friday turned down a new request from Canada and declared its decision to cancel the World Figure Skating Championship is final.

The championships, scheduled for Prague, Czechoslovakia, next week, were canceled following the deaths of the entire 18-member U.S. team Wednesday in a plane crash near Brussels.

In Prague Friday night, the Czech organizing committee, which had requested the skating union Thursday to reconsider its decision, said it has received assurance from skating union officials that they will "see to it that the 1962 world figure skating championship are held in Czechoslovakia." The information came from Ceteka, the official Czech news agency.

The Canadian Figure Skating Association, boasting three North American champion entrants, made its request Friday but was told by trans-Atlantic telephone that it would be impossible to reconsider the decision to cancel. The Canadian team already is in Prague.

Skowran Signs Contract After Salary Raise

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Bill Skowron, muscular New York Yankee first baseman, agreed to terms for 1961 Friday after a brief conference with Roy Hamey, general manager, who said the slugger got a "very substantial raise.

Skowron, 30, reportedly received $27,000 last year. Although the Yanks never announce salaries, informed guessers were saying the Moose would get about $37,500 for the coming season.

Signing of Skowron, who had turned back earlier contracts, was the 29th announced by the Yankees. The four men not signed are Tony Kubek, Hector Lopez, Fritzie Brickell and Leroy Thomas.

Skowron, who is prone to injuries, played 146 games for the Yanks last season as compared with 74 the year before. He had one of his best years, hitting .309, driving in 91 runs and smashing 26 home runs. He batted .375, hit two homers and drove in six runs in the World Series.

Hamey learned Skowron was in Miami and called him in for a bargaining session.

Don Faurot, director of athletics, said a recheck of the grades of Jim Shepard showed he was ineligible.

Herbert And Sullivan Share Tucson Open Lead

TUCSON, Ariz. — PGA champion Jay Hebert and rookie Buddy Sullivan shared the 36-hole lead in the $20,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament Friday with 9-under-par scores of 131.

Hebert's best putting of the year gave him a 4-under 66 to go with his first round effort of 65 for the par 70, 6,464-yard El Rio Golf and Country Club course.

Sullivan built his game around booming tee shots and finished with an eagle 3 for a 66-65 and the best 36-hole total of his short pro career. This was the first time he had ever held or shared the lead in a PGA tourney.

Veterans Tommy Bolt and Marty Furgol and newcomer Bob Wagner were 7-under-par at 133.

Paul McGuire, who tied a course record with an 8-under-par 28 on the first nine, had a 63 for the day and was in a three-way tie with Charles Sifford, perennial national Negro champ, and Dave Hill at 135.

Gary Player, leading money winner whose wife had a baby son in Johannesburg, South Africa Friday, was grouped with five other golfers at 136. The others were Harold Kneece, Bobby Nichols, Jackie Cupit, Tommy Aaron, and Art Wall Jr.

Frank Wharton, who took the first round lead with a 64 by thriving on Thursday's blustery weather, scored a 73 Friday for a total of 137.

"The wind was tricky today because it kept on blowing and then stopping," Hebert said. "I putted splendidly. I knew they were going in before I hit them."

Hebert came to the last hole needing a birdie for the undisputed lead. His second shot hit a tree and his approach went over the green by a foot. His putt was a foot short. Hebert dropped six birdies but went over par on No. 2 and No. 11.

Sullivan has hit 33 of 36 greens he has played in the tournament. His only bogey in two rounds came on the 12th hole Friday when he underclubbed and was short of the green.

So far the most money he has ever won was $25,000 of the $50,000 Joe Campbell made by sinking a hole-in-one at Palm Springs last year. The two had agreed in advance to split the pot if either got an ace.

Bolt, who has won this event twice, said, "I think I played better golf than my score of 64 indicates, but I'm not complaining. The putter I borrowed this morning from my 14-month-old son turned out to be a mighty useful club. I sank a couple of 18 and 20-footers." He had 27 putts for the 18 holes.

Dave Marr gave Bolt's baby the putter to hold while his picture was being taken Thursday. The baby kept the club until his pop shoved it in his bag this morning.

The 24-year-old Boynton was married two months ago and is on his honeymoon. Never before had he been so high in a PGA event after 36 holes.

The field was cut to the low 60 pros and ties after Friday's round. The cutoff score was 142.

The leaders:

Buddy Sullivan	66-65—131
Jay Hebert	65-66—131

Judge Working On Speedy Team

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—Give him eight more "speedy" players and he will have one of the best football teams in the nation, says Madison County Court Judge William H. Grubbs.

During recent weeks, the judge said, he has "signed" Dick LeBeau of the Detroit Lions, Jim Marshall of the Cleveland Browns and Tom Matte, Baltimore Colts draftee.

The three ex-Ohio State players paid fines or forfeited bond after being picked up by the State Highway Patrol for speeding, the judge said.

4-MAN SLEDDING

Monti Rated Only Even Odds To Keep World Title

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP)—Eugenio Monti, the speed-loving, icy-nerved little Italian Friday was rated no better than even to win the four-man world bobsled championship and achieve his second consecutive boblsed grand-slam.

Monti, who last weekend won the two - man world crown and both last year, is expected to get his stiffest competition from America's Stan Benham, German's Franz Schelle and Sergio Zzardini, his equally diminutive teammate, in the races which open Saturday and close Sunday afternoon.

Two heats will be run each day. Competition starts at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday and at 10 a.m. on Sunday.

One of the closest and most exciting races ever are in prospect before the winner is crowned. Not only are the skills of the quartet a factor, but the luck of the draw has suddenly added extra suspense to the whole works.

Schelle, Monti and Benham all follow each other in the first and third heats, while Schelle and Monti are back-to-back in the second and fourth heats. Benham opens the second and closes the fourth.

To make it more even, the trio will have course paths blazed by two darkhorses, Austria's Paul Aste and Switzerland's Max Angst who precede them in all but the final heat.

Canada's No. 1. sled was scratched after the draw when driver Vic Emery was forbidden to leave the hospital until Sunday. He has a broken nose. Lamont Gordon will be the only entry for his country.

All the rest of the participants were ready to go after readying their sleds Friday. No practice runs were permitted as the course was being prepared.

It will not be the same one that helped the two-man competitors to lightning-fast times last weekend. Alterations in tricky zig-zag curve, the addition of more snow in the run and the possibility of more snow all are figured to make Benham's record a hard one to top, and also keep down the accident rate.

Benham's mark of 1:08.88 was bettered four times in practice but only twice in three days after the course was doctored a bit.

The Lake Placid Olympian's experience over the course has to mark him among the top contenders. However, he has been using a borrowed sled and is just about getting the feel of it.

Gerry Tennant, Princeton, W. Va., Gary Sheffield, Lake Placid, and Chuck Pandolph, Saranac Lake, N. Y., will be his crew. Sheffield and Tennant finished second in the two-man competition.

Another U.S. sled, driven by Larry McKillop, is also rated a darkhorse. McKillop, along with Schelle and Zardini, were the most steady drivers during practice.

The winner will be decided on the lowest cumulative time for the four heats, and probably won't be actually known until after the final sled—Benham's—is down on Sunday.

Champs Start Title Defense In Wisconsin

MIWAUKEE (AP)—Both senior titlists will defend their national indoor speed skating crowns this weekend at the Wisconsin State Fair Park Coliseum, but there's more trouble brewing for Terry McDermott than for Mary Novak.

McDermott served notice he was ready a few weeks ago at St. Paul when he set a 200-yard outdoor record. But in addition to the bids from his colleagues on the 1960 U.S. Olympic squad, he'll be up against three other major contenders—Ken Macauley, an Air Force Academy cadet from Colorado Springs; Gary Goldbeck, runner-up last week in the Land of Lincoln meet at Champaign, Ill., and Walter Renshaw of Detroit.

Dennis Stanford and Tom McPartlin of St. Louis head up the intermediate entries; Jerry Freisinger of Englewood, N.J., and Bill Freeman of Detroit the juniors; Karl Van Mill of St. Louis and Ray Novak of Chicago the juveniles and Larry Carlson of Chicago and Don Shires of Detroit the midgets.

Loretta Chapman of Detroit and Diane White and Beverly Gorton of St. Paul are among top intermediate girl contenders; Mary Meyers of St. Paul and Kathleen Sullivan of Cheboygan, Mich., the juniors; Connie Espander of Colorado Springs and Holly Blatchford, Northbrook, Ill., the juveniles and Linda Boyer, St. Louis midgets.

Qualifying heats get underway Saturday afternoon and the 30 final events Saturday night and Sunday afternoon. The meet is the first national indoor championship to be held in Milwaukee.

IN MASON-DIXON GAMES

Club Prepares For New Marks

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Kentuckiana Cinder Club won't be caught short Saturday night if indoor records are set during the Mason-Dixon Games.

The club has special record trophies on hand for eight events. "We'll be very disappointed if we have this hardware left on our hands," said Charles Fischer, tophia chairman.

He doesn't expect that to happen because the meet features such stars as Wilma Rudolph, Ralph Boston and Ernie Cunliffe.

Cunliffe, a miler, said the setup is made to order for a record. "With fewer turns and more straightaway than other tracks, the situation looks very favorable," he added.

Cunliffe will be challenged by Deacon Jones, the top Negro distance runner in America. Irishman Ron Delany holds the indoor mark of 4:01.4, while Cunliffe's best time is 4:06.4.

Miss Rudolph, winner of three gold medals at the Olympics, will be shooting for a record that has stood since 1935 when Stella Walsh was clocked at 8.2 seconds for the 70-yard dash.

Appearing with Miss Rudolph will be another Tennessee State star, Ralph Boston. He holds the Olympic broad jump record and last month cracked the indoor mark with a leap of 25 feet, 10 inches.

Jumping against him will be his Olympic teammates, Bo Roberson and Anthony Watson, meeting for the first time since the Games were held last summer.

Al Lawrence, the U.S. cross-country champion for the past two years, will try to regain the 2-mile record he held until it was taken away recently by New Zealander Murray Halberg. Halberg stepped the distance in 8:34.4 compared with Lawrence's old time of 8:46.1.

The 2-mile relay team of Buffalo, N.Y., State College comes here with the prospect of setting a record in that event. The time of 7:32.8 was set by Manhattan at the Millrose Games two weeks ago in New York.

Rebels Bang Sterlington Cagers, 63-46

STERLINGTON, La. (Special) — West Monroe's Rebels ran through Sterlington in three games last night, with the varsity, junior varsity and girls crews all taking victories.

Oliver Schulz hit 20 points and Charles Dykes added 18 as the Rebels outdistanced Sterlington's varsity boys, 63-46. Top man in the Sterlington attack was White, who notched 18 markers, followed by Griffin with 10.

Sterlington managed to keep the Rebs from running away with it early in each of the quarters, but L. V. Norris' team put on drives to close out each period and move too far ahead of the hosts.

The victory set West Monroe's overall slate to 9-18. The rebounding of Charles Taylor, Jerry Chapman, Charles Dykes and Rick Fields wore down Sterlington, as the Rebs jumped out ahead 16-4 in the first period, made it 29-18 at the half and held a 46-28 advantage going into the final period.

In the girls' game West Monroe was without the services of high-scoring Nancy Smith and Sterlington played without two starting guards. The Rebs won by 30-19. Glenda Thrasher led the winners with 30 points and Cherry Williams was high for the losers with 9.

In a junior - varsity tilt the Rebs came out on top by a 48-36 margin in the wide open affair. Hudnell hit 14 points for the Rebs and Fuller got 11 for the losers.

VIDLAIA, La. (Special) —Player agent Charles Lane was the only member of the Vidalia Little Boys Baseball League officers to retain his office for the oncoming season.

The other officers elected were president Conway Hughes, vice-president J. W. Roberts, treasurer Louis Evans and secretary Travis Gore.

All five of the selections were unanimous at the league's initial meeting of the 1961 season.

The group decided to consider the proposal to split the new talent up into two leagues this season with the 10 through 12-year-old players in the "Major Leagues" and the eight and nine-year-olds in a "Minor League."

Serving well during the 1960 season of the Vidalia LBB league that stepped down from their posts after the meeting were president John R. Bradley, vice-president W. L. Sullivan, treasurer R. L. Bullard, and secretary Bill Chisholm.

CLOSE LAST HALF

Bastrop Edges Irish Five, 54-52

BASTROP, La. (Special) — Bastrop's Rams, behind the steady scoring of Jeff Seligman, Allen Bates and George Madison, joined the select few conquerers of St. Matthew's High last night with a 54-52 victory over the Irish.

The loss gave St. Matthew's a 40-6 overall record going into the state Class A playoffs. Buddy Embannato led the Irish in scoring with 21 points and big John Varino added 19 to the losers' side.

The Rams, with Seligman and Madison hitting well from outside pushed into a 20-12 first quarter advantage, but St. Matthew's came alive in the second quarter, outscoring the Rams 15-6, to grab a 27-26 lead at intermission.

The third quarter told the story, with the Rams netting 13 points and holding the Irish to 9. Leading by 39-36 going into the last quarter, Bastrop had to keep cool in the nip and tuck final frame to claim the triumph. The Irish outscored the hosts by 16-15 in the last quarter, but it wasn't enough to close the narrow gap.

In a junior varsity game the Rams handed St. Matthew's a 43-40 setback. Top men in the Irish attack were Joe Clements with 16 points and Fontana, with 11. Warren was Bastrop's big man, scoring 16 points.

In the varsity game St. Matthew's popped in 19 field goals to 16 for the Rams but couldn't hold a lead in the closing minutes. The Irish will play Tuesday night's Many - Coushatta loser in a bi-district game.

3 Important Tilts Set For SEC Leaders

Three games of considerable bearing on the Southeastern Conference championship will occur Saturday night when league leading Mississippi State invades Florida, Louisiana State goes to Auburn and Tenessee to Vanderbilt as part of a five game basket ball program.

Of lesser significance are the games featuring Mississippi at Georgia and Tulane at Alabama since these four combatants are in the second division. Kentucky and Georgia Tech aren't scheduled.

Mississippi State, beaten Monday night by Kentucky, still leads the SEC by two full games with an 8-1 record, but the Maroons play all of their remaining five league games on the road. A couple of slips, and the race could go down to the final games March 4 still undecided.

Vanderbilt, Florida and LSU are deadlocked for second place with 6-3 records. If the deadlock still exists Sunday morning it will mean that Mississippi State is ahead by only one game.

Florida proved last Monday it can win on the road against a good team when the Gators handed Auburn an 18-point setback, worst defeat of the season for the defending champion Tigers. Now the Gators are back in Gainesville, where they haven't lost all season, and all of this adds up to bad news for Mississippi State which must also battle a phychological letdown following the loss to Kentucky.

Even if State hurdles Florida, it must still keep winning on strange courts against wary opponents like Georgia, LSU, Tulane and Ole Miss.

Vandy, winner by two points over Tennessee at Knoxville, will be favored to beat the Vols again. Next up, however, for the Commodores is a Tuesday night date with Kentucky at Lexington. These encounters have added significance because even if Mississippi State wins the title, the Maroons won't play in the postseason NCAA tournament because of the racial situation. The runnerup will get the trip, and should Vandy and Kentucky tie for second place—a rea possibility—they would stage a playoff at a neutral site.

After the Tennessee and Kentucky games, Vanderbilt closes season at home against Florida, Georgia and Georgia Tech. Kentucky has road games with Auburn, Alabama and Tulane and home meetings with Mississippi State and Mississippi.

Roger Kaiser of Georgia Tech continues for the second year in a row to set the individual scoring pace with a 23.5 average after 22 games. Next comes Jerry Graves, like Kaiser a 1959-60 all-conference player. The Mississippi State ace has a 21.5 average followed by Tulane sophomore Jim Kerwin with a 20.9 figure.

TIE CINCHED

Ouachita Taken 67-52 By Byrd

SHREVEPORT, La. (Special) — Ouachita made its bid in the spoilers role last night in their final season frey but couldn't quite turn the trick as Byrd's 1-AAA leading Yellow Jackets, accustomed to the home course, outshot them 67-52 and cinched at least a tie for first place.

Actually Ouachita never got started good. Roger Briley stepped bravely to the firing line for Byrd in the first 12 minutes hitting five of five to give the Jackets a safe lead.

Byrd led 16-10 after one, dropped slightly to 28-25 at rest-time but poured in 19 and 20 markers in the third and final stanzas respectively.

For Ouachita it was big Carl Guinn in the fore. The tall man hit 20 points, which was tops for the Lions, and several times times caught the Jackets flat-footed under the hoop. Tom Beaube was second with 15 and Roger Briley copped 14 for the Shreveport quintet.

Byrd and Ouachita both made 24 from the field but the Jackets expended less effort, shooting only 54 times compared to 68 Lion slings.

And the story really had its telling at the charity line where the home courters got 19 to Ouachita's measly 4. Byrd fouled eight times and Ouachita 14.

Terry Leads Players' Meet On 149 Score

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The handsome right - hander came back strong after boegying the first four holes. He played 1-under-par golf from then on through the 16th hole, bogeying the 17th and 18th.

Paul Richards, Baltimore manager; Gene Mauch, Philadelphia pilot, and Peanuts Lowrey, Phillies coach, tied for second place, each with 150. Richards shot the best round of the day among the active major leaguers, coming in with a 3-over-par 73. Mauch had a 74 and Lowrey had a 76 following his opening round of 74.

Alvin Dark, San Francisco Giants manager, had a 79 and wound up in a tie with Jim Hearn, another former Philadelphia pitcher with a 153. Hearn, defending champion, came in with a 74.

"My iron helped me to get birdies on the 11th, 13th and 15th holes," Terry said. He has been playing golf only two years.

Lowrey, tourney favorite, played despite a slight case of the flu. He said he had to take several aspirins to keep going.

Skating Union In Final Say On Skating Tourney

DAVOS, Switzerland (AP)—The International Skating Union Friday turned down a new request from Canada and declared its decision to cancel the World Figure Skating Championship is final.

The championships, scheduled for Prague, Czechoslovakia, next week, were canceled following the deaths of the entire 18-member U.S. team Wednesday in a plane crash near Brussels.

In Prague Friday night, the Czech organizing committee, which had requested the skating union Thursday to reconsider its decision, said it has received assurance from skating union officials that they will "see to it that the 1962 world figure skating championship are held in Czechoslovakia." The information came from Ceteka, the official Czech news agency.

The Canadian Figure Skating Association, boasting three North American champion entrants, made its request Friday but was told by trans-Atlantic telephone that it would be impossible to reconsider the decision to cancel. The Canadian team already is in Prague.

Skowran Signs Contract After Salary Raise

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Bill Skowron, muscular New York Yankee first baseman, agreed to terms for 1961 Friday after a brief conference with Roy Hamey, general manager, who said the slugger got a "very substantial raise.

Skowron, 30, reportedly received $27,000 last year. Although the Yanks never announce salaries, informed guessers were saying the Moose would get about $37,500 for the coming season.

Signing of Skowron, who had turned back earlier contracts, was the 29th announced by the Yankees. The four men not signed are Tony Kubek, Hector Lopez, Fritzie Brickell and Leroy Thomas.

Skowron, who is prone to injuries, played 146 games for the Yanks last season as compared with 74 the year before. He had one of his best years, hitting .309, driving in 91 runs and smashing 26 home runs. He batted .375, hit two homers and drove in six runs in the World Series.

Hamey learned Skowron was in Miami and called him in for a bargaining session.

Herbert And Sullivan Share Tucson Open Lead

Hebert's best putting of the year gave him a 4-under 66 to go with his first round effort of 65 for the par 70, 6,464-yard El Rio Golf and Country Club course.

Sullivan built his game around booming tee shots and finished with an eagle 3 for a 66-65 and the best 36-hole total of his short pro career. This was the first time he had ever held or shared the lead in a PGA tourney.

Veterans Tommy Bolt and Marty Furgol and newcomer Bob Wagner were 7-under-par at 133.

Paul McGuire, who tied a course record with an 8-under-par 28 on the first nine, had a 63 for the day and was in a three-way tie with Charles Sifford, perennial national Negro champ, and Dave Hill at 135.

Gary Player, leading money winner whose wife had a baby son in Johannesburg, South Africa Friday, was grouped with five other golfers at 136. The others were Harold Kneece, Bobby Nichols, Jackie Cupit, Tommy Aaron, and Art Wall Jr.

Frank Wharton, who took the first round lead with a 64 by thriving on Thursday's blustery weather, scored a 73 Friday for a total of 137.

"The wind was tricky today because it kept on blowing and then stopping," Hebert said. "I putted splendidly. I knew they were going in before I hit them."

Hebert came to the last hole needing a birdie for the undisputed lead. His second shot hit a tree and his approach went over the green by a foot. His putt was a foot short. Hebert dropped six birdies but went over par on No. 2 and No. 11.

Sullivan has hit 33 of 36 greens he has played in the tournament. His only bogey in two rounds came on the 12th hole Friday when he underclubbed and was short of the green.

So far the most money he has ever won was $25,000 of the $50,000 Joe Campbell made by sinking a hole-in-one at Palm Springs last year. The two had agreed in advance to split the pot if either got an ace.

Bolt, who has won this event twice, said, "I think I played better golf than my score of 64 indicates, but I'm not complaining. The putter I borrowed this morning from my 14-month-old son turned out to be a mighty useful club. I sank a couple of 18 and 20-footers." He had 27 putts for the 18 holes.

Dave Marr gave Bolt's baby the putter to hold while his picture was being taken Thursday. The baby kept the club until his pop shoved it in his bag this morning.

The 24-year-old Boynton was married two months ago and is on his honeymoon. Never before had he been so high in a PGA event after 36 holes.

The field was cut to the low 60 pros and ties after Friday's round. The cutoff score was 142.

The leaders:

Buddy Sullivan	66-65—131
Jay Hebert	65-66—131

Judge Working On Speedy Team

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—Give him eight more "speedy" players and he will have one of the best football teams in the nation, says Madison County Court Judge William H. Grubbs.

During recent weeks, the judge said, he has "signed" Dick LeBeau of the Detroit Lions, Jim Marshall of the Cleveland Browns and Tom Matte, Baltimore Colts draftee.

The three ex-Ohio State players paid fines or forfeited bond after being picked up by the State Highway Patrol for speeding, the judge said.

Two heats will be run each day. Competition starts at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday and at 10 a.m. on Sunday.

One of the closest and most exciting races ever are in prospect before the winner is crowned. Not only are the skills of the quartet a factor, but the luck of the draw has suddenly added extra suspense to the whole works.

Schelle, Monti and Benham all follow each other in the first and third heats, while Schelle and Monti are back-to-back in the second and fourth heats. Benham opens the second and closes the fourth.

To make it more even, the trio will have course paths blazed by two darkhorses, Austria's Paul Aste and Switzerland's Max Angst who precede them in all but the final heat.

Canada's No. 1. sled was scratched after the draw when driver Vic Emery was forbidden to leave the hospital until Sunday. He has a broken nose. Lamont Gordon will be the only entry for his country.

All the rest of the participants were ready to go after readying their sleds Friday. No practice runs were permitted as the course was being prepared.

It will not be the same one that helped the two-man competitors to lightning-fast times last weekend. Alterations in tricky zig-zag curve, the addition of more snow in the run and the possibility of more snow all are figured to make Benham's record a hard one to top, and also keep down the accident rate.

Benham's mark of 1:08.88 was bettered four times in practice but only twice in three days after the course was doctored a bit.

The Lake Placid Olympian's experience over the course has to mark him among the top contenders. However, he has been using a borrowed sled and is just about getting the feel of it.

Gerry Tennant, Princeton, W. Va., Gary Sheffield, Lake Placid, and Chuck Pandolph, Saranac Lake, N. Y., will be his crew. Sheffield and Tennant finished second in the two-man competition.

Another U.S. sled, driven by Larry McKillop, is also rated a darkhorse. McKillop, along with Schelle and Zardini, were the most steady drivers during practice.

The winner will be decided on the lowest cumulative time for the four heats, and probably won't be actually known until after the final sled—Benham's—is down on Sunday.

Champs Start Title Defense In Wisconsin

MIWAUKEE (AP)—Both senior titlists will defend their national indoor speed skating crowns this weekend at the Wisconsin State Fair Park Coliseum, but there's more trouble brewing for Terry McDermott than for Mary Novak.

McDermott served notice he was ready a few weeks ago at St. Paul when he set a 200-yard outdoor record. But in addition to the bids from his colleagues on the 1960 U.S. Olympic squad, he'll be up against three other major contenders—Ken Macauley, an Air Force Academy cadet from Colorado Springs; Gary Goldbeck, runner-up last week in the Land of Lincoln meet at Champaign, Ill., and Walter Renshaw of Detroit.

Dennis Stanford and Tom McPartlin of St. Louis head up the intermediate entries; Jerry Freisinger of Englewood, N.J., and Bill Freeman of Detroit the juniors; Karl Van Mill of St. Louis and Ray Novak of Chicago the juvenlles and Larry Carlson of Chicago and Don Shires of Detroit the midgets.

Loretta Chapman of Detroit and Diane White and Beverly Gorton of St. Paul are among top intermediate girl contenders; Mary Meyers of St. Paul and Kathleen Sullivan of Cheboygan, Mich., the juniors; Connie Espander of Colorado Springs and Holly Blatchford, Northbrook, Ill., the juveniles and Linda Boyer, St. Louis midgets.

Qualifying heats get underway Saturday afternoon and the 30 final events Saturday night and Sunday afternoon. The meet is the first national indoot championship to be held in Milwaukee.

Miss Ann McGaha Honored On Two Occasions Prior To Wedding Last Evening

The wedding last evening of Miss Ann McGaha and Robert S. Crouch Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Crouch Sr. of Oak Grove, was the occasion for a miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Miss McGaha in Oak Grove. The Rev. Charles B. Littleton performed the ceremony in the chapel of Central Baptist Church.

Hostesses for the party, held Tuesday night, February 14, at the Fiske Union Cafeteria in Oak Grove, were Mrs. Spencer Myrick, Mrs. Vadis Beinz, Mrs. Stanley Rogers, Mrs. Iola Defidire, Mrs. Adie Gray Coody, and Mrs. A. D. Rogers.

A Valentine motif was reflected in the decorations of the reception hall. The center table was covered with a white cloth and centered with a massive arrangement of red flowers interspersed with red hearts. Centering the gift table was a miniature bride and groom. The refreshment table was covered with a white cloth with red hearts attached to it and centered with a crystal punch bowl. Silver trays holding various party confections completed the appointments of this table.

Each of the guests was asked to write a favorite recipe on a paper heart and present it to the honoree.

Approximately forty guests called between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

On Monday night, Miss McGaha was complimented with a small informal shower given in the new home of Mrs. Don McIntyre, 115 Thompson Street, West Monroe. Hostesses for the gala affair were Mrs. Marie Moncrief, Miss Janette Smith, and Mrs. Clyde Ross.

An aura of spring was captured in the decorations of the home. On the dining table, which was overlaid with a white cloth, was a massive arrangement of white carnations interspersed with greenery.

The hostesses extended courtesies for the evening.

A small group of close friends were invited to share the occasion with the bride - elect between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

Engaged Couple Honored With Monroe Party

Among the many festivities given to honor Miss Linda Files and Jimmy Brown, whose wedding will be solemnized Saturday, March 4 at the Baptist Church in Oak Ridge was a buffet dinner party Saturday night. Hosting the affair were Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Cummins at their home on Spurgeon Drive, Monroe, and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Cummins of Winnsboro.

A wedding ring theme was used in decorations throughout the house. In one corner of the dining room, blossoms were banked around a three - tiered fountain from which water flowed. Behind the fountain were climbing vines and floating in the water were lily-pads.

Centering the large white covered dinner table was an arrangement of white carnations and gladioli, interspersed with greenery and centered with double wedding rings. Placed on either side of the arrangement were silver candelabra holding lighted silver and gold tapers. Two small tables, also overlaid with white cutwork cloths, were centered with a single taper, surrounded by flowers and greenery. Bridal placecards of miniature wedding bells marked each guest's place.

Cooking Art

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI)— Varying the seasonings can add to the mild flavor of fresh fish. Foods and nutrition experts at Michigan State University suggest caraway seed, dill, bay leaf, garlic salt and lemon juice as complements to the flavor of fish.

Another suggested sauce uses cultured sour cream as the base. Grated onion is added for flavor and a bit of pimiento or parsley for color.

The cylinder - shaped tank rolls along the floor and feeds a regular amount of detergent - mixed water through a perforated wand. The development, adaptable to home use, greatly shortens mop - up time and the amount of water previously needed for the same job, says the manufacturer.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Here Is Encouragement For Weight-Watchers

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I, too, went through the unhappy weight period, and may I tell Patsy and every husband who has an overweight wife how my husband and I licked the problem together?

Ted is gentle and considerate. He would never call me a slob—even though he may have thought it. After our third son was born I was immense. Ted would say to me, "Honey I wish you'd wear that pretty black dress I like so well." He knew the dress was a size 14 and I was about four sizes larger.

After a few months I had to admit to myself that I'd lost all interest in clothes and was just plain dowdy. Not only did I look like a cow but I was beginning to act like one. I went to the doctor and asked him to put me on a strict diet.

When I told my husband he was delighted. Every few days he'd compliment me. I began to feel better mentally and physically within two weeks. When my oldest son said to me, "Mom, I think you are so much better looking now than when you were 'husky'" I knew I had won.

Most people who have a tendency toward obesity must watch themselves constantly. It takes encouragement and understanding. The husband who helps instead of hurts will be loved forever. —SIZE 14

Dear Size 14: Many thanks for your excellent letter. The person who has been bitten by the wolf can best describe its fangs.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a widow 60 years of age. My son, who is 31, is a bachelor and he lives with me. My husband passed away 5 years ago and my son and I have a pleasant, peaceful life.

Many people have made snide remarks about this, hinting that something must be wrong with him, or with me. Should a son be kicked out of a home he enjoys just because his father passed away? Gene always lived at home and so far as I am concerned he can stay here as long as he likes. Do you see anything wrong with this? I would appreciate your comments. —MOTHER

Dear Mother: Most men, by the time they're 30, prefer to live away from the parental home. One who does not, however, need not be considered peculiar. It could be simply that he is comfortable there and has no desire to move out.

To learn how to kep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for "Ann Landers' " booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY

If He's The Problem, Send Him To A Doctor

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: "Cold wives" are often the subject of discussion in your column, but I don't recall having seen any mention of "cold husbands." I am interested in this subject because I am married to one.

My husband was very affectionate when we were first married. Now, only three years later, he pulls away from me the moment I make a gesture of affection. He says I am still very attractive and there is nothing wrong with me. (I know this is true.) I am certain other wives must be faced with this problem. What do you advise? —"WARM WIFE"

DEAR "WARM": If, by your husband's own admission, there is nothing wrong with "you," then there is obviously something wrong with "him." Send him to a physician to find out why you don't "send him" any more.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that is very serious to me. I am ten years old and I am cute, and I mean real cute. My mother won't let me date and I am asked out by 7th and 8th graders all the time. Don't you think if the boys think I am old enough to date, my mother should let me? —MATURE TEN

DEAR MATURE: Trust your mother's judgment, Honey. Little girls who start dating at 10 have nothing to look forward to at 18 but a rocking chair and a game of gin rummy.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter has a friend (her age) who makes a practice of stealing money from her father's wallet. She has stolen $20, $40 and even $50 at a time. Her father is well-to-do and apparently doesn't miss it because she has been getting away with it for a long time.

This girl admits to her friends where she gets the money. She squanders it on sweaters, jewelry and lunches for her friends. They all think it is a big joke.

We know the girl's parents, and they are the kind of people who criticize everyone else's children but think their own are perfect, so if we told them about their daughter they probably wouldn't believe us. We are afraid this girl will get into the habit of stealing elsewhere. What should we do? —SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: Tell her parents!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Tired": Perhaps if you quit your job he would go to work. It's worth a try.

First Lady Has Cold, Confined

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy was in bed Friday with a severe head cold, but she expects to go to the first family's weekend retreat in Middleburg, Va. "if she is up to it," the White House said.

Mrs. Kennedy went to bed Thursday afternoon to fight a cold she caught last weekend, when snow blanketed Middleburg.

President Kennedy plans to leave about noon Saturday for the estate he and Mrs. Kennedy have rented about 5 miles from Washington. Presumably, daughter Caroline, 3, will go with him, even if Mrs. Kennedy can't make it.

Gala Party Given In Wilkins Home

A gala Valentine party was given on Saturday, February 11, by Miss Wanda Wilkins and Miss Ann Erickson of Alexandria. The event was held in the home of Miss Wilkins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Wilkins, at 1104 Glenmar Avenue.

The soft glow of candlelight illuminated the reception rooms. A large Cupid was suspended from the center of the ceiling, surrounded with red hearts attached by streamers. Red hearts were pinned on the curtains and cupids and hearts filled various vases and flower pots around the room.

The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth decorated with hearts and cupids. At one end was a silver punch bowl holding strawberry punch, and at the other was a large lace heart entwined with ivy. The refreshments of red heart - shaped sandwiches and party snacks were served buffet style.

A King and Queen were chosen for the party. Miss Gail Brady served as Queen, and Bruce Cain of Alexandria, was King. The Queen was presented a corsage of red camellias.

Invited to the party between the hours of 8 and 12 o'clock were: Miss Jean Butcher, Miss Becky Caughron, Miss Martha Thompson, Miss Sandy Brady, Miss Gail Brady, Miss Kathryn Saucer, Eddie Jones, Floyd Avery, Jimmy Nordan, Thomas Dowdy, and Jerry Clark. Out -of-town guests included Malcolm Bordelon, Brace Cain, Francis Richey, John Russo, and Miss Erickson, all of Alexandria, and Miss Gail Smith of Natchez, Mississippi.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Readers 'Sound Off' With Their Suggestions

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

One of the column readers said she had ended nightmares in her son when she stopped bathing him immediately before bedtime and pushed his bath back an hour.

Another said that after repeated nightmares her doctor did an encephalogram (x-ray of the brain) and discovered abnormal brain waves. He advised an anti-convulsant medicine which is giving fine results. Obviously this suggestion is not for the "average" nightmares children suffer.

Another reader deplores the habit of a mother of letting her 1-year-old baby cry at night because she won't give him a bottle. She thinks his screaming disturbs the whole family and is too rigid behavior on her part.

This mother might pay attention to the day-time diet which, if adequate, would make a night meal unnecessary. Meantime, while she is building up the day-time diet, she shouid give the milk at night. Later she might subtract one ounce of milk and replace it with one ounce of water and do this increasingly until the baby was getting only water. He would not waken for that.

Another mother feels that a baby shouid not be washed off after his toilet with a "cold, wet rag." She mentioned that this mother does not even dry off the baby before putting on dry diapers. She asks for comment on this.

Warm water, a gentle patting and then some baby oil or powder would make the baby feel comfortable and comforted. She may find if she continues such practices that the baby will become increasingly difficult to diaper, having built up a resistance to her inept services.

When a mother uses her strength to take advantage of a baby's helplessness this is not loving, considerate action. What a mother does through ignorance can be forgiven; what she does deliberately through carelessness or indifference, is inexcusable.

If you would like to have our 10-cent booklet "The First Six Months" send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Miss Ann McGaha Honored On Two Occasions Prior To Wedding Last Evening

The wedding last evening of Miss Ann McGaha and Robert S. Crouch Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Crouch Sr. of Oak Grove, was the occasion for a miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Miss McGaha in Oak Grove. The Rev. Charles B. Littleton performed the ceremony in the chapel of Central Baptist Church.

Hostesses for the party, held Tuesday night, February 14, at the Fiske Union Cafeteria in Oak Grove, were Mrs. Spencer Myrick, Mrs. Vadis Beinz, Mrs. Stanley Rogers, Mrs. Iola Defidire, Mrs. Adie Gray Coody, and Mrs. A. D. Rogers.

A Valentine motif was reflected in the decorations of the reception hall. The center table was covered with a white cloth and centered with a massive arrangement of red flowers interspersed with red hearts. Centering the gift table was a miniature bride and groom. The refreshment table was covered with a white cloth with red hearts attached to it and centered with a crystal punch bowl. Silver trays holding various party confections completed the appointments of this table.

Each of the guests was asked to write a favorite recipe on a paper heart and present it to the honoree.

Approximately forty guests called between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

On Monday night, Miss McGaha was complimented with a small informal shower given in the new home of Mrs. Don McIntyre, 115 Thompson Street, West Monroe. Hostesses for the gala affair were Mrs. Marie Moncrief, Miss Janette Smith, and Mrs. Clyde Ross.

An aura of spring was captured in the decorations of the home. On the dining table, which was overlaid with a white cloth, was a massive arrangement of white carnations interspersed with greenery.

The hostesses extended courtesies for the evening.

A small group of close friends were invited to share the occasion with the bride-elect between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

Cooking Art

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI)— Varying the seasonings can add to the mild flavor of fresh fish. Foods and nutrition experts at Michigan State University suggest caraway seed, dill, bay leaf, garlic salt and lemon juice as complements to the flavor of fish.

Another suggested sauce uses cultured sour cream as the base. Grated onion is added for flavor and a bit of pimiento or parsley for color.

New Product

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new product helps to clean floors by putting a spray tank into service.

The cylinder-shaped tank rolls along the floor and feeds a regular amount of detergent-mixed water through a perforated wand. The development, adaptable to home use, greatly shortens mop-up time and the amount of water previously needed for the same job, says the manufacturer.

Engaged Couple Honored With Monroe Party

Among the many festivities given to honor Miss Linda Files and Jimmy Brown, whose wedding will be solemnized Saturday, March 4 at the Baptist Church in Oak Ridge was a buffet dinner party Saturday night. Hosting the affair were Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Cummins at their home on Spurgeon Drive, Monroe, and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Cummins of Winnsboro.

A wedding ring theme was used in decorations throughout the house. In one corner of the dining room, blossoms were banked around a three-tiered fountain from which water flowed. Behind the fountain were climbing vines and floating in the water were lily-pads.

Centering the large white covered dinner table was an arrangement of white carnations and gladioli, interspersed with greenery and centered with double wedding rings. Placed on either side of the arrangement were silver candelabra holding lighted silver and gold tapers. Two small tables, also overlaid with white cutwork cloths, were centered with a single taper, surrounded by flowers and greenery. Bridal placecards of miniature wedding bells marked each guest's place.

AT LAKE CHARLES

Robbery Slayer Has No Regrets

LAKE CHARLES, La. (UPI) — A 19-year-old Negro showing no fear or remorse, said Friday he killed a woman bank employe and wounded two others because he wanted "to get me some money and hide in a big town."

The young bank robber, who has a juvenile crime record, robbed a branch of the Gulf National Bank of $14,091 Thursday night. He took three bank employes as hostages, forcing them to drive him to a lonely road.

Wilburt Rideau then ordered them from the car and shot them as they fled. Mrs. Julia Ferguson, 50, moved as she lay on the ground. He pulled a knife and stabbed her repeatedly. She died enroute to a hospital.

Mrs. Dora McCain, 30, branch manager, and Jay Hickman, 50, were in fair condition with bullet wounds Friday. Mrs. McCain said she "played dead" after Rideau shot her in the neck. Hickman, shot in the shoulder, stumbled into a ditch.

The young Negro was arrested three hours after the robbery at a roadblock. He was driving Mrs. McCain's car and still had the money with him. Officers found a knife near the shooting and stabbing scene believed to be the one he used to fatally stab the woman. They were still searching for the .22 caliber pistol he used in the robbery.

Sheriff Henry Reid said Rideau was charged Friday with bank robbery, murder and kidnaping. Reid said the youth "shows no remorse and doesn't appear to be frightened."

Rules Chairman Loosens Gates On Legislation

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Chairman Howard W. Smith, whose Rules Committee was enlarged because of liberal complaints that it moved too slowly, continued his new burst of activity Friday and came up with more bad news for Speaker Sam Rayburn.

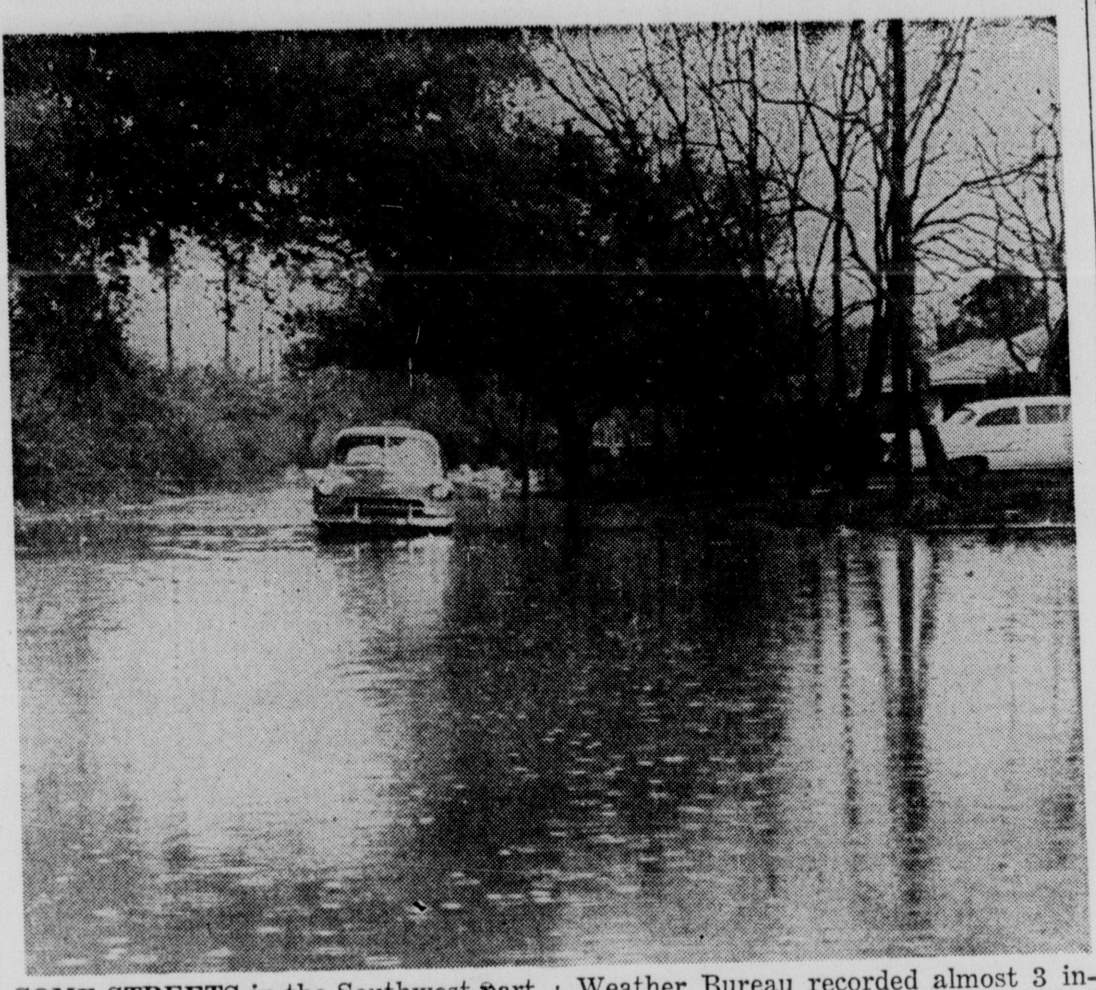
This time it was a pair of resolutions to ban "back door" government spending and to let Congress ride herd on the central intelligence agency.

The veteran Virginian already had discovered, and ordered for hearings next week, long-pending resolutions to open the house and its committees to radio and TV broadcasts and to order a congressional study of a national policy on fuels.

Rayburn, who engineered the fight to break Smith's control of the rules group, is dead set against the TV proposal and is reported not too keen for the fuel policy measure.

Friday, Smith ferreted out of the files dust-laden proposals to halt spending without specific congressional appropriations and to set up a joint House-Senate committee to keep watch on the Central Intelligence Agency.

He set them also for hearing next week, despite the fact Rayburn is known to oppose both of them.



SOME STREETS in the Southwest part of Houston were under water Friday as rains continued in the area. The Weather Bureau recorded almost 3 inches of rain since noon Thursday, but some areas had more. (AP Wirephoto)

Victim Of Fire Gains 12th Child

He also saved the other 11 kids.

His wife woke him and he rushed her to a hospital where she gave birth to a son at 2 a.m. The Endres now have six sons and six daughters.

Endres went home to bed, but he didn't sleep long. At about 5 a.m. he awoke and found the house on fire.

Endres quickly evacuated 10 of the children, but one was missing. He finally found the missing offspring in his own bed. The child had slipped in while he was asleep and had gone unnoticed.

The house was destroyed, but Endres and his large family were all safe. Endres, who is unemployed, is to receive help from the Red Cross.

Performance At Rayville Is Praised

ALEXANDRIA (Special) —Rayville can match any town of similar size in the state in services and functions, and when it comes to municipal performances the outsider is apt to be a little awed.

This is the conclusion of the Louisiana Municipal Review in a major story devoted to Rayville in the magazine's latest issue.

LANDS OFFICIALS

The article praises the town's elected officials, commenting that "much of the town's success can be attributed to active, energetic Mayor Loy Cloninger and Council members D. E. Barr, Aubrey Soloman, James L. Craig, Joe Kalil and Mrs. Mattie B. Haley."

The story singles out Rayville's lighting program, the fire and police departments, the top - rated power plant and the day-to-day efficiency of administrative offices for special praise and adds:

"There are many more aspects to this charming town. Citizen spirit runs high here, and Rayville is enjoying an era of growth and progress."

Working together, the story says, the citizens and city officials have "earned an enviable reputation for Rayville and have kept the municipality on a sound, business like footing."

The article cites a bond issue which provided for a new fire station and the town's summer recreation program as two outstanding progressive steps of recent times in Rayville.

Governors Hail Federal Aid Hike

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Governors of many states voiced strong approval Friday of President Kennedy's call for stepped - up spending of federal aid funds to put jobless men back to work.

Some states already were pressing action to get the program going in their areas, or were studying plans to do so.

All down the line the response in the states was favorable. Several governors said they began steps even prior to the President's announcement of accelerated government spending.

"We started speeding up before Kennedy asked us," said Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington. "I put out a directive to the highway department three weeks ago ordering such a program. We have already finished the scheduling of early contract-letting on highway projects."

Kennedy on Wednesday urged the nation's governors to act promptly to use more than a billion dollars in federal aid funds to bolster the economy.

Included was $734 million in funds for federal highway construction and $350 million he released for construction of schools and other facilities in state areas crowded by influxes of federal workers.

"I heartily endorse your program to invigorate the national economy," Virginia Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. wired the President. "As far as plans and means are available, and subject to my direction, I assure you of my cooperation."

The Virginia State Highway Commission said that under the stepped - up program it could hasten the spending of about $7 million in federal road aid.

Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said the state has $100 million worth of construction that could be let for immediate contracts.

In Wisconsin, Gov. Gaylord A. Nelson early this month directed the State Highway Commission to review its program with an eye to the prospect that federal funds would be available ahead of schedule.

California Gov. Edmund G. Brown said his state is stepping up highway projects from $28 million monthly to $35-40 million monthly, and quickening spending of $30 million in state school-building funds, with priority given projects in hard-hit areas.

In North Carolina, Gov. Terry Sanford said the state already was ahead on its interstate highway program — and has spent about all funds available.

Washington Gov. Albert D. Rosellini said $5.25 million will be used to speed purchase of rights-of-way for the Seattle-Tacoma Freeway, and that he was asking the legislature for a $2-million appropriation to distribute some $25 million worth of federal surplus foods.

"We in Washington State are making vigorous efforts to bolster a sagging economy and improve prospects for the unemployed," he said.

Indiana Gov. Matthew E. Welsh announced plans last week to speed up about $45 million in highway projects, using about $36 million in federal aid, all to be let for contract by July 1.

Missouri Gov. John M. Dalton said quick legislative approval of his proposal to boost the state gasoline tax from 3 to 5 cents to speed highway construction would be in line with Kennedy's request.

In Maine, Gov. John H. Reed urged the legislature to act immediately on his $8-million capital construction budget, to assure an early start on dozens of important building projects.

Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner Jr. has said the state will move immediately to meet growing unemployment with stepped-up interstate highway construction that will provide 1,000 jobs.

The work will be in a section of southern Illinois hit by a decline in coal mine employment.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's office noted that he had ordered speeded-up highway construction in several state areas, and would review the program further to see if additional money could be put to work.

In New Jersey, Gov. Robert B. Meyner said "we are going as fast as we can in the highway department" and will spend all federal aid available in the present fiscal year.

In Pennsylvania, Gov. David L. Lawrence's office said the legislature has been asked to set up a state committee to expedite use of federal funds.

The Pennsylvania Highway Department presently is in process of advertising $131 million in contracts.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Here Is Encouragement For Weight-Watchers

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I, too, went through the unhappy weight period, and may I tell Patsy and every husband who has an overweight wife how my husband and I licked the problem together?

Ted is gentle and considerate. He would never call me a slob—even though he may have thought it. After our third son was born I was immense. Ted would say to me, "Honey I wish you'd wear that pretty black dress I like so well." He knew the dress was a size 14 and I was about four sizes larger.

After a few months I had to admit to myself that I'd lost all interest in clothes and was just plain dowdy. Not only did I look like a cow but I was beginning to act like one. I went to the doctor and asked him to put me on a strict diet.

When I told my husband he was delighted. Every few days he'd compliment me. I began to feel better mentally and physically within two weeks. When my oldest son said to me, "Mom, I think you are so much better looking now than when you were 'husky'" I knew I had won.

Most people who have a tendency toward obesity must watch themselves constantly. It takes encouragement and understanding. The husband who helps instead of hurts will be loved forever. —SIZE 14

Dear Size 14: Many thanks for your excellent letter. The person who has been bitten by the wolf can best describe its fangs.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a widow 60 years of age. My son, who is 31, is a bachelor and he lives with me. My husband passed away 5 years ago and my son and I have a pleasant, peaceful life.

Many people have made snide remarks about this, hinting that something must be wrong with him, or with me. Should a son be kicked out of a home he enjoys just because his father passed away? Gene always lived at home and so far as I am concerned he can stay here as long as he likes. Do you see anything wrong with this? I would appreciate your comments. —MOTHER

Dear Mother: Most men, by the time they're 30, prefer to live away from the parental home. One who does not, however, need not be considered peculiar. It could be simply that he is comfortable there and has no desire to move out.

To learn how to kep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for "Ann Landers'" booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY

If He's The Problem, Send Him To A Doctor

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: "Cold wives" are often the subject of discussion in your column, but I don't recall having seen any mention of "cold husbands." I am interested in this subject because I am married to one.

My husband was very affectionate when we were first married. Now, only three years later, he pulls away from me the moment I make a gesture of affection. He says I am still very attractive and there is nothing wrong with me. (I know this is true.) I am certain other wives must be faced with this problem. What do you advise? —"WARM WIFE"

DEAR "WARM": If, by your husband's own admission, there is nothing wrong with "you," then there is obviously something wrong with "him." Send him to a physician to find out why you don't "send him" any more.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that is very serious to me. I am ten years old and I am cute, and I mean real cute. My mother won't let me date and I am asked out by 7th and 8th graders all the time. Don't you think if the boys think I am old enough to date, my mother should let me? —MATURE TEN

DEAR MATURE: Trust your mother's judgment, Honey. Little girls who start dating at 10 have nothing to look forward to at 18 but a rocking chair and a game of gin rummy.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter has a friend (her age) who makes a practice of stealing money from her father's wallet. She has stolen $20, $40 and even $50 at a time. Her father is well-to-do and apparently doesn't miss it because she has been getting away with it for a long time.

This girl admits to her friends where she gets the money. She squanders it on sweaters, jewelry and lunches for her friends. They all think it is a big joke.

We know the girl's parents, and they are the kind of people who criticize everyone else's children but think their own are perfect, so if we told them about their daughter they probably wouldn't believe us. We are afraid this girl will get into the habit of stealing elsewhere. What should we do? —SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: Tell her parents!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Tired": Perhaps if you quit your job he would go to work. It's worth a try.

First Lady Has Cold, Confined

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy was in bed Friday with a severe head cold, but she expects to go to the first family's weekend retreat in Middleburg, Va. "if she is up to it," the White House said.

Mrs. Kennedy went to bed Thursday afternoon to fight a cold she caught last weekend, when snow blanketed Middleburg.

President Kennedy plans to leave about noon Saturday for the estate he and Mrs. Kennedy have rented about 5 miles from Washington. Presumably, daughter Caroline, 3, will go with him, even if Mrs. Kennedy can't make it.

Gala Party Given In Wilkins Home

A gala Valentine party was given on Saturday, February 11, by Miss Wanda Wilkins and Miss Ann Erickson of Alexandria. The event was held in the home of Miss Wilkins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Wilkins, at 1104 Glenmar Avenue.

The soft glow of candlelight illuminated the reception rooms. A large Cupid was suspended from the center of the ceiling, surrounded with red hearts attached by streamers. Red hearts were pinned on the curtains and cupids and hearts filled various vases and flower pots around the room.

The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth decorated with hearts and cupids. At one end was a silver punch bowl holding strawberry punch, and at the other was a large lace heart entwined with ivy. The refreshments of red heart - shaped sandwiches and party snacks were served buffet style.

A King and Queen were chosen for the party. Miss Gail Brady served as Queen, and Bruce Cain of Alexandria, was King. The Queen was presented a corsage of red camellias.

Invited to the party between the hours of 8 and 12 o'clock were: Miss Jean Butcher, Miss Becky Caughron, Miss Martha Thompson, Miss Sandy Brady, Miss Gail Brady, Miss Kathryn Saucer, Eddie Jones, Floyd Avery, Jimmy Nordan, Thomas Dowdy, and Jerry Clark. Out-of-town guests included Malcolm Bordelon, Brace Cain, Francis Richey, John Russo, and Miss Erickson, all of Alexandria, and Miss Gail Smith of Natchez, Mississippi.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Readers 'Sound' Off' With Their Suggestions

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

One of the column readers said she had ended nightmares in her son when she stopped bathing him immediately before bedtime and pushed his bath back an hour.

Another said that after repeated nightmares her doctor did an encephalogram (x-ray of the brain) and discovered abnormal brain waves. He advised an anti-convulsant medicine which is giving fine results. Obviously this suggestion is not for the "average" nightmares children suffer.

Another reader deplores the habit of a mother of letting her 1-year-old baby cry at night because she won't give him a bottle. She thinks his screaming disturbs the whole family and is too rigid behavior on her part.

This mother might pay attention to the day-time diet which, if adequate, would make a night meal unnecessary. Meantime, while she is building up the day-time diet, she should give the milk at night. Later she might subtract one ounce of milk and replace it with one ounce of water and do this increasingly until the baby was getting only water. He would not waken for that.

Another mother feels that a baby should not be washed off after his toilet with a "cold, wet rag." She mentioned that this mother does not even dry off the baby before putting on dry diapers. She asks for comment on this.

Warm water, a gentle patting and then some baby oil or powder would make the baby feel comfortable and comforted. She may find if she continues such practices that the baby will become increasingly difficult to diaper, having built up a resistance to her inept services.

When a mother uses her strength to take advantage of a baby's helplessness this is not loving, considerate action. What a mother does through ignorance can be forgiven; what she does deliberately through carelessness or indifference, is inexcusable.

If you would like to have our 10-cent booklet "The First Six Months" send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

NEW YORK COTTON

The market was quiet, with price changes small until late in the session when commission house selling increased. The market was unsettled by prospects that an announcement of the government loan for the 1961 cotton crop may be made over the weekend.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — Demand for butcher hogs was fairly active again Friday and prices were steady to 25 cents higher with most of the advance on weights over 240 lbs.

The top held at $19 for the third consecutive day and for the fourth day of the week. Almost 150 head of No. 1 and 2 grades weighing 195-215 lbs brought $18.90-19 and the mixed 1-3 and 2-3 grades in the 190-240 lb range $18.25-18.75. Heavier weights sold down to $17.50, sows at $15.50-17.50.

Offerings for the week of 30,000 head were unchanged from the previous week.

The cattle market was virtually nominal. No sales of slaughter steers, heifers or vealers were reported. A few utility and commercial bulls moved at $17.50-21.

The scant supply of slaughter lambs was steady. Choice kinds were $17.50-18, good and choice $16-17.50.

Stocks Take Mild Setback For Session

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market failed to extend its three-day rally Friday, backing down mildly in the face of heavy overhead resistance and depressing business news. Activity dropped to 4,640,000 shares from 5,070,000 on Thursday.

The signal for the downturn was given in the previous session when the much-watched Dow-Jones industrial average faded as it touched the 656 level — the recovery level reached last June and a stiff roadblock to further upside progress.

Brokers said that all the market needed was a little good business news to effect a penetration but this was not forthcoming. Instead, traders learned that auto production this week is hovering at its lowest level since 1952, industrial production in January declined for the sixth consecutive month, personal income fell to the lowest level since last June and manufacturers' new orders for durable goods sagged 2 per cent in January from the previous month.

Despite all the bad news, the overall performance was better than expected. The Dow-Jones industrial average lost only 0.19 to 651.67 but Standard & Poor's index of 500 stocks showed a slightly steeper decline. The rail average rose 0.03 to 144.32 and the utilities firmed 0.19 to 107.56.

The margin of advances over declines narrowed to 562 against 497 while new highs outnumbered new lows by 96 to 2. The total number of issues traded also dipped to 1,275.

Interstate Department Stores, which has a relatively small number of shares outstanding, gained a hefty 6¼. Armour sagged 2½ following news that first quarter earnings would slip below last year's.

On the American Exchange, stocks were irregularly higher with electronics mostly lower. Fairchild Camera dropped 3¼, Giannini lost 1¾, Gulton 2⅛ and Cenco 3¼. Barnes Engineering rose 2¾, Mesabi Iron 2½ and Robinson Technical 2⅛.

Stock sales for the session totaled 1,930,000 shares against 2 million shares Thursday.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — President Kennedy's partial new farm program hit the grain futures market a bearish blow Friday and prices of all contracts except old crop soybeans slumped.

The feed grains and new crop soybeans, which the administration proposals concern just now, were under steady pressure all day although corn showed signs of a rally at one time.

New crop corn and soybeans lost more than two cents a bushel. Brokers said the recoommendations sent to Congress Thursday appeared to be more in the direction of price fixing than of freeing the trade.

At the close, soybeans were 1 cent a bushel higher on the old crop months to 2¾ lower on the new, March $2.74½-¾; corn 1¾-2⅞ lower, March $1.13⅝; wheat ⅞-1½ lower, March $2.10½; oats 1⅛-1⅞ lower, March 63¾-64; rye 1⅜-1¾ lower, March $1.19.

SKELETON NOW

Selman Control Tower Progresses

"Despite the bad weather, the workmen are ahead of schedule," commented Finance and Utilities Commissioner H. W. McSherry.

"It's going to be quite an addition to the field," the commissioner said. The tower will be used to direct arriving and departing aircraft.

Located only a few feet away from the present tower, and downfield from the main airport building, the tower will have five floors plus the cab.

Walls will be brick and masonry — in stark contrast to the tinker - toy - like present tower, due to be torn down once the present structure is complete.

"After it is finished, the government will equip it and take over," McSherry said.

Insurance Agent Discusses Rates At Meeting Here

A district meeting of fire and casualty agents from throughout northeast Louisiana was held Thursday night. Allen Smith, secretary and general counsel for the Louisiana Association of Independent Insurance Agents, assailed cut rate premium practices which "prevent adequate settlement of claims."

Speaking in West Monroe, Allen said that such reduced rates could not be justified if companies expected to pay claims fairly and adequately, and he questioned acts of the state insurance commissioner in allowing the deviations.

Also discussed at the meeting was local and area participation in a national advertising campaign to be sponsored by the National Association of Insurance Agents.

Chamber Mails Questionnaires

These questionnaires are being sent to the approximate 350 man membership for the purpose of determining what the members hope to see accomplished by the Chamber this year.

The questionnaire contains a place for suggested projects and a place for each man to put his preference as to what committee he wants to work on, Smith said.

WALL STREET VIEWS

Dow Jones Index May Set Record

NEW YORK (AP)—The popular stock market barometer, the Dow Jones industrial average, appears headed for 660 and perhaps toward its all-time high, some Wall Streeters said Friday.

The pattern indicates an attack on the June, 1960 highs in the 660 area, says Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co.

"Technically," he explains, "the progress to date has established a step-like upward trend and this type of formation always is suggestive of further progress."

A. M. Kidder & Co. believes the average is churning toward a test of the 1961 intra-day high of 657.20 posted Feb. 3.

"In order to decisively penetrate that level and the slightly higher peak established last June, this index should sell up to at least 662," the brokerage firm says.

"While it may experience some temporary difficulty in attaining this objective, we believe that sooner or later there will be a broad advance into new high ground based on something more constructive than the threat of war, namely a reasonably early turn for the better in general business."

The booming stock market of 1961 demonstrates what a tremendous factor psychology plays in the movement of security prices, comments Eldon A. Grimm of Walston & Co.

He explains it this way: "Sure, we have a recession in general business, but the market is in a real happy frame of mind. Hence, the buoyancy in prices.

Robbery Slayer Has No Regrets

LAKE CHARLES, La. (UPI) — A 19-year-old Negro showing no fear or remorse, said Friday he killed a woman bank employe and wounded two others because he wanted "to get me some money and hide in a big town."

The young bank robber, who has a juvenile crime record, robbed a branch of the Gulf National Bank of $14,091 Thursday night. He took three bank employes as hostages, forcing them to drive him to a lonely road.

Wilburt Rideau then ordered them from the car and shot them as they fled. Mrs. Julia Ferguson, 50, moved as she lay on the ground. He pulled a knife and stabbed her repeatedly. She died enroute to a hospital.

Mrs. Dora McCain, 30, branch manager, and Jay Hickman, 50, were in fair condition with bullet wounds Friday. Mrs. McCain said she "played dead" after Rideau shot her in the neck. Hickman, shot in the shoulder, stumbled into a ditch.

The young Negro was arrested three hours after the robbery at a roadblock. He was driving Mrs. McCain's car and still had the money with him. Officers found a knife near the shooting and stabbing scene believed to be the one he used to fatally stab the woman. They were still searching for the .22 caliber pistol he used in the robbery.

Sheriff Henry Reid said Rideau was charged Friday with bank robbery, murder and kidnaping. Reid said the youth "shows no remorse and doesn't appear to be frightened."

Rules Chairman Loosens Gates On Legislation

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Chairman Howard W. Smith, whose Rules Committee was enlarged because of liberal complaints that it moved too slowly, continued his new burst of activity Friday and came up with more bad news for Speaker Sam Rayburn.

This time it was a pair of resolutions to ban "back door" government spending and to let Congress ride herd on the central intelligence agency.

The veteran Virginian already had discovered, and ordered for hearings next week, long-pending resolutions to open the house and its committees to radio and TV broadcasts and to order a congressional study of a national policy on fuels.

Rayburn, who engineered the fight to break Smith's control of the rules group, is dead set against the TV proposal and is reported not too keen for the fuel policy measure.

Friday, Smith ferreted out of the files dust-laden proposals to halt spending without specific congressional appropriations and to set up a joint House-Senate committee to keep watch on the Central Intelligence Agency.

He set them also for hearing next week, despite the fact Rayburn is known to oppose both of them.

SOME STREETS in the Southwest part of Houston were under water Friday as rains continued in the area. The Weather Bureau recorded almost 3 inches of rain since noon Thursday, but some areas had more. (AP Wirephoto)

Performance At Rayville Is Praised

ALEXANDRIA (Special) —Rayville can match any town of similar size in the state in services and functions, and when it comes to municipal performances the outsider is apt to be a little awed.

This is the conclusion of the Louisiana Municipal Review in a major story devoted to Rayville in the magazine's latest issue.

LANDS OFFICIALS

The article praises the town's elected officials, commenting that "much of the town's success can be attributed to active, energetic Mayor Loy Cloninger and Council members D. E. Barr, Aubrey Soloman, James R. Craig, Joe Kalil and Mrs. Mattie B. Haley."

The story singles out Rayville's lighting program, the fire and police departments, the top - rated power plant and the day-to-day efficiency of administrative offices for special praise and add:

"There are many more aspects to this charming town. Citizen spirit runs high here, and Rayville is enjoying an era of growth and progress."

Working together, the story says, the citizens and city officials have "earned an enviable reputation for Rayville and have kept the municipality on a sound, business like footing."

The article cites a bond issue which provided for a new fire station and the town's summer recreation program as two outstanding progressive steps of recent times in Rayville.

Governors Hail Federal Aid Hike

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Governors of many states voiced strong approval Friday of President Kennedy's call for stepped - up spending of federal aid funds to put jobless men back to work.

Some states already were pressing action to get the program going in their areas, or were studying plans to do so.

All down the line the response in the states was favorable. Several governors said they began steps even prior to the President's announcement of accelerated government spending.

"We started speeding up before Kennedy asked us," said Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington.

"I put out a directive to the highway department three weeks ago ordering such a program. We have already finished the scheduling of early contract-letting on highway projects."

Kennedy on Wednesday urged the nation's governors to act promptly to use more than a billion dollars in federal aid funds to bolster the economy.

Included was $734 million in funds for federal highway construction and $350 million he released for construction of schools and other facilities in state areas crowded by influxes of federal workers.

"I heartily endorse your program to invigorate the national economy," Virginia Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. wired the President. "As far as plans and means are available, and subject to my direction, I assure you of my cooperation."

The Virginia State Highway Commission said that under the stepped - up program it could hasten the spending of about $7 million in federal road aid.

Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said the state has $100 million worth of construction that could be let for immediate contracts.

In Wisconsin, Gov. Gaylord A. Nelson early this month directed the State Highway Commission to review its program with an eye to the prospect that federal funds would be available ahead of schedule.

California Gov. Edmund G. Brown said his state is stepping up highway projects from $28 million monthly to $35-40 million monthly, and quickening spending of $30 million in state school-building funds, with priority given projects in hard-hit areas.

In North Carolina, Gov. Terry Sanford said the state already was ahead on its interstate highway program — and has spent about all funds available.

Washington Gov. Albert D. Rosellini said $5.25 million will be used to speed purchase of rights-of-way for the Seattle-Tacoma Freeway, and that he was asking the legislature for a $2-million appropriation to distribute some $25 million worth of federal surplus foods.

"We in Washington State are making vigorous efforts to bolster a sagging economy and improve prospects for the unemployed," he said.

Indiana Gov. Matthew E. Welsh announced plans last week to speed up about $45 million in highway projects, using about $36 million in federal aid, all to be under contract by July 1.

Missouri Gov. John M. Dalton said quick legislative approval of his proposal to boost the state gasoline tax from 3 to 5 cents to speed highway construction would be in line with Kennedy's request.

In Maine, Gov. John H. Reed urged the legislature to act immediately on his $8-million capital construction budget, to assure an early start on dozens of important building projects.

Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner Jr. has said the state will move immediately to meet growing unemployment with stepped-up interstate highway construction that will provide 1,000 jobs.

The work will be in a section of southern Illinois hit by a decline in coal mine employment.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's office noted that he already had ordered speeded-up highway construction in several state areas, and would review the program further to see if additional money could be put to work.

In New Jersey, Gov. Robert B. Meyner said "we are going as fast as we can in the highway department" and will spend all federal aid available in the present fiscal year.

In Pennsylvania, Gov. David L. Lawrence's office said the legislature had been asked to set up a state committee to expedite use of federal funds.

The Pennsylvania Highway Department presently is in process of advertising $131 million in contracts.

Religion Gets Emphasis During Coming Week

Emphasis on religion will be given to a program at Northeast Louisiana State College on February 21-23 with daily assemblies at 11 a.m. in Brown Auditorium and seminars in all dormitories from 6 to 7 p.m.

The traditional Religious Emphasis Week is being sponsored this year by the campus religious committee.

Meetings will emphasiz "Christ, Campus and Communism," the theme which the great speaker, Dr. William Avery Benfield Jr., will develop at the morning assemblies.

REPRESENTATIVES

A reception on February 21 from 4 to 6 p.m. in the Student Center is planned especially for college students and persons interested in the religious program, the committee said. Women from the various religious centers will serve at the social affair.

Dr. Benfield comes from the First Presbyterian Church, Shreveport, where he has been pastor since 1958. He also has served as minister of the Beechmont Presbyterian Church, senior minister, Highland Presbyterian Church, Louisville, Ky., and he has been a professor of Hebrew and Old Testament, vice president and professor of practical theology, and instructor in homiletics during his association with the Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary.

Victim Of Fire Gains 12th Child

He also saved the other 11 kids.

His wife woke him and he rushed her to a hospital where she gave birth to a son at 2 a.m. The Endres now have six sons and six daughters.

Endres went home to bed, but he didn't sleep long. At about 5 a.m. he awoke and found the house on fire.

He finally found the missing offspring in his own bed. The child had slipped in while he was asleep and had gone unnoticed.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

The market was quiet, with price changes small until late in the session when commission house selling increased. The market was unsettled by prospects that an announcement of the government loan for the 1961 cotton crop may be made over the weekend.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — Demand for butcher hogs was fairly active again Friday and prices were steady to 25 cents higher with most of the advance on weights over 240 lbs.

The top held at $19 for the third consecutive day and for the fourth day of the week. Almost 150 head of No. 1 and 2 grades weighing 195-215 lbs brought $18.90-19 and the mixed 1-3 and 2-3 grades in the 190-240 lb range $18.25-18.75. Heavier weights sold down to $17.50, sows at $15.50-17.50.

Offerings for the week of 30,000 head were unchanged from the previous week.

The cattle market was virtually nominal. No sales of slaughter steers, heifers or vealers were reported. A few utility and commercial bulls moved at $17.50-21.

The scant supply of slaughter lambs was steady. Choice kinds were $17.50-18, good and choice $16-17.50.

Stocks Take Mild Setback For Session

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market failed to extend its three-day rally Friday, backing down mildly in the face of heavy overhead resistance and depressing business news. Activity dropped to 4,640,000 shares from 5,070,000 on Thursday.

The signal for the downturn was given in the previous session when the much-watched Dow-Jones industrial average faded as it touched the 656 level — the recovery level reached last June and a stiff roadblock to further upside progress.

Brokers said that all the market needed was a little good business news to effect a penetration but this was not forthcoming. Instead, traders learned that auto production this week is hovering at its lowest level since 1952, industrial production in January declined for the sixth consecutive month, personal income fell to the lowest level since last June and manufacturers' new orders for durable goods sagged 2 per cent in January from the previous month.

Despite all the bad news, the overall performance was better than expected. The Dow-Jones industrial average lost only 0.19 to 651.67 but Standard & Poor's index of 500 stocks showed a slightly steeper decline. The rail average rose 0.03 to 144.32 and the utilities firmed 0.19 to 107.56.

The margin of advances over declines narrowed to 562 against 497 while new highs outnumbered new lows by 96 to 2. The total number of issues traded also dipped to 1,275.

Interstate Department Stores, which has a relatively small number of shares outstanding, gained a hefty 6¼. Armour sagged 2½ following news that first quarter earnings would slip below last year's.

On the American Exchange, stocks were irregularly higher with electronics mostly lower. Fairchild Camera dropped 3¼, Giannini lost 1¾, Gulton 2⅛ and Cenco 3¼. Barnes Engineering rose 2¾, Mesabi Iron 2½ and Robinson Technical 2⅛.

Stock sales for the session totaled 1,930,000 shares against 2 million shares Thursday.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — President Kennedy's partial new farm program hit the grain futures market a bearish blow Friday and prices of all contracts except old crop soybeans slumped.

The feed grains and new crop soybeans, which the administration proposals concern just now, were under steady pressure all day although corn showed signs of a rally at one time.

New crop corn and soybeans lost more than two cents a bushel. Brokers said the recommendations sent to Congress Thursday appeared to be more in the direction of price fixing than of freeing the trade.

At the close, soybeans were 1 cent a bushel higher on the old crop months to 2¾ lower on the new, March $2.74½-¾; corn 1⅝-2⅞ lower, March $1.13⅝; wheat ⅞-1½ lower, March $2.10½; oats 1⅛-1⅞ lower, March 63¾-64; rye 1⅝-1¾ lower, March $1.19.

SKELETON NOW

Selman Control Tower Progresses

Only the skeleton of Monroe's new $155,000 airport control tower has been completed, but it already looks better than the old tower.

Steel framework and part of the flooring stands silhouetted against the sky at Selman Field.

"Despite the bad weather, the workmen are ahead of schedule," commented Finance and Utilities Commissioner H. W. McSherry.

"It's going to be quite an addition to the field," the commissioner said. The tower will be used to direct arriving and departing aircraft.

Located only a few feet away from the present tower, and downfield from the main airport building, the tower will have five floors plus the cab.

Walls will be brick and masonry — in stark contrast to the tinker - toy - like present tower, due to be torn down once the present structure is complete.

Monroe is paying half the cost, while the federal government is footing the rest of the bill.

"After it is finished, the government will equip it and take over," McSherry said.

Insurance Agent Discusses Rates At Meeting Here

A district meeting of fire and casualty agents from throughout northeast Louisiana was held Thursday night. Allen Smith, secretary and general counsel for the Louisiana Association of Independent Insurance Agents, assailed cut rate premium practices which "prevent adequate settlement of claims."

Speaking in West Monroe, Allen said that such reduced rates could not be justified if companies expected to pay claims fairly and adequately, and he questioned acts of the state insurance commissioner in allowing the deviations.

Also discussed at the meeting was local and area participation in a national advertising campaign to be sponsored by the National Association of Insurance Agents.

Driver of the truck in which they were riding was I. L. Sololman, 41, also of Rt. 3, West Monroe.

Chamber Mails Questionnaires

These questionnaires are being sent to the approximate 350 man membership for the purpose of determining what the members hope to see accomplished by the Chamber this year.

The questionnaire contains a place for suggested projects and a place for each man to put his preference as to what committee he wants to work on, Smith said.

WALL STREET VIEWS

Dow Jones Index May Set Record

NEW YORK (AP)—The popular stock market barometer, the Dow Jones industrial average, appears headed for 660 and perhaps toward its all-time high, some Wall Streeters said Friday.

The market chalked up a solid gain this week with the average closing at 651.67, up 12.00 for the week.

The pattern indicates an attack on the June, 1960 highs in the 660 area, says Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co.

And he argues that any penetration above that level means an attempt against the historic high of 685.47 in the not too distant future.

"Technically," he explains, "the progress to date has established a step-like upward trend and this type of formation always is suggestive of further progress."

A. M. Kidder & Co. believes the average is churning toward a test of the 1961 intra-day high of 657.20 posted Feb. 3.

"In order to decisively penetrate that level and the slightly higher peak established last June, this index should sell up to at least 662," the brokerage firm says.

"While it may experience some temporary difficulty in attaining this objective, we believe that sooner or later there will be a broad advance into new high ground based on something more constructive than the threat of war, namely a reasonably early turn for the better in general business."

The booming stock market of 1961 demonstrates what a tremendous factor psychology plays in the movement of security prices, comments Eldon A. Grimm of Walston & Co.

PENTAGON SAYS

Soldier Of Future To Be Human Tank

WASHINGTON (AP)—The soldier of the distant future will be a human tank equipped with power steering and power brakes, the Pentagon said Friday.

Called the "servo-soldier," he will wear a special suit which will have its own engine enabling him to run faster, stop quicker and lift bigger loads than ordinary mortals. What's more, he will be immune to germ warfare, poison gas and the heat and radiation from nuclear blasts.

"The development of this mechanism is believed feasible," the Defense Department said in listing inventions wanted by the National Inventors Council, which is the official link between civilian inventors and the government. Other wanted inventions included:

The Pentagon report conceded that a few bugs must be ironed out before the servo-soldier becomes a reality. Ways must be found to give his mechanical suit plenty of agility, to link the suit's mechanism with the soldier's movements and to develop a lightweight, quiet, power source with an output of four horsepower.

A servo-soldier, so called because he would be aided by a servo-motor, or auxiliary power plant, would wear a mechanical type suit "with a self-contained power source, automatically controlled and guided by the natural responses and senses of the wearer."

The report said that, "As he moves his hands, arms, legs and feet, the power mechanism would be automatically activated to multiply his strength in much the same manner as vehicle power brakes, and power steering mechanism respond to foot pedal and steering wheel movements."

In combat, the report said, "the mechanism would be designed to convert each soldier into a fast-moving and highly mobile one-man tank."

If you think you have an invention which would contribute toward the development of servo-soldiers ,outline your idea for the Inventors Council, Department of Commerce, Washington, 25, D. C.

ALMANAC

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mars and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1678, Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress was published for the first time.

In 1930, astronomer Clyde Tombaugh discovered the planet Pluto.

In 1939, ceremonies in San Francisco marked the opening of the Golden Gate Exposition.

In 1954, Sen. Joseph McCarthy said that Brigadier General Ralph Zwicker, a World War II hero, was "not fit to wear that uniform" because he refused to reveal the identity of Army officers involved in the promotion and honorable discharge of an alleged subversive.

House Ends Hearings On Jobless Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prospects of House action in about a week on the first of President Kennedy's economic measures opened up as the Ways and Means Committee ended hearings Friday on an emergency unemployment compensation bill.

The measure would provide up to 13 weeks additional benefits for long-term unemployed who have used up their rights under existing law.

The committee was reliably reported to have worked out a change in the financing method which would make the measure more acceptable to business. Backers said the amended bill would pick up enough Republican support to have clear sailing both in the committee and the House.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., set a closed-door session of the committee for Tuesday to work on the final draft of the bill.

"We'll move as fast as we can," he said.

If no hitches develop, the bill could be ready for House action late in the week or the beginning of the following one.

Kennedy and Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, terming unemployment a major problem, have called for all possible speed.

The bill, it was understood, will be changed to provide for a temporary increase in the rate of the payroll tax, paid by employers, which finances the unemployment insurance program.

The administration proposed to retain the present 3.1 per cent rate—which is reduced for individual businesses according to their records for stable employment—but to extend the base on which it is levied.

At present the annual base is a maximum of $3,000 a worker. The administration bill would make it $4,800—and this would be a permanent change.

ROUND AND ROUND

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) —School officials are studying plans for a school that looks round but isn't. The buildings would have many-sides, 400 in fact, each seven feet long, to avoid having to install curved glass.

CANINE STYLE SHOW

Pampered Pooches Wear Mink Coats

NEW YORK (AP) — Well-dressed dogs wear $110 mink coats, $15 pajamas and the high fashions of Fifth Avenue.

Pooches of all persuasions will want the latest fashion tips and here they are:

From mutt to mastiff the well-tailored aren't wearing purple any more. Purple was the Christmas season color. Now the style is hot pinks and other bright colors.

Then there are peppermint-striped pajamas, at $15, for the afterbone siesta; a gold-threaded cocktail coat, for $65, presumably for those in dogdom's cocktail set; and a $110 sapihire mink coat, obviously for high society scratchers.

Naturally there are accessories — such as a collar with an orchid corsage, both charming and chewy.

"But the big thing is shoes," said Levine. "I can't say much about them now. But they're coming."

First thing you know, people will be wishing they were leading dogs' lives.

U.S. May Step Up Contracts To Small Firms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., said Friday the Pentagon has assured him it will place additional emphasis on funneling a greater share of defense contracts to small businesses.

Sparkman, chairman of the Senate Small Business Committee, said he received the assurances in a letter from Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

The McNamara letter, released by Sparkman, said:

"President Kennedy attaches considerable importance to this matter, and has asked me to place additional emphasis on assuring participation by small business in defense procurement programs.

McNamara said the department's small business policies "appear generally satisfactory, but it is my view that we can do a better job of implementing them.'

He promised new steps would be taken to find greater opportunities for procurement set-asides for small firms, and large prime contractors will be urged to increase subcontracting opportunities for small companies.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — It's not the Joneses you keep up with in San Antonio — it's the Martinezes.

Expert Warns No China-Soviet Split Is Likely

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A university expert on Communist ideology warned senators Friday not to count on any major split between the Soviet Union and Red China" in the foreseeable future."

Prof. Zbigniew Brzezinski of Columbia University told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that "the thing that will drive them together and keep them together is their overriding hostility toward the rest of the world."

Brzezinski said the two regimes might differ on various policies but "we should not count so heavily on a Sino-Soviet split. . . I don't think it is likely to occur in the foreseeable future."

The witness, now an associate professor at Columbia's Russian Institute, testified at a committee hearing on "Ideology and Foreign Affairs," based on a report prepared as part of its long-range study of foreign policy. Brzezinski worked on the report when he was at the Harvard University Center for International Affairs.

COULD AID INCOME

Tallulah Tourist Values Are Cited

AEXANDRIA (Special) —Tallulah is newly awakened to its vast potential, particularly where natural attractions are concerned and what they could do for the town in the terms of tourist income.

This is the conclusion of the Louisiana Municipal Review in a major story devoted to the Madison Parish seat in the magazine's latest issue.

Under a heading which observes that "An enchanting history, great hunting and fishing, beautiful countryside and a hustling business outlook made this corner of Louisiana something to write home about", the article says:

"Such characters as Theodore Roosevelt and U.S. Grant have had nice comments to make about Tallulah at one time or another, but it wasn't until recent years that Louisianans and tourists in general began to understand that this town — or "village" as it bills itself — constitutes an intriguing and colorful junction in what was already accepted as a beautiful part of the state anyway."

Tallulah's past and its present is "woven together in a colorful pattern of romance and modern day appeal, and the people are talking up their town to let everyone know what awaits them in this place of lively living at the junction of U.S. Highway 80 and 65," the story says. It adds that "Here in the beautiful Delta country of lovely Madison Parish there is something for everyone — the vacationer, the tourist passing through and the person looking for a nice town in which to settle down and live."

The story cites the progressive street, sewerage, police and safety programs in Tallulah and comments:

"Not to be forgotten — and there is little possibility it will be be — is the work of the city administration under Mayor W. P. Sevier and Aldermen R. E. Brown, R. N. Graves and J. C. Stocks."

Verdict Against General Motors Upheld By Court

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)— The Minnesota Supreme Court Friday upheld a $7,250 verdict against General Motors Corp. in a novel "runaway car" case.

Clifton Grant, 39, Minneapolis, brought suit after his 3-day-old General Motors car halted for a traffic light, suddenly accelerated and shot forward at speeds up to 90 miles an hour. That was in May 1957.

Grant claimed he tried to brake, shift and turn off the ignition during the wild ride. He said he went through eight red lights and two stop signs before the car crunched to a halt.

He had sued for $30,000, naming both GM and Malkerson Sales of Minneapolis. The District Court verdict named only GM.

GM had contended that if Grant was unable to produce proof of a defect in the car before it left the factory the loss must lie where it falls.

"It is our opinion that plaintiff was entitled to have the jury pass on the issue of negligence," the Supreme Court said.

U.S. To Provide Schools Fryers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., announced Friday that the Agriculture Department will purchase 5,500,000 cutup fryers for distribution under the school lunch program.

Russell said he was informed that Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman signed the purchase order which will involve a cost of approximately $2,000,000.

PENTAGON SAYS

Soldier Of Future To Be Human Tank

WASHINGTON (AP)—The soldier of the distant future will be a human tank equipped with power steering and power brakes, the Pentagon said Friday.

Called the "servo-soldier," he will wear a special suit which will have its own engine enabling him to run faster, stop quicker and lift bigger loads than ordinary mortals. What's more, he will be immune to germ warfare, poison gas and the heat and radiation from nuclear blasts.

"The development of this mechanism is believed feasible," the Defense Department said in listing inventions wanted by the National Inventors Council, which is the official link between civilian inventors and the government. Other wanted inventions included:

—A platform equipped with search radar that can hover at altitudes of 30,000 to 100,000 feet.

The Pentagon report conceded that a few bugs must be ironed out before the servo-soldier becomes a reality. Ways must be found to give his mechanical suit plenty of agility, to link the suit's mechanism with the soldier's movements and to develop a lightweight, quiet, power source with an output of four horsepower.

A servo-soldier, so called because he would be aided by a servo-motor, or auxiliary power plant, would wear a mechanical type suit "with a self-contained power source, automatically controlled and guided by the natural responses and senses of the wearer."

The report said that, "As he moves his hands, arms, legs and feet, the power mechanism would be automatically activated to multiply his strength in much the same manner as vehicle power brakes, and power steering mechanism respond to foot pedal and steering wheel movements."

In combat, the report said, "the mechanism would be designed to convert each soldier into a fast-moving and highly mobile one-man tank."

If you think you have an invention which would contribute toward the development of servo-soldiers ,outline your idea for the Inventors Council, Department of Commerce, Washington, 25, D. C.

ALMANAC

Today is Saturday, Feb. 18, the 49th day of the year with 316 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mars and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1678, Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress was published for the first time.

In 1930, astronomer Clyde Tombaugh discovered the planet Pluto.

In 1954, Sen. Joseph McCarthy said that Brigadier General Ralph Zwicker, a World War II hero, was "not fit to wear that uniform" because he refused to reveal the identity of Army officers involved in the promotion and honorable discharge of an alleged subversive.

Thought for today: English writer Charles Lamb said: "Credulity is the man's weakness, but the child's strength."

Expert Warns No China-Soviet Split Is Likely

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A university expert on Communist ideology warned senators Friday not to count on any major split between the Soviet Union and Red China" in the foreseeable future."

Prof. Zbigniew Brzezinski of Columbia University told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that "the thing that will drive them together and keep them together is their overriding hostility toward the rest of the world."

Brzezinski said the two regimes might differ on various policies but "we should not count so heavily on a Sino-Soviet split. . . I don't think it is likely to occur in the foreseeable future."

The witness, now an associate professor at Columbia's Russian Institute, testified at a committee hearing on "Ideology and Foreign Affairs," based on a report prepared as part of its long-range study of foreign policy. Brzezinski worked on the report when he was at the Harvard University Center for International Affairs.

House Ends Hearings On Jobless Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prospects of House action in about a week on the first of President Kennedy's economic measures opened up as the Ways and Means Committee ended hearings Friday on an emergency unemployment compensation bill.

The measure would provide up to 13 weeks additional benefits for long-term unemployed who have used up their rights under existing law.

The committee was reliably reported to have worked out a change in the financing method which would make the measure more acceptable to business. Backers said the amended bill would pick up enough Republican support to have clear sailing both in the committee and the House.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., set a closed-door session of the committee for Tuesday to work on the final draft of the bill.

"We'll move as fast as we can," he said.

If no hitches develop, the bill could be ready for House action late in the week or the beginning of the following one.

Kennedy and Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, terming unemployment a major problem, have called for all possible speed.

The bill, it was understood, will be changed to provide for a temporary increase in the rate of the payroll tax, paid by employers, which finances the unemployment insurance program.

The administration proposed to retain the present 3.1 per cent rate—which is reduced for individual businesses according to their records for stable employment—but to extend the base on which it is levied.

At present the annual base is a maximum of $3,000 a worker. The administration bill would make it $4,800—and this would be a permanent change.

ROUND AND ROUND

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) —School officials are studying plans for a school that looks round but isn't. The buildings would have many-sides, 400 in fact, each seven feet long, to avoid having to install curved glass.

CANINE STYLE SHOW

Pampered Pooches Wear Mink Coats

NEW YORK (AP) — Well-dressed dogs wear $110 mink coats, $15 pajamas and the high fashions of Fifth Avenue.

Ermine, silk — nothing is too good for the pampered pooch. At least, not for the master or mistress who can afford it.

Evidently plenty of them can, considering the prices they pay.

The well-known Fifth Avenue firm of B. Altman & Co. is now showing its spring fashions for canine customers, with couturier Louis Levine in charge.

Pooches of all persuasions will want the latest fashion tips and here they are:

From mutt to mastiff the well-tailored aren't wearing purple any more. Purple was the Christmas season color. Now the style is hot pinks and other bright colors.

"Dogs' clothing follows their mistresses'," said Levine.

These come in black, red or green, at about $15 per purp, depending on size.

Then there are peppermint-striped pajamas, at $15, for the afterbone siesta; a gold-threaded cocktail coat, for $65, presumably for those in dogdom's cocktail set; and a $110 sapihire mink coat, obviously for high society scratchers.

Naturally there are accessories — such as a collar with an orchid corsage, both charming and chewy.

"But the big thing is shoes," said Levine. "I can't say much about them now. But they're coming."

First thing you know, people will be wishing they were leading dogs' lives.

U.S. May Step Up Contracts To Small Firms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., said Friday the Pentagon has assured him it will place additional emphasis on funneling a greater share of defense contracts to small businesses.

Sparkman, chairman of the Senate Small Business Committee, said he received the assurances in a letter from Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

The McNamara letter, released by Sparkman, said:

"President Kennedy attaches considerable importance to this matter, and has asked me to place additional emphasis on assuring participation by small business in defense procurement programs.

McNamara said the department's small business policies "appear generally satisfactory, but it is my view that we can do a better job of implementing them.'

He promised new steps would be taken to find greater opportunities for procurement set-asides for small firms, and large prime contractors will be urged to increase subcontracting opportunities for small companies.

MANY MARTINEZES

Tallulah Tourist Values Are Cited

AEXANDRIA (Special) —Tallulah is newly awakened to its vast potential, particularly where natural attractions are concerned and what they could do for the town in the terms of tourist income.

This is the conclusion of the Louisiana Municipal Review in a major story devoted to the Madison Parish seat in the magazine's latest issue.

Under a heading which observes that "An enchanting history, great hunting and fishing, beautiful countryside and a hustling business outlook made this corner of Louisiana something to write home about", the article says:

"Such characters as Theodore Roosevelt and U.S. Grant have had nice comments to make about Tallulah at one time or another, but it wasn't until recent years that Louisianans and tourists in general began to understand that this town — or "village" as it bills itself — constitutes an intriguing and colorful junction in what was already accepted as a beautiful part of the state anyway."

Tallulah's past and its present is "woven together in a colorful pattern of romance and modern day appeal, and the people are talking up their town to let everyone know what awaits them in this place of lively living at the junction of U.S. Highway 80 and 65," the story says. It adds that "Here in the beautiful Delta country of lovely Madison Parish there is something for everyone — the vacationer, the tourist passing through and the person looking for a nice town in which to settle down and live."

The story cites the progressive street, sewerage, police and safety programs in Tallulah and comments:

"Not to be forgotten — and there is little possibility it will be be — is the work of the city administration under Mayor W. P. Sevier and Aldermen R. E. Brown, R. N. Graves and J. C. Stocks."

Verdict Against General Motors Upheld By Court

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)— The Minnesota Supreme Court Friday upheld a $7,250 verdict against General Motors Corp. in a novel "runaway car" case.

Clifton Grant, 39, Minneapolis, brought suit after his 3-day-old General Motors car halted for a traffic light, suddenly accelerated and shot forward at speeds up to 90 miles an hour. That was in May 1957.

Grant claimed he tried to brake, shift and turn off the ignition during the wild ride. He said he went through eight red lights and two stop signs before the car crunched to a halt.

He had sued for $30,000, naming both GM and Malkerson Sales of Minneapolis. The District Court verdict named only GM.

GM had contended that if Grant was unable to produce proof of a defect in the car before it left the factory the loss must lie where it falls.

U.S. To Provide Schools Fryers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., announced Friday that the Agriculture Department will purchase 5,500,000 cutup fryers for distribution under the school lunch program.

Russell said he was informed that Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman signed the purchase order which will involve a cost of approximately $2,000,000.
